WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Enjoyable Parlor Social At Kensington

A Parlour Social was held on Friday evening, February 21st at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacLeod, Kensington, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the United Church. Over a hundred people were present and a pleasant social evening was spent.

Dr. A. A. Lockhart in his usual genial manner presided. A program arranged by the committee in charge, was well rendered and much enjoyed, judging by the hearty encore each number received. Speeches by the two clergymen present, Rev. Mr. Fream of the Anglican Church and Rev. B. C. Salter of the United, were delivered in good form to the edification and satisfaction of all. Mr. Garnet Profitt in his own incomparable style gave several impromptu musical numbers, which, needless to say, were much appreciated. A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies.

A jolly sing song of all the old songs imaginable, winding up with "God Save the King" concluded the evening's entertainment, which all agreed was a most enjoyable one. A silver collection was taken and a nice sum realized. The accompanists were Mrs. Russel MacKay, Mrs. John Walker, Messrs. Garnet Profitt and Mr. J. Edward Warren.

Following is the programme: Instrumental music; solo, "Treasure Isle," Mr. Arnold Taylor; reading, "I never had such a time in all my life," Miss Jean Profitt; duet, "Sweet Genevieve," Miss D. MacKenzie and Mr. Roscoe Walker; solo, "Jean MacNeill," Mr. Russel MacKay; address, Rev. Mr. Fream; duet, "In the Gloaming," Messrs. Ernest Dunning and Harry Brown; solo, "I'll Take you Home Again Kathleen," Mr. Roscoe Walker; duet, "Santa Lucia," Mrs. J. Edward Warern and Mrs. Patterson Walker; address, Rev. B. C. Salter; solo, "Little Damozel," Mrs. J. Edward Warren.—D their University education through the I. O. D. E. Bursaries, which is surely a splendid way to hold in remembrance the men who gave their lives for their country during the Great War.

To date, our Bursary holders have been:

Mae Gardiner, daughter of the late Alfred Gardiner of Launching, who was killed at Arras in 1918.

Marie Clark, daughter of the late Jesse Clark of Montague, who died of a fever contracted at Gallipoli.

Allison Rogers, now attending McGill University, son of the late Lieut. Ralph Rogers, who was killed in action in France.

Richard McQuarrie, son of the late Heath McQuarrie, who went to France with the 105th Battalion, never to return.

Mr. McQuarrie completed the Fourt Year of Prince of Wales College, and is now teaching in his home school of Victoria. He plans to resume his university career next year.

We had no applicant for our Bursary last year but we felt sure that a second candidate in one of the other provinces benefited by our loss.

Post-Graduate Scholarships

The Post-graduate Scholarships (Overseas), established to promote understanding and loyalty between Canada and the Motherland, are open to any British-born or naturalized student who has had at least five years' residence in Canada and who holds a degree from a recognized university. A committee of Selection, composed of I. O. D. E. members, assisted by prominent educationalists, guided by the specific requirements of the National War Memorial Committee, recommend the candidate who will receive the scholarship award in each province. In this department of the War Memorial, our province has always been represented by excellent students.

The immediate past scholarship holder was Benj. Rogers, M.Sc., who graduated in Economics last June from London University. Mr. Rogers remained in England and is at present Secretary to a commission, which is making an economic and political survey of the British Empire, and whose findings will probably be published in book form.

Our present Scholarship holder is Mr. Hazen Wigmore, B. A., of Graham's Road, who is taking a course in Education at London University. The student for the coming year is Alan MacMillan, B. A., of Charlottetown, who at present holds a Teaching Fellowship in the Graduate School of Boston University.

The War Memorial pictures allotted to this Province have all been presented to the schools.

The patriotic calendars prepared by the National Educational Committee are much admired, and make very suitable gifts for schoolrooms and offices. This year the Royal Edward Chapter ordered one hundred calendars and the Abegweit Chapter, forty.

Short Story Competition

A short story competition was sponsored by the Order this year with a prize of $50. The entries closed February 1st, the award not yet being announced. The Sarah Maxwell Memorial Competition uses the income of a fund raised to commemorate the heroic death of Miss Sarah Maxwell, a Montreal school teacher. School children in the capital city in each province take part in this competition, and this year, the National Educational Committee asked the pupils to write a playet, the subject chosen being "The Cabots." It is very gratifying to note that the first prize for the Dominion was won by Miss Mary Crozier of West Kent School, Charlottetown.

The usual distribution of literature in connection with the War Memorial and educational matters has been attended to by your secretary, and all in all, over sixty letters were mailed. Notices calling attention to the different scholarships and competitions were put in the newspapers and sent to the various colleges.

In closing I should like to reiterate my thanks to the Order for sending me as their representative to the annual meeting held last May in Ottawa. It was an experience I shall long remember and I trust I may in some small way be able to further the work of this fine body of women who are doing such splendid work in every part of Canada.

Faithfully submitted,

HAZEL MACMILLAN

I. O. D. E. Acting Secretary of Education for Prince Edward Island

on the delicate question of an oil sanction against Italy. He said: "To my mind oil is a sanction like any other, and must be judged by the same criterion—whether its imposition will help stop the war."

