Springfield and Vicinity

The semi-annual examination of the pupils of Springfield School, was held on Tuesday, with a good attendance of parents and rate-payers. The pupils were examined in the various subjects by their teacher, Miss Helen A. Buntain, assisted by Miss Margaret Lambe, Mrs. Ernest Haslam and Mrs. Hyatt Haslam, and they showed by their prompt answers that they had been carefully trained and their work reflects much credit on their teacher. After the examination Mr. Ernest Haslam was appointed chairman and the following program was well rendered with Mrs. Everett Haslam as organist. Opening chorus, "Santa Claus" by the School; Welcome, Evelyn Matheson; Recitation, Norman Sinclair; Recitation, Bobby Howard; Recitation, Stewart McKay; Recitation, Carroll Lambe; Recitation, Janet Sinclair; Dialogue, "The Christmas Stocking," Recitation, Clare Haslam; Recitation, Ardye Haslam; Recitation, Winnifred Haslam; Recitation, James McKay; chorus, "Old Santa Claus" by the school. After his enjoyable program, Santa Claus appeared and unloaded the Christmas tree, giving a gift to each pupil from the Women's Institute and from the teachers, who also gave candy and nuts to the pupils. Candy and apples were passed to the visitors and were much enjoyed by all. Remarks were made by the chairman who congratulated the teacher on her very successful examination. The National Anthem brought the examination to a close.

Sudden End Of Prominent Man

(Canadian Press)
CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 26—Knowlton L. Ames, Sr., head of the Booth Fisheries Company shot himself to death last night in front of a North Side Hotel. He died soon after he had been rushed to a hospital.

Col. Ames, whose son Knowlton Ames, Jr., is publisher of the Chicago Journal of Commerce and the Chicago Evening Post, sent his chauffeur into a drug store of the hotel and shot himself as soon as the negro left the car, police said.

The negro was taken to police headquarters but was in a semi-hysterical condition and could throw no light on the affair.

Members of the Ames family were summoned. They were at a loss to ascribe a reason for the act. They said Col. Ames, who was 60 years old, had been in good spirits.

Kilauea Volcano In Eruption

HONOLULU, Dec. 26—(AP)—Kilauea volcano on the Island of Hawaii began erupting at 2:55 p. m. (5:25 p. m. Pacific Standard Time) today.

Ten fountains of molten lava spouted from the great fire pit known as Halemaumau. The eruption was preceded by a heavy earthquake which shook Hilo, and sections of Hawaii around Kilauea. Signs placed near the crater of Kilauea were toppled over by the tremor.

Kilauea, situated in Hawaii National Park on the slopes of Mauna Loa, is an active volcano and has long been one of the scenic attractions of the Hawaiian Islands.

Halemaumau is an erratic performer, and not infrequently emits flaming fountains which can usually be observed in perfect safety.

The last pronounced eruption of Kilauea ended Dec. 8, 1930, after fire and lava had been hurled from the crater for 2 days.

This year. The first straw hat has won the honor.

A new straw, rough and shiny and called Montelupo, is used in the creation of a number of exciting copies of Paris imports. It appears that this and other new straws will be more generally used than any other material for millinery this spring.

The forward tilt is still the vogue in correct adjustment of the hat on the head, but the hat with the up-tilt brim in the back is new.

One of the hats of lighter straw is fashioned with a tiny brim turned up saucily all the way around. It is worn with a circular nose veil.

Another model, on the sailor type has a narrow brim slightly turned and a tan shaped crown, a beret of felt uses the straw in a snaking winding stripe across the crown, finished with a stiff tailored bow at the back.

IN MEMORIAM
IRENE DOROTHY CAIRNS

On the morning of Dec. 10th there passed peacefully away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cairns, Baldwin's Road, the beloved daughter, Irene Dorothy, at the age of 31 years. Her short life had been one of suffering and death came as a welcome release, the Master's summons to the weary spirit to leave its frail, earthly prison, and soar on the pinions of love to rest forever in the Haven of His Sacred Heart.

Irene was of a singularly lovable nature and suffering far from embittering her character had ennobled, refined and spiritualized it, while her ready sympathy and sweet unselfish ways endeared her to all who knew her. No murmur of complaint ever passed her lips and even in the last painful days weeks flashes of her old time gaiety would light up her countenance revealing the unconquerable sweetness of her brave gentle heart.

