

Waive Right To Hear Witnesses On Own Behalf

CHARLOTTETOWN, Que., Dec. 15.—(By the Canadian Press)—Unexpectedly, the defence this afternoon waived the right to hear witnesses on its behalf in the murder trial of Albert St. Pierre, of Hereford, Que., in connection with the death by shooting of Rene Malloy, Norton Mills, Vermont.

The case for the crown was concluded by testimony of Mrs. David Deveau of Norton Mills, sister of Malloy, after which the defence announced it would not call any witnesses. Adjournment was then taken until tomorrow morning when crown and defence will present their arguments. These addresses, with the charge to the jury by Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault, will probably consume a full session or more and the jury is not expected to retire for its deliberations until Thursday afternoon.

Malloy was killed on the night of November 11, 1930, at Hereford shortly after he entered the farm of Vesina and Adalard Dube on an alleged liquor-hunting expedition. The Dube brothers will be tried later on a murder charge. Accompanying Malloy on the night he was fatally wounded were his brother, Phillip, who was slightly wounded, and Joseph Langlois, also of Norton Mills, who surrendered to the Quebecers and escaped unharmed.

Plane Strikes Gull Worries Lindbergh

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 15.—A hole, about two inches square, in the leading edge of the upper wing of Col. Charles Lindbergh's plane, aroused considerable curiosity among field attendants and spectators when Lindbergh arrived here from Miami recently. Then he unwrapped a paper parcel and showed them what had made the hole, the head of a large gull that the plane had struck in full flight.

Col. Lindbergh said he was flying toward Flagler's Beach from Miami and felt an unusual bump. Although he continued flying, making close to 150 miles an hour, he said that he kept wondering what had caused the bump and it made him uncomfortable not to be able to find out. Upon landing at Flagler's Beach he found part of a large gull imbedded in the leading edge of the wing. The head was inside the wing, such had been the force of the impact at the speeds bird and plane were moving.

THE CANADIAN NORTH LURES OPERATOR

(Canadian Press) HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 16.—The lure of Arctic wastes is in the blood of Stephen Dacey, Home after four years in the Hudson Straits region, he is eagerly looking forward to another period of service at a wireless direction station nesting in and among native igloos and thadging posts in one of Canada's northern outposts. The spell of the north remains unshaken by the softer winds of Nova Scotia, and Dacey is anxious to exchange city lights for the midnight sun, and Canadian beef for Arctic bear steak.

Surrounded by souvenirs of his Arctic sojourn, Dacey sketched his adventures since departing from Halifax as a member of a government expedition to erect navigation aids for steamers carrying Canada's grain from Port Churchill, Hud-

MISSING LETTER CONTEST

Here is a chance to win a valuable prize. In some of the advertisements appearing in the contest you will find a missing letter. These missing letters put together will form the name of some firm on the page on which the prize winning solution will be decided. Accuracy in forming the correct name will be the first consideration, but neatness, originality and speed in getting a solution to the contest editor will also count. Four valuable prizes this week. Get busy. Find the missing letters. Compose them in to the firm's name and mail your answer to the Contest Editor Charlottetown Guardian, Charlottetown, P. E. I. to reach him not later than Tuesday night.

Contestants must enclose with their solution a current week paid bill from one of the advertisers in The Missing Letter Competition.

Last week's Winners :

1. Mrs. Ira M. Brown, 244 Cumberland St.
2. Clarice Walsh, Vernon River.
3. Mrs. J. C. Cooke, 37 Upper Prince St.
4. Miss Katherine McKenna, 78 Edward St.

soo Bay, to Europe. He remained to witness the departure of the first two grain boats to use the newly completed terminals at the Hudson Bay port.

Outstanding in Dacey's experiences was the destruction by fire last Christmas of the wireless station at Nottingham Island, where he served three years. Other buildings and nearby supplies were saved.

Included in his trophies is a polar bear rug. The animal, only two years old, dressed 800 pou ds. This hereditary foe and prey of the Eskimo, was shot by native hunters, and Dacey told how the courageous maddened animal, with two mortal bullet wounds, swam 50 yards to shore to attack its enemies, only to fall dead a few feet from the smoking rifles.

Dacey, who has mastered the native tongue, said an Eskimo is a born hunter. "They point instinctively to north, south, east or west without thought of compass and are never at a loss to know where they are. They do not know what fear means."

The Eskimo's transportation problems are not involved. Dacey showed a photograph of what he called the first Hudson straight-eight—powerful husks to a sled and ready for the trail. The Eskimos are keen travellers and frequently make long shore trips, he said.

THE EVIDENCE HAD TO BE REMOVED

(Canadian Press) BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 16.—When four Cambridge men were arraigned in Middlesex District Court charged with larceny of a cheese, an air of mild amusement was noticeable. Those present apparently had heard jokes about cheese, and being of a humorous turn of mind, were willing to concede its value as a light topic. When the evidence was produced, however, the attitude changed to something a bit more substantial. Judge Arthur P. Stone was seen to turn his head, as if in deep meditation. Attorneys and the court attaches pushed back their chairs. The cheese was hastily removed, and the case continued after the four defendants pleaded not guilty. Although the pedigree of the cheese was not given, there was no doubt as to its age and maturity.

The evidence was impounded in a cell, where it continued to demonstrate the wisdom of the adage that iron bars do not a prison make.

TOP PRICE FOR P. E. ISLAND FOX PELT

(By Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16.—Silver foxes featured the first day's offerings of the semi-annual auction of the Canadian Fur Auctioneers Company, Limited, here yesterday. From a comprehensive selection of 17,500 skins, 2,837 were offered and 74 per cent were sold with an approximate auction value of $100,000. It was announced. The pelts came from Canadian ranches with Prince Edward Island well represented. It was remarked that the skins this season run larger in size and better in quality and color than they did last year.

The auction authorities stated an added attraction to United States buyers, by virtue of the sharp appreciation of the United States dollar to a premium of over 20 per cent was bringing purchasers from that country. All transactions are on a basis of Canadian funds.

The official announcement of the day's proceedings follows: "decline in dollar value compared to last January's special sale of 1-3 to 3/4 silvers is 13 per cent; selected all silver declined 33 per cent. All silvers 3/4 declined 17 per cent. blacks dropped 18 per cent, low grades, all classes, advanced four per cent."

Top prices for A 1-3 selected silver was $155, paid for a pelt of Prince Edward Island origin. Low grades brought an average of $22 with top grades averaging $85.50. Buyers from London, Lelapsic, Paris, Zurich and New York were in attendance.

Today 3,440 Silver foxes will be placed on sale.

HIS CHANCE

"You ought to have a thorough caning," snapped the irate old gentleman, "I wish I were your father." "Well, sir, you can be," said the youngster. "My mother's a widow."
