CAPE TRVERSE W.M.S.

The May meeting of the Cape Traverse United Church W. M. S. Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. James Bell Thursday, May 20th. The president, Mrs. Ralph MacOauil was in charge. Meeting opened with quiet music, followed by call to worship and hymn, "Jesus United by Thy Grace." The scripture reading, 1 Corinthians, chapter 13, was read by Mrs. E. W. Harper, followed by hymn, "O Holy City", read slowly in unison as a prayer. A chapter from the study book was then taken up. Extracts being given by Mrs. Guignon, Mrs. Harry Muttart, Mrs. Nathan Bell, Mrs. David Murphy and Miss Evelyn Bell. "Lord of the Lands" was then sung followed by Benediction in unison, which closed the worship service.

The business part of the meeting was then attended to. Minutes of the April meeting were read and roll called.

There was an attendance of fourteen. A message of appreciation and thanks to the W. M. S. members from Mrs. J. H. Lord for the beautiful plant sent her at Easter time was then read.

Mrs. John Haslam read two letters of gratitude, one from Mrs. Lowe, the other from Mrs. Allenby, York, England, for parcels of food sent by the Society.

The offering was then received and the Lord's Prayer in unison closed the meeting. A social hour followed, when delectable refreshments were served by the hostess.

Paints which will require no stirring before using are said to be in the development stage. Until they become an established part of regular life, however, the best advice anybody can give to the would-be painter around the home is "stir the paint thoroughly before applying."

BUYS AND WHYS BY Barbara Brent

A weekly shopping and information service for today's women

MONTRÉAL, May 27th — Be sure your feet are as dainty as they look in those fashion-wise new shoes of yours! Spray away perspiration problems with Sno-Mist, the new powder-spray deodorant! Spray it right inside your shoes, on your feet . . . or in your stockings . . . for there's never a worry about it being harmful to materials. And it's the quickest thing I know for head-to-toe freshness — banishes body odour instantly and clings like a fine face powder to give you all-day-long protection. "Careless!" I know keep Sno-Mist handy in their office desks — freshen up in the washroom at the end of a hectic day. And no bathroom cupboard is complete without it! So ask your druggist for SNO-MIST Powder Spray Deodorant — the one and only deodorant with an atomizer top!

I Wish You Could See my newly decorated kitchen . . . it's as bright and cheery as can be — and all thanks to those gorgeous "Decal" transfers! What fun they are to apply! I chose a gay tulip design for my white kitchen cupboards, bread box and salt-and-pepper containers. There are other "Decal" designs for kitchens, too . . . and special playroom, bathroom and nursery "Decals" for decorating walls, furniture and accessories. You should see them for yourself to really appreciate them! So why not take advantage of this free offer? . . . a sample "Decal" Transfer! If you'll just tell me which room you plan to decorate, I'll send you a suitable design. You'll find it so very easy to apply . . . and easy to remove, too, when you want to change your colour scheme. Write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montréal, P.Q. — for your free "DECAL" Transfer! And remember, you'll find "Decals" at paint, hardware, chain and department stores everywhere.

What a Bright Beginning to a May morning! . . . a big bowlful of "Cream of Wheat"! I make a morning meal of it . . . and find the hours before lunch run more smoothly and I get lots more work done when I'm fortified with a bowl of "Cream of Wheat" breakfast! Yes, it's true — this smooth, delicious breakfast food is a favourite in thousands of Canadian homes. It's good and good for you! 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat", you see, is fairly brimming with blood-building iron . . . it provides important Calcium and Phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. And it costs less than 1¢ a bowl. Remember this when you're buying "CREAM OF WHEAT", the breakfast food made in Canada from Canadian wheat.

Warmer Days mean wide-open windows and if you're a city-dweller, as I am, you'll find that curtains have an unhappy way of "absorbing" soot! Well, here's one good way to keep your curtains cleaner longer. Starch them with Linit, that fine starch that's a household "buyword" with so many homemakers I know. You'll find that Linit not only makes ironing easier, but that Linit-starched curtains look fresher — seem to shed the dirt that blows in your windows! That's why I URGE you to keep pesky dirt at arm's length the Linit way! It's wonderful for shirts, cottons, blouses, lingerie. Ask your grocer tomorrow for LINIT!

Mrs. Smith has gone shopping . . . Mrs. Jones is out to tea . . . Mrs. Brown is entertaining . . . but poor Mrs. Green — where's she? She seems to spend most of her time "elav" over her kitchen sink. If I were Mrs. Green — first thing I'd do would be to check up on those lazy, time-wasting drains of mine! Drains should always be free-running and here's such an easy way to keep them that way! . . . speed them up with regular, weekly use of Gillett's Drain Cleaner! Just two tablespoons a week in your drains keep them clear — make tubs and basins easy-to-clean — save time, trouble and plumber's bills! Ask your grocer tomorrow for GILLET'S DRAIN CLEANER, then, for best results, follow the instructions on the label!