Long will her memory live in the hearts of her loved ones who surrounded her last days on earth with such loving care and solicitude. Besides her sorrowing parents and her brother Edward, four sisters survive her—Sister Saint Augustus of St. Joseph's Convent, C. N. D., Charlottetown, Mrs. Jas. P. Pratt of Vernon River and Angie and Ruth at home.

The funeral which took place on Saturday December 12th to St. Cuthbert's Church, St. Theresa's, was largely attended. Requiem High Mass was sung by her Pastor Rev. I. R. A. McDonald who had been her constant attendant during her illness. The pall bearers were six of her cousins: Joseph Baldwin, George Sanphy, Alfred Cairns, Peter McKenna, Dan Baldwin and Tom Curran. Many kind friends testified their sympathy by Mass Offerings and Spiritual Bouquets.

"We do not grieve your eyes to be blessed light,
Which gladdens them upon life's farther shore,
Altho' our eyes ache hourly for the sight
Of your dear face lost forevermore."
"Till the old ties are knit again in one
In an unchanging and immortal land,
And the sweet links by death's rude grasp undone
Are re-united by the Master's hand."
May she rest in peace

Christmas In Other Lands

LONDON, Dec. 26—(AP)—Britain had a "Green Christmas" but just across the English Channel lay the edge of a gigantic cold belt that stretched far away into the Russian steppes.

Italians shivered in Rome, Spaniards in Madrid, Portuguese in Lisbon and Australians in Vienna, but the British merely threw the window open a little wider than usual and remarked, "It's just like spring."

Spared discomfort from the weather, the populace also began to enjoy a three-day holiday from the anxieties of a distracted world. Shops, banks and business firms will remain closed tomorrow, since "boxing day," the day after Christmas, is a British public holiday.

Shops, theatres and restaurants reported excellent business up to the time of closing for the vacation. Hotel keepers along the south coast were made especially merry by the "Stay in Britain" movement, which diverted thousands of holiday-makers from the Riviera and Swiss winter sports centres to Hastings, Eastbourne, Brighton, Bournemouth, Torquay and other seaside towns.

A vast majority, however, spent Christmas in their homes, following the example of the King and Queen who each year at their Norfolk home of Sandringham put off the cares of state and become simply the proud heads of a large and happy family party.

LITTLE POND WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The annual meeting of the Little Pond Women's Institute was held at the home of Miss Annie Macdonald, there being thirteen members and three visitors present. The meeting was opened by a victrola selection and the roll call was answered by paying a nickel. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, unanimously adopted by all the members present and signed by the president, Mrs. Vincent Macdonald. New officers were elected for the incoming year: President, Mrs. Charles J. Macdonald, vice-president, Mrs. Alex. A. Macdonald; Secretary, Miss Annie Steele. Directors, Mrs. Angus D. Macdonald, Mrs. Jas. A. E. Macdonald, Mrs. Aeneas Macdonald. Auditors, Mrs. Henry J. Macdonald and Miss Annie Macdonald. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers. Reports were received from sick and school committees. It was decided that a new water pail be bought for the school and that ten dollars be spent in buying Christmas presents for the pupils. The new school and sick committees appointed were: Miss Helen Campbell and Miss Helen B. Macdonald, Mrs. A. D. Macdonald and Mrs. Jas. A. E. Macdonald respectively. It was moved and seconded that a whist and dance be held on Nov. 24th in Annandale hall. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Mary McGillivray of Souris. The remaining hours of the evening were spent in music and song and special mention must be given the vocal selections rendered by Mr. Leo Gorman of Sturgeon, Miss Laura S. Macdonald kindly invited the members to her home for the next meeting, roll call to be answered with—"What you would like for Christmas."—S.

Steamer Ulva Is Ashore

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Dec. 26. (By the Canadian Press)—The small steamer Ulva from New York to Halifax, went ashore near Yarmouth, N. S., yesterday afternoon according to word reaching here. Her crew of nineteen were safe on Seal Island. The grounding occurred during a dense fog. The ship was reported to be leaking badly. A tug was ordered to the scene from Halifax.

The Ulva is a steel steamer of 840 net tons, owned by the Ulva Shipping Company (F. K. Warren) of Halifax.

The victims will be held in the Church of Santa Anna in Vatican City.

The first work will be the building of a temporary stable roof over the section of the library exposed by the collapse. The removal of books from the shelves left standing along the exposed walls also will be started and parts of the library building bordering the collapsed section will be strengthened.

His Holiness spent the rest of the day in quiet.

