The February term of the Supreme Court of King's County was opened in Georgetown Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, Mr. Justice Haszard presiding. The present session of the Court is being held in the Temperance Hall, the Court House having been temporarily converted into barracks for the men of the 105th Regiment in King's County.

There are two criminal cases on the docket, the King vs. Alexander McKay, and the King vs. George McDonald. True bills were found in each case. McDonald pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence on application of Mr. J. S. Stewart for the Attorney-General.

In his charge to the Grand Jury His Lordship, after dealing with the cases on the docket, addressed them on the war and the urgent need for general sacrifice. He said the very fact that the Court had to meet on this occasion in less convenient surroundings than usual was an evidence of what was being a sacrifice which they should be glad to make and make cheerfully. His Lordship spoke on the seriousness of the situation and strongly emphasized the great importance of the fact that every person should do their utmost to lend assistance to the country in fighting the enemy.

The Grand Jury retired about 12.30, and returned sometime after 3 o'clock, having visited the Hall. They reported conditions in regard to that institution as satisfactory and heartily concurred in the opinion of His Lordship that although they were put to some inconvenience in the circumstances due to the occupation of the Court House, they should bear in mind the cause involved.

The case of Edwin Clay vs. Martin McKinnon was tried and concluded. Counsel: Mr. J. J. Johnson for the plaintiff, and Mr. Donald McKinnon for the defendant.

At 5.30 p.m. the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

—ISLANDER ENLISTED IN THE WEST—The Guardian notes from the Daily Colonist, Victoria, B. C., that Mr. Vincent McKenna, third and youngest son of Dr. J. A. J. McKenna of the Royal Indian Commission, Victoria, B. C., left last month to take the officer's training course in Artillery at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., preparatory to his leaving for the front. When the war broke out Dr. McKenna's eldest son, Damien, a rising young barrister of Prince Albert, Alberta, gave up his practice and enlisted as a private in the 90th Winnipeg Rifles, 8th Battalion, 1st Canadian contingent, and was wounded at Ypres. Luckily however, being six weeks in the hospital he was sent to the front again, but word has been received lately that owing to a severe cold contracted in the trenches, he has been invalided home to England. His many friends in Charlottetown hope for his speedy recovery. Dr. McKenna must be justly proud of his sons, and Mr. Vincent's many warm friends in this city feel confident he will give a good account of himself.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

THE floors and doors appear to wait until the dust germs congregate; the housewife hails each dawning day with grim and harrowing dismay. Says she: "My work will NEVER end—'er dusty stretches I must bend, until, with aching back and hands, I finish what the day demands."

The "Floor-and-Door-a" Girl. Then Mrs. Jones, one afternoon, dropped in, at time most opportune. An optimist, she knew the wiles of household work—its sighs and smiles. She told of how she polished floors and wood-reflections said: "Why, howdy-do!"

"The Gold Dust Twins," said she, "I find, help leave the woes of dust behind. Each mark of sticky hands on doors, each tread of muddy feet on floors, all fade before the slightest touch of Gold Dust, and the work is such that, when the woodwork has been done, I find said work was only fun." This line of reasoning must show that those who've tried it OUGHT to know. If you, in one day's duties, find that there's a Grouch in every Grind, invite the Gold Dust Twins to share such tasks as tire and fret and wear.

From kitchen floor to bedroom suite, these tireless little chaps make neat, and best of all, the sum expense is measured up in meager cents. They put both dust and dirt to rout and run the last old microbe out.
