GREAT OATS - One of the finest fields of oats in Prince Edward County or in fact in the whole Province is to be seen on the farm of Mr. Albert Tanton, St. Eleonors. Bordering on the main road and most observing people proclaim it to be the best they have ever seen. It covers about a foot over the picket fence which surrounds it and is growing very thick and is also well filled. If nothing unusual happens Mr. Tanton should have a record yield from this field.

FOUR NEW POLICEMEN - The town of Summerside has for some time been advertising for a police officer and on Friday morning the citizens were pleasantly surprised to find four new policemen on duty on Water Street, at Central Streets. The watchword of the quartette is "Keep the Right" and if the motor laws are not obeyed from now on it will not be the fault of the policemen. The four new policemen are of the "silent" type and while they will be on duty twenty-four hours a day they will not cost the city much in wages. These silent policemen ought to be a great aid to motorists and pedestrians alike. If pedestrians quit "jay-walking" and cross directly from one side of the street to the other and not diagonally accidents will be a thing of the past. Out of town motorists and teamsters it is hoped will be made to observe the rules of traffic quite as much as town motorists.

All In Readiness To Take Care Of Harvesters

(Special to the Guardian) MONTREAL, Aug. 9. - With but two days intervening before the departure of the first of the Canadian National Railway special trains carrying harvesters to the Western fields, Canadian National offices and yards are the scenes of considerable activity. The distribution of cars for the various trains has been practically completed and the cars themselves put into excellent condition for the accommodation and comfort of the excursionists. It is difficult for the outsider to conceive of the numerous details which the carrying of these harvesters involve. To move fifty thousand men from one part of the country to another in a short time is a significant task more particularly so when it is realized that one-third of these men will be included in the first movement, and more than twenty special trains over the Canadian National Railway made up of colonist sleeping cars and fully equipped for the utmost comfort of the passengers will be required for the entire movement. Not the least among these efforts connected with this annual excursion is the transportation arrangements made necessary by the fact that groups of passengers will be picked up at various points and provision must be made for these men as the trains continue on their westward trips. The excursion on August 10 will carry harvesters from Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. On August 14 other trains will be operated carrying more harvesters from Eastern Quebec and also picking up those from Western Quebec who intend to work in the harvest fields. Toronto and Eastern Ontario will leave on August 18 and those from Western Ontario will not depart for the wheat fields until August 21. In the movement of these trains it is necessary to stop at divisional and pivotal points to pick up passengers. In addition to this, arrangement for the distribution of these men to the various grain-growing areas which have been particularly productive along the Canadian National lines in Western Canada, will have to be made after the arrival of the harvesters at Winnipeg. This is partly done through the co-operation of the railway and the Federal Agricultural Department and the Canadian National Railway passenger staff at Winnipeg which is the headquarters of the Western region is now busy completing the arrangements for this part of the harvest labor movement.

Britain Accused Exploiting India

WILLIAMSTON, Mass., Aug. 9. - A disciple of Gandhi appeared for India before the members of the Institute of Politics, yesterday. He assailed Great Britain for exploiting his country, declared that "the white man's burden" was a discarded idea and predicted that the present system of British rule in his country would always fail. Prof. J. J. Cornelius, of the University of Lucknow, was India's defender. He spoke at an open conference which Prof. Lionel Curtis, of Oxford University, is conducting on the "British Commonwealth of the Nations." This conference is doing a tremendous amount of good, because the weaker peoples are not represented here, while the powerful nations are. "I don't believe that India has a place in the British Commonwealth of Nations, because India's point of view is fundamentally different from that of England and has a different background of culture and civilization."

Scott's Mother On The Stand

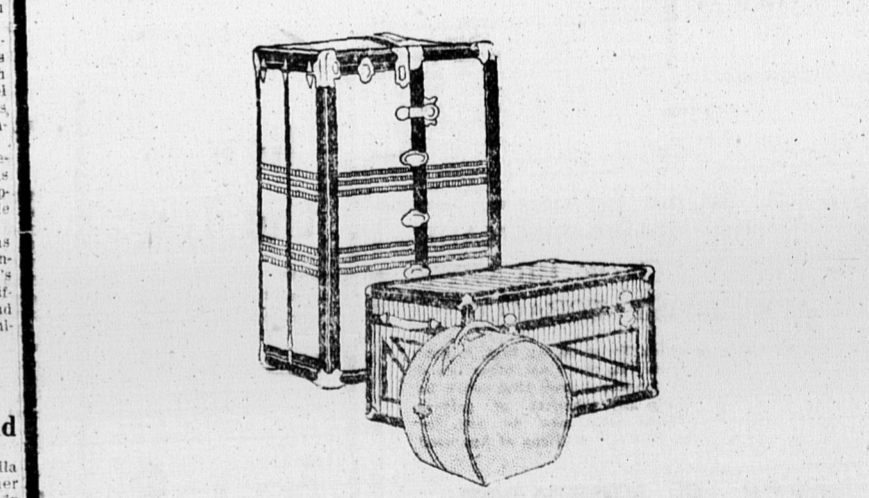

CHICAGO, Aug. 9. - Mrs. Rilla Scott, of Bay Village, Ohio, mother of Russell Scott, testified today in behalf of her son in the sanity hearing before Superior Judge Joseph B. David. Under the law excluding witnesses until they have testified Judge David ordered all alienists from the courts. Psychiatricists sat at the counsel table yesterday during the selection of the jury and opening statements. The ruling excluding them was vigorously contested by the state. Later one alienist from each side was permitted to remain in court on condition that his testimony be confined to observational conclusions rather than hypothetical questions touching insanity. Mrs. Scott said that Russell was her second child, born 31 years ago. A question as to the condition of her first child was withdrawn after an objection by the state. Minard's Liniment for Dandruff.