Peary's Sturdy Schooner In Trouble

SEATTLE, Dec. 26—Distress calls from the Tug Roosevelt, which was fighting mountainous seas together with the Schooner Commodore in a gale off Cape Flattery last night, sent the coast guard Cutter Snohomish, in a 70-mile race to its aid.

The call for aid, picked up here, said the sturdy little tug, on which Admiral Peary made a trip into the Arctic when he discovered the North Pole, was shipping water.

The Roosevelt and the Commodore, which has just completed a successful race from Hawaii to Puget Sound, had been battling bad weather all day. A hawser with which the Roosevelt was attempting to tow the schooner, parted. The Commodore carries a crew of twelve.

BRITISH PEACHES AND CREAM SKIN MAY NOW BE ADORNED BY CANADA

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26—The famous English complexion may depend for its artificial aids more upon Canada and less upon the United States, it is indicated at the department of commerce.

The department points out that in 1930 Great Britain imported 85 per cent. of her foreign perfumery, tooth pastes, sachets, lipsticks and rouge from the United States and France. Less than 3 per cent. came from the dominions and of that Canada supplied the largest part. But now Great Britain has clipped 50 per cent. ad valorem on these imports in addition to existing duties. The British market absorbed 25 per cent. of exports from the U. S., totalling $2,000,000.

Exporters in the United States are watching for increased preference to be given by the dominions to the mother country. An American business valued at a million and a half dollars is done with British dominions and colonies.

ORPHANS GET TASTE OF QUEBEC YULETIDE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 26—(By The Canadian Press)—It may be a far cry from the Potomac to the Ottawa but the Yuletide spirit of Old Quebec was in evidence here a few days ago when the Washington members of the Seignory Club of Lucerne-in-Quebec were hosts to eleven hundred orphans at Tony Sarg's Mariomette version of "Alice in Wonderland."

Eleven hundred toy balloons shrieked and whistled through the intermissions of the show. These together with a similar number of story books were distributed by Santa Claus.

Assisting Miss Mary Frances Ward who was the presiding hostess, for the party, were Miss Dorothy Gould Fowler and Miss Atlee Wayne Wigram, popular Washington debutantes, Miss Dorothy Bent, and Miss Katherine Brown, sub-debutante daughter of Col. and Mrs. Wrisley Brown.

The Seignory Club members, through whose co-operation this event was made possible, were Col. and Mrs. Wrisley Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Leo Hall, Dr. and Mrs. Charles P. Neill, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. Abner H. Ferguson, Dr. Dunlop P. Penhallow, Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Dwight, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Muretta, and Dr. George A. Foran.

PROFESSOR IS VERY "DUMB" IN EYES OF NINE-YEAR-OLD

TORONTO, Dec. 26—Professor T. W. Isherwood of Wycliffe College, Toronto, deprecates the decline of the romantic spirit and to support his belief tells the story of a little boy, aged about nine, who asked:

"Mr. Isherwood, do you believe in Santa Claus?"

"Do I believe in Santa Claus?" the savant repeated, not wishing to disillusion the lad. "Of course I do. Why not?"

"Well," the little boy retorted, "you must be dumb."

SIDELIGHTS ON STYLE

PARIS, Dec. 26—Molynieux's Palm Beach collection revives small flower printed mousseline for Southern evening gowns in a new silhouette, princess to the knees, then widened by very full-gathered side flounces accentuated by crinolines. He proposes pale grey or beige instead of white for wool sports frocks worn with pale green or orange jackets. Deep apricot is another interesting color used in woollens of kasha persuasion. Novel ski trousers have double legs giving the effect of short Oxford bags with a snug inner section to be tucked into boots. Diamond clips buttoning a short velvet evening jacket are amusing. Stocking creators forecast lighter neutral tones for spring, deepening into golden and coppery sun tones with the approach of summer. Reddish casts are banned. Smart women will choose evening stockings three shades lighter than the tone of the skin. One or two short strings of largish tortoise shell beads look well for daytime with the brown or orange reds in vogue. Tiny handkerchiefs are supplanting huge ones both for day and evening.

NORTH AMERICA SHOULD BE NAMED COLOMBIA OR BOLIVIA, MEXICANS SAY

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 24—Bolivia or Colombia should replace America as the name of the North American continent, Professor Antoni Caso, of the University of Mexico, suggested in an oration commemorating the 10th anniversary of the death of Simon Bolivar.

"Colombia or Bolivia should be the name of our continent in memory of the discoverer or of the liberator," he declared. "We should leave the name of America to the Americans north of the Rio Grande, who usurped that name as American Vespuccias usurped the glory of Columbus.
