A "jury" of medical experts is shown at the Chicago County hospital as it rendered a decision that 22-month-old Pamela Lamphere should undergo an operation for a deformity that endangers the child's life. Holding the baby is the father, Frank Lamphere, who was threatened with a divorce action by the mother, Mrs. Irene Lamphere (left) when he insisted on surgery for the infant. Later mothers of babies who have undergone similar operations convinced Mrs. Lamphere that the child had a good chance of surviving. Shown (left to right) are: Mrs. Lamphere, Dr. H. S. Gordon, Dr. Herbert Landau, Dr. E. Keifer, Dr. Karl Meyer, Frank Lamphere and Pamela, Dr. S. A. Abbott, Dr. K. Barker and a nurse.

Stewart-Hooper Wedding At St. Peters Cathedral

Bright September sun shone as a happy omen at the wedding yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral. The bride was Miss Verna Lillian, daughter of L. Col and Mrs. James Parker Hooper, Charlottetown, and the groom was Eric Paterson Stewart, Toronto, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell Rough Stewart of Dundee, Scotland.

The ceremony was performed in St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. E. M. Malone, the choical being very appropriately arranged with colorful autumn flowers. Miss St. Brennan, organist played during the ceremony, Andante Contabile. Pans Angelicus, I'll Walk Beside You and during the signing of the register, Calm as the Night, Where'er You Walk and O Perfect Love. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The young bride was very lovely in her gown of rich ivory satin with lace yoke, tapering long sleeves and graceful train. The lovely tulle illusion veil was draped from an exquisite headdress of white sweet peas. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace. A shower bouquet of white roses, white sweet peas and maiden hair fern completed this lovely ensemble.

The maid of honor was Miss Eleanore Campbell who wore a striking gown of gold satin with gold mitts and headdress of yellow roses making a charming effect. She carried yellow roses and bronze mums. A golden pendant completed the costume.

The groom had at his best man, Mr. Murray McLean, while Dr. Temple Hooper and Mr. George Campbell ushered the guests.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Hooper looked chic in an aqua blue gown with black accessories and corsage of Dream roses.

The groom's gift to his bride was a Gruen wrist watch to the best man, a key chain and to his best woman, a watch, a matching grey hat, black accessories and silver platinum fox stole. Her corsage was of Red Roses.

Happiest congratulations are extended.

Premier Is Optimistic In Reviewing Prospects In Labour Day Address

"Practically everyone in Prince Edward Island is a laborer and it is because we all work a little harder and longer that relatively we are gaining ground over some other places," said Premier J. Walter Jones in a Labor Day address in which he reviewed conditions in this Province at the present time. The Premier continued:

"Organized labour," the Premier continued, "is merely a hand-ful in our Province and these organized groups are apparently well-contented although from time to time I hear murmuring regarding Prince Edward Island's labour legislation. It is true that we have barred closed shops and enacted compulsory arbitration as has been done elsewhere. We handled a crisis in 1947 when the meat-packer's strike was in force to the satisfaction of our citizens. We resented the rough tactics of labour at that time and demonstrated who in the final analysis has authority over labour and to make out position secure we enacted legislation licensing unions and for bidding domination by international labour organizations.

"May I state now for the consolation of those labour organization-minded citizens that there never was any desire on the part of the government nor of the legislature to prevent local labour organizations from having affiliation with national or international organizations. But we believe affiliation should stop short of control. Our effort was merely to see that the rights of our citizens were not trampled on, and we maintained and will maintain that position.

"The crisis passed a year ago and I would propose to modify the labour act passed at the last session with respect to the licensing of unions. We feel that if proper information is duly filed by each union it will be sufficient at the moment.

"Also the prohibition against non-residents may be repealed. These two points seem to be the only ones which were widely remarked on in the legislation and we feel they are not of importance enough in this act to offset the effect of creating a feeling that the time is near at hand when the Liberalism stands for equal rights and justice to all.

"The act we passed indicated the rights of our people and the power of the Provincial Parliament to manage labour disputes for the welfare of our citizens and the best interests of our entire population.

"The study of the sporting fish—speckled trout—has not been over-looked and plans are afoot for improvements.

"Compulsory inspection and grading will likely be undertaken by the Federal Department when it is definitely requested by the processors.

"Close co-operation with the Federal authorities will be continued.

"These two—farming and fishing—constitute most of our wealth-producing activities and the organizing and marketing and storing and transporting and merchandising are most of the work of all of us.

Transportation

"We note with satisfaction the improvements in transportation particularly by truck and by air. Truck traffic at Wood Islands and at Bonden has increased enormously. Traffic by air with lobsters and strawberries to United States points and milk, fruit, chickens, oysters etc. to Newfoundland grow apace. This latter traffic is mostly out of the Summerside airport as the runways at Charlottetown are too short. Mr. J. will go to Goose Bay, Baffin Land and Greenland eventually. The United States forces in Newfoundland will this year send their ships for various products amounting to several shiploads. It may well be that Newfoundland trade will increase after entry into the Dominion of Canada.

"To foster processing of crops and provide refrigeration and storage the government was compelled in the absence of effort by private enterprise to build a cold storage plant. The storage of fox meat, butter, cheese, blueberries and strawberries demanded accommodation as the former storage had been burned down and the trade had moved to the mainland.

Ferrous Bottling Plant

"Freezing of berries for Mithew-Wells Company made more production of berries possible. It is hoped to enlarge the capacity to 15 tons daily. This service together with trucking to Nova Scotia and air export to the United States made possible the sale at excellent prices of a crop of berries five hundred per cent larger than ever before in our history. When farmers produce raspberries, currants, etc. the storage and transportation will increase and indeed may induce the establishment of a bottling plant here as well as to increase air transport.

"Farmers and dairy factories have benefited by being able to store their products. At present there are 50,000 lbs. butter, 295,000 lbs. or 3300 boxes cheese, 50,000 lbs. horsemeat, 70,000 lbs. strawberries, 50,000 lbs. blueberries, 20,000 lbs. scallops and 50 tons meat in storage. This storage will include as the season advances other products in season. Poultry, eggs, apples, celery, carrots and fruits last Christmas 40 tons of grapes were stored. It is big business and will be self-supporting.

"It is intended to establish a plant for stabilizing the accessibility of bait for our fishermen. A fish-drying plant is being established at the air port and is intended to develop to a capacity of over 2,000,000 lbs. of dry or salted fish annually. The school store and church are discontinued. Only one operating engineer is in charge. Houses and facilities are being moved daily. The Government bought the houses and sold them at about cost. The whole place will be closed out by October.

Less Liquor Sold

"The new Temperance Act operates smoothly. The fears of prohibitionists are not realized as liquor is being sold than last year. Liquor stores have not been closed.

"Well over two hundred emigrants have arrived and are so satisfactory that more should be encouraged to come. Our farms need these people and it may well be that skilled artisans could also be absorbed. Nearly one thousand farm workers from the Mainland will be brought to work at harvesting this year.
