LOCAL BRIEFS

THE Charlottetown Engineer Co'y will meet at drill shed this evening at 8 o'clock sharp in uniform.—By order.

REGULAR Quarterly Meeting of the H. & L. Co'y will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. By order J. H. Morris, Secretary.

COL. McLEOD occupied the chair at the Railway Men's Gospel Meeting Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. O. Ross, Mr. Stevenson and Mr. D. M. Fraser of British Columbia were among those who took part.

In another column will be found recorded the death of Mrs. Archibald Kennedy. The news was received with deep regret by a large number of people yesterday morning when it was made known from the pulpit of St. James church, that her bright and beautiful life on earth was ended. The late Mrs. Kennedy was a sufferer for nearly two years and her death was not unexpected. THE GUARDIAN extends its sympathy to Mr. Kennedy in his hour of deepest sorrow.

The evening service in the First Methodist church yesterday was worthy of the best traditions of the church. Many of the military were present and doubtless richly enjoyed the service. The discourse was an exceedingly fine one. Pastor Campbell pressed home the lesson of true citizenship. It was much to be a subject of the best Queen History has known, greater to be a true subject of the Lord of Lords and King of Kings. The musical part of the service was suitably elaborate, the unison anthem which preceded the inspiring service was a fitting prelude. Miss Lawson was in magnificent voice and sang "Save me, O God," with grand effect. She also gave the solo in Kipling's Recessional with force and expression, taking the place, at a moment's notice, of Mr. Leslie Cook, who was suffering from a sore throat. The verse of the National Anthem, specially written for Her Majesty's eightieth birthday was sung by Miss Lawson most feelingly, the congregation and choir following with two verses of the National Anthem succeeded by three verses of "All Hail the power" to grand old "Coronation." The hearty congregational singing of the familiar patriotic hymns was an especially enjoyable feature of a service worthy to be placed among the red letter days in the Brick Church's annals.
