DIFFICULT PEAK ASCENDED BY JAP.

BERNE, Sept. 16.—Eiger Mountain in the Bernese Oberland Alps, 13,039 feet, has finally been ascended by way of Mittelgrat or the northern ridge. The climber was a Japanese, Yuko Mika, aged twenty-three, accompanied by three guides, the chief guide being Fritz Tmattler, who on July 10, 1911, attempted Eiger by this route with Julian Grande. Grande could not proceed because the most difficult part of the route, the Gendarme, which overhangs, was entirely iced over. Since that date no attempt had been made to ascend Eiger by this route, but owing to the long dry summer the Gendarme appears to have been, for the first time in its known history, free from ice and snow. Eiger has been ascended several times by this route, first by the guide Alexander Burgener on July 3, 1885. Burgener lost his life in a terrible accident on Jungfrau in July, 1910. The second ascent was on June 29, 1904, by G. A. Hasler with Fritz Amatter as chief guide.

The Japanese and his guide camped where Grande's party camped in 1911, thus reaching the highest point on Gendarme ever reached before in ascending. In 1911, Grande's party remained cramped up and roped together on a ledge from 9 o'clock in the evening until 3:30 next morning at a height of 12,000 feet. The party then began to ascend at 4 o'clock in the morning, but the Japanese climber and his guides could not begin till 7 o'clock in the morning owing to bad weather and the cold. The ascent of Eiger by Mittelgrat was once attempted by the well-known American climber, Brady, with three guides. Now that Eiger has been ascended by the ridge, virtually all the difficult positions in the Bernese Oberland Alps have been conquered.

SCHOOL FAIRS are now in full swing throughout the province. A very successful one was held at Kensington last Thursday, and another was held at Central Bedouque.

HAPPY EVENT.—The marriage was solemnized at the Sacred Heart Church, Sask., on Aug. 10th, of Mary Laura Hamell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamell formerly of St. Bridget's parish Lot 11, at present a prosperous farmer at Pleasant Valley Sask.

RACES POSTPONED.—The Kensington horse races which were to have been held last Wednesday afternoon, were postponed until this coming week, owing to the unveiling of the Monument at Traveller's Rest, which took place on that date.

CONGRATULATIONS.—Congratulations are being showered upon J. LeRoy Holman, vice President of R. T. Holman Limited, Summerside, who has returned from Charlottetown where he was elected president of the Maritime Boards of Trade.

THE SCHOONER "Glyndon" Captain Doucett, bound for Campbellton, sprang a leak while in the straits, and was compelled to call to Summerside port (Friday) where the cargo was sold to a local party, owing to the Schooner not being able to proceed north.

ROADS IMPROVING.—Due probably to the incessant "nagging" in Summerside, the eastern road leading out of the town has had one application of stone which has greatly improved it. This road has been in a disgraceful condition all summer, full of holes and ruts; the condition being even worse from the fact that the road had a good stone foundation and needed only a top dressing of clay to make it into a good highway. Perhaps the coming election has had something to do with the attention now being given to the road.

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR

NR Tonight—Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or more. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs—promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can have food you like to eat. Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold everywhere and recommended by your druggist. E. A. Foster, Central Druggist.

DIVIDING THE SPOIL

Three Summerside sportsmen are practicing that beautiful art of "Dividing the Spoil," which means such a bit in the "Maid of the Mountain" show which toured the Dominion last year. The idea is that they do not know how to divide their spoil and it is an unwritten agreement that the who sings the song the best gets the spoil. The three went out the other morning after ducks and were not long in their cover until a flock of wild geese flew right over their heads. Each one fired just one shell and one of the biggest birds in the flock fell practically at their feet. Though they waited several hours, there was no sign of further game, as each was a pretty good marksman, and each fired the same size of shot there is quite a bit of doubt as to who the bird belongs.

THE STRAITS OF BELLE ISLE PROBLEM

In a recent number of the "Popular Science Monthly," the old and oft discussed project of damming the Strait of Belle Isle—that nine miles water between Newfoundland and Labrador through which the Arctic current pours—is given another discussion. As it is well known, the warm surface current called the Gulf Stream issues from the Gulf of Mexico and moves northeastwardly missing Nova Scotia and eventually washing the western and northern shores of Europe, giving them a much higher temperature than their latitude naturally gives them. Hence Nova Scotia has a much colder climate than she should have an account of the cold current coming southward from Baffin Bay.

The suggested remedy is a granite dam or barrage closing the Belle Isle Strait and deflecting the Arctic current eastward and northward. Such a structure would be ten miles long and at least fifty feet wide at the top, the estimate of material, stone and ferroconcrete being seventy-five million cubic feet or eighteen million tons. Work could be started at both ends at the same time and the lowest estimate of cost is ten million dollars.

The dam would, of course, be used to carry a railroad connecting Newfoundland with the continental systems and greatly shortening the trans-Atlantic voyage from America to the British Isles; the distance from St. John's to Liverpool being 1,000 miles shorter than from New York to the same British port. Of course a railway might be carried over without a complete stoppage of the Strait, by bridging a link in the structure, permitting a current to run through a complete barrage would of course block the Arctic current from flowing into the Gulf of St. Lawrence and would turn its course directly out into the Atlantic, and engineers are of the opinion that it would be forced across the ocean in a northeasterly direction by the Gulf Stream, and returned to the Arctic in the direction of the Spitzbergen Archipelago. They also think that if the Arctic current were turned aside, the Gulf Stream would send a part of its current to wash the shores of New England and Nova Scotia, a change which would alter the climate of these regions greatly.

There is an opinion, however, that under these circumstances the Gulf Stream in its trans-Atlantic course might be pushed south far enough to let the cold current wash the shores of the British Isles, making them a sort of European Labrador, with utter disaster to the prosperity or even habitability of the Motherland. If it benefited both Canada, New England and Britain, however, and the project is really feasible, there is every reason for constructing the barrage by the joint expenditure of the Dominion and the United States.

Of course, all these are conjectures and opinions and the question remains whether or not the ocean would perform exactly as these engineers think. If, however, it should turn out as expected, the climate of Canada would be affected as far inland as the Great Lakes, and our climate would approximate that of Virginia. Under such circumstances the agriculture of Eastern Canada would undergo a vast change. The increased heat and evaporation would dry up the innumerable shallow swamps and lakes and count less acres of new land many crops could be grown that will not even germinate in our present climate; while two crops a year would be grown in connection with a number of food and fodder plants. One estimate makes the enhanced land value mount up in the billions. Last of all, under a warm climate, our population would quickly and vastly increase by emigration, and Montreal would not take long to catch up or even surpass New York as the greatest of shipping ports on this side of the Atlantic at least. If the cost were only ten millions there is no excuse for not carrying out the scheme; but the estimate looks too small.—Acadian Recorder.

Fights Paying $25,000 To Shoemaker's Girl

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Justice Francis Martin in the Supreme Court granted permission yesterday to re-open the breach of promise suit in which a Sheriff's jury on September 4 awarded a verdict of $25,000 damages to Miss Jennie Frascade of 7506 East 174th street, The Bronx, against Dr. John Arena of 2156 Bathgate avenue, The Bronx. In his plea to re-open the case Dr. Arena says that several conferences with Randolph M. Newman, attorney for the plaintiff, held prior to the trial led him to believe that the suit would not be pressed and therefore he did not make preparations for defense. Miss Frascade alleged that Dr. Arena, after promising to marry her, refused when he learned she was a shoemaker's daughter. Dr. Arena, on the other hand, said that the only relations between them were for his services in operating on a bunion.
