Surgical Operations as a Cure for Piles...

Are Painful, Expensive and Dangerous—The Only Certain Cure is Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Besides the acute misery produced by the itching and burning of piles, this horrible disease is the more dreaded because a surgical operation is commonly considered the only effective cure.

Fortunately this is a mistaken idea, for physicians have learned to use Dr. Chase's Ointment instead of applying the knife, not only because it is less expensive and less risky, but also because it is a more effective cure.

It frequently happens that after people have endured the torture of piles for years and submitted to operations, that they are finally cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, the only guaranteed cure.

Among persons operated on for piles and afterwards cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment we would mention Rev. J. A. Baldwin, of Arkona, Ont., H. H. Sutherland, Truro, N.S., and W. D. Thornton, Calgary, N.W.T.

Dr. Chase's Ointment truly works wonders for it positively cures the worst cases of blind, itching, bleeding and protruding piles and all itching skin diseases. Get a box at all dealers, or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

For bronchitis, croup, coughs, colds and asthma no remedy can be compared to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

WHEN WILL THE WAR END?

There is no question more frequently asked and few more difficult to answer than that placed at the head of this article. It was asked at the beginning of hostilities and many sanguine persons then predicted a short, sharp and decisive struggle. It was asked at the beginning of the new year, when our forces had been everywhere checked. Then it seemed that the struggle might go on for years, so great was found to be the difficulty of obtaining decisive victory over entrenched enemies armed with the best weapons. The question comes up again now that Kimberly and Ladysmith have been relieved, Cronje, with a portion of his army made prisoners, and the Boer forces practically driven out of Natal and Cape Colony.

So completely has the war situation changed for the better within a few weeks that some inconsiderate persons have rushed to the conclusion that the struggle is nearly over. We regret being unable to share in this hope. Evidently the British Government does think the war near its end while sending out an additional fifty odd thousand troops. We can all readily believe that Kruger and his fellow conspirators would never have begun the armed controversy had they foreseen the present situation. They would doubtless now be willing to make peace if they could do so by simply making the concessions asked of them last spring and summer. The leaders of the Free State are now doubtless sorry that they rashly joined in the invasion of the British colonies. But neither the Free State nor the Transvaal are yet prepared to make an unconditional surrender, and nothing less would be now accepted.

So the war must go on. It will be a hopeless war for the Boers, so far as all they hoped for at the beginning is concerned. They can no longer believe that they will conquer and annex Cape Colony, Natal and the adjacent British territories and protectorates, driving the British out of South Africa and creating a great Dutch confederation or Empire there. But there are other incentives to continue the fight. Our enemies are brave and stubborn. They may be expected to prolong the war, to make it as costly as possible to Britain, if only to weary the British people into granting more favorable terms than could now be obtained, and hoping for the possibility of Britain becoming embroiled in war with some one of the great powers.

Assuming then that Kruger and his confederates will make the most stubborn and prolonged defence of which they are capable, we must remember that their powers of defence are yet but little impaired. Notwithstanding the surrender of Cronje they have a very formidable fighting force remaining, with abundant arms and ammunition. The Transvaal country presents many strong defensible positions, especially against an approach from the South. Pretoria holds a naturally strong position and has been so fortified that the enemy thinks it impregnable. It might take three months for the British invading force to reach Pretoria and as much longer to reduce the fortifications there, though we all hope it will not take so long. Should further reverses be met with, and reverses are always possible in war, the six months might be extended to a year or longer.

Sunday School Convention.

An interesting district Sunday School Convention was held in the Methodist church at Margate on the afternoon and evening of the 5th inst.

A good audience was in attendance even at the afternoon session, a number coming from a long distance.

The territory of the district includes Malpeque and North Bedeque and all the intervening country.

Among the clergymen present were Revs. J. M. Fisher of Princetown, W. A. Thompson of Margate, and F. A. Wightman of Bedeque.

Of the Provincial Association officers there were present Mr. David Schurman, Charlottetown, and Mr. Thomas Moyses, Bedeque.

In the absence of the President, Mr. McNutt, of Malpeque, Mr. Thos. Moyses took the chair and opened the first session by a short devotional service.

Then followed routine work, appointing committees, receiving reports, etc.

The Provincial report was then taken up by Mr. Schurman, from which interesting comments were made.

The nominating committee reported and recommended the following officers to be appointed for the ensuing year:—

President—H. R. Baker, Margate. First Vice-President—George B. McNutt, Darnley.

Second Vice-President—David Arbing, Freetown. Treasurer—Mrs. Thomas R. Tuplin, Margate. Secretary—Mrs. Gordon Tuplin, Kensington. Cor. Secretary—Miss Fairlie M. Durant, Margate.

The report was unanimously adopted. The programme was then resumed and the question of the home department was discussed, resulting in the appointment of Rev. W. A. Thompson as home department superintendent for the district.

Other interesting features of the program were teachers' Bible class and methods of teaching.

In the evening the church was well-filled and an efficient choir composed of the leading talent from several denominations rendered some choice music.

The following is a resume of the evening session. Devotion service led by Rev. Mr. Fisher.

Reading of minutes of previous meeting. Address of welcome by Mr. Samuel Glydon.

Reply by Mr. Thomas Moyses. The relation of the church to the Sunday school was then ably discussed by Rev. W. A. Thompson.

Then followed an excellent paper by Miss Fairlie M. Durant, on how to become more efficient Sunday school teachers.

Mr. David Schurman next gave some backward exercises in normal teaching, after which Rev. J. M. Fisher spoke on the International Series.

The written questions which had been submitted were then answered by Rev. F. A. Wightman.

This, with the collection and appropriate music, and closing remarks by the chairman brought a very successful meeting to a close.