If You're Worried About the Cost of Living — and what housewife isn't — here's a thought. Your family's favourite summer breakfast . . . Kellogg's cereal with milk and sugar, includes free foods which show the smallest percentage increase over pre-war prices. So when your children ask for delicious, nutritious PEP, the crisp whole wheat that's good to eat, you can feel happy about getting it for them, budget-wise as well as flavour-wise and nutrition-wise. And they'll be particularly happy because they get 2 free Transfers in every package. The Transfers are such fun to use. There are 64 exclusive designs to collect — dogs, butterflies, sports and aeroplanes.

No Need to Discard That Still-Good Slip because the seams "split" over and over again! If the material itself is still sound, you can get seasons of wear out of your slip by re-sewing the seams with Corticelli Nylon Sewing Thread! Durable — elastic . . . it provides the needed "give" in seams that make for longer wearing. It's an excellent idea to go over the seams of new slips with this wonderfully strong thread . . . it's a "stitch-in-time" that's well worth the effort! So, to assure yourself of a longer wardrobe with "stay-put" seams, ask for CORTICELLI Nylon Sewing Thread. You'll find it in a variety of colours so lovely that you'll want several of each!

It's a Gift! Yours for the asking is this free sample of Z.B.T. Baby Powder, a gift for baby . . . and how he'll love it! You see, Z.B.T. is the baby powder made with olive oil . . . made with scientific care for baby's tender skin. Completely moisture-resistant, Z.B.T. protects baby day and night — winter and summer — from the squirmy irritation of "acid moisture". Every time you change baby's diapers, be sure to smooth on moisture-resistant Z.B.T. to keep him comfy and happy day in, day out! Write to me today . . . Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montréal, P.Q. . . . for your free sample of Z.B.T. BABY POWDER!

POLSON'S COUGH SYRUP

CLYDE RIVER Y. P. U.

The regular weekly meeting of the Clyde River Y. P. U. met in the vestry of the church with a good attendance. The vice-president opened the meeting by singing hymn 464. "What a Friend we Have in Jesus." Ethel Gillespie led the devotional period with scripture reading taken from 107th Psalm, and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison. Responsive reading was taken from Romans 12th. A reading was given on the theme, "Thanksgiving," by Mrs. John Beer; also reading by Shirley MacKinnon and Joan Murray. Hymn 637, "Shall We Gather at the River", closed that part of the meeting.

The minutes were read and roll called. Collection taken amounted to $1.24. Billy MacKenzie was appointed leader for next meeting, with Arnold Beer and Louis MacLean to assist him. An interesting quiz on childhood recollections was conducted by Mrs. John Beer. Hymn 663, "Abide With Me", was sung, and meeting closed by repeating Missa Benediction.

No, Mr. Brown

By Gertrude Knevels

One of the first considerations to pierce April's bewilderment on that wretched morning — the morning when she had been discovered in Ten's arms — was the thought, "What will this mean to Bill Brown?" How many times since had she gone over the events, telling herself how she ought to have behaved. Paralyzed by surprise and annoyance she'd stood like a wooden Indian, letting Mrs. Van Eiden babble congratulations, voice her joy over the engagement of her dear, dear boy and her old friend's granddaughter. The poor lady was not only thrilled by her nephew's announcement, she was sadly overexcited. Evidently Ada, after listening at the door, had gone to fetch her mistress, and hurried her along the corridor. The unusual exertion plus the excitement of Ten's news had brought one of Mrs. Van Eiden's attacks. Her face was pale and her lips blue, her breath coming in gasps. Ten and the maid helped the invalid to her room while April phoned for Doctor Bishop.

CHAPTER XIV

When the excitement was over, when Alixe, summoned from the office, had slipped into her nurse's uniform and taken her place by her mother's bed, as she always did in times of illness, two guilty young people went down to the weeks — well, after my birthday, before —

"Are you telling me" April exploded, "that I've got to stay engaged to a worm like you for two weeks?"

"While I," said Ten with dignity "must remain affianced with a wildcat for an equal length of time." He was attacking the ragout, which was really too good to neglect. After a moment he laid down his fork and looked at April with a grin.

"What's the use of our grouching? There's one side of it, you know, that's not so bad."

"Yes?" His fiancée's sarcasm was intense.

"What I mean is," Ten persisted. "We've got a chance to put it over on anybody we want to put it over on."

"Who, for instance?" April was instantly suspicious.

"Well, the crowd. There's one girl who'll find out she can't keep me dangling on a string forever."

"Ten Parker!" April clutched her crystal tumbler, longed to hurl it at his head. "If I thought this thing — made your aunt ill and got me in this hole all for the sake of trying to make Gwen Harding jealous —"

"Oh, now, of course not. I didn't mean it that way." The lady's response was far from satisfactory.

"You did mean it that way," April insisted. "Ten, I'm going up to see Alixe this minute and tell her everything."

April's fiancée's mouth was full of cheese. "This is swell Roquefort," he murmured. "You ought to try it."

April left him to his cheese, but at the door she could not resist a last jibe. "Don't imagine Gwen's