He declared Britain had urged the early meeting (March 2) of the League's committee of 18 (on sanctions) for immediate consideration of the proposed oil embargo. "The sooner oil is discussed and a decision taken, the better, in the view of the British," he added.

"Meanwhile the British Government have not departed from their resolve to take their full part with others in such collective action as the League may decide upon in this (the oil sanction) dispute."

The question of disarmament was also one that could not be divorced from the League of Nations. "We are to rearm because of the lack of confidence in the good will of nations and because of the obsession of fear. Here then lies the political task of the League and the government of our country.

"Fear of unprovoked aggression can only be eliminated—and it must be eliminated—by a gradual strengthening of collective security. The road to disarmament lies through the increased power and authority of the League of Nations, but the League, in turn, depends to a considerable measure upon the arms and strength of our country."

Eden recalled his several years' experience with the disarmament conference. It had been disheartening but he felt the work was not wasted. "But so long as there is no general disarmament there can be no question of Britain continuing in a practice of unilateral disarmament.

Giant Slugger Firm Holdout

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—An implied threat to quit, unless his salary demands are met, today marked developments in the case of Hank Leiber, holdout slugger of New York Giants and one of the greatest young outfielders to hit the big leagues in many years.

Leiber, according to announcement at Tucson, Ariz., has accepted an offer to become baseball coach at the University of Arizona. He left his home at Phoenix today for Tucson, presumably to begin work.

Leiber batted .331 last year and played regularly in centre field. He was paid around $8,000 and is supposed to have been offered an increase of $2,000. He is understood to be demanding $15,000.

about that. And a bit queer, too, that nobody seemed to have said anything about it at the Farmers' meetings last week—not even Mr. Boulter in that address he gave at Rotary.

Some of the things that were in that address of Mr. Boulter's seemed to me would take a bit of thinking about. But I'll probably have to think a bit more about it before I put my ruminations in that respect down on paper. Perhaps next time Mr. Boulter will think it out a little further, and then I won't have to think so much.

But I've been very interested in Mr. Whear's letters. He writes a lot of them. But I was wondering if he knows very much about what he writes about. He seems to make it pretty plain though that he wants to get back the money that he and some other foolish people seem to have put into what seems to me to have been a pretty speculative kind of securities for a quiet farming community to have been dealing in. And that seems to be quite a good idea. When he gets his Government to get back for him this money that he seems to have lost I suppose that a lot of the rest of us here in Prince Edward Island will be able to get the Government to get back for us a lot of the money that we've lost and are still trying hard to lose in oil wells and gold and copper mines and fox ranches and farm machine factories. Perhaps we'd even be able to get back some of what we sunk in those co-operative stores we started.

And that set me to wondering if the Government got back yet what it loaned to the Potato Growers Association to get some of us started up in business again. And didn't they get some money back too for some of the farmers around O'Leary who went into the cold storage business a little too shortly before the cold weather set in. Perhaps you could tell us, Sir, and I hope you'll keep us advised how Mr. Whear gets along with his money-getting-back scheme. Although there do be stories now that the electric company may sell out to somebody else without consulting Mr. Whear or anybody else. Shouldn't there be a law to prohibit anything like that happening in a free country like this.

I was also reading in the Financial Post, that the deficit in the City of Charlottetown last year was $47,000. But a fellow on the street in Charlottetown was telling me that Charlottetown went behind last year a whole lot more than $47,000. I wonder if the Financial Post would have it right and would they get their information from the old mayor or the new. And I was wondering if either of them would be likely to know.

There are some other interesting things that I was reading in this Financial Post. One fellow seemed to think that if we'd all stick to our knitting we might get along all right. But it would be terrible to have to keep on knitting all through the winter in Prince Edward Island, wouldn't it. And we couldn't be knitting and writing letters at the same time could we? And in that case how could we keep the fellows busy that operate the type-setting machines in the newspaper offices?

Well I'd better stop ruminating for today. And writing too. But if I read something real interesting again perhaps you'll be glad to hear from me once more—for you surely do seem to like printing letters. You know I always did think that the farmers of Prince Edward Island did pay the railwaymen too much money for too few hours for bringing in a train from Murray Harbor and for keeping their stations closed up when the trains passed by but when I read that they were paying the big electric company in Montreal for supplying electric light for the unemployed in Montreal to sleep by, that did seem real interesting.

I am, Sir, etc.,

UNCLE JOHN.

RABBITS

Sir,—Having learned for the first time this winter of a closed season for rabbits, I was astounded, as were many more people, when they heard of it. This, I believe, and nearly every other Islander, to be the most unnecessary and unjust law in our constitution. Unnecessary, because there is no danger of rabbits being shot or snared to the point of depletion, for the simple reason that no man is going to go over a line of snares when he may not get one rabbit in a mile tramp through the woods in deep snow, which is exactly what happens when even half the rabbits in a certain section are caught. Rabbits are not so dumb as some people think; they soon get wise to a snare, and then it is almost impossible to catch them, as anyone knows who has done much snaring. At the price some ranchers pay for meat, in this case he would not make enough to pay for wear and tear on clothes, to say nothing of time and energy.

It is an unjust law because it deprives many needy Islanders of a natural means for making a few honest dollars, so sorely needed at this time of the year by many families. Also it closes the season at a time when rabbits are most easily kept, when ranchers can buy with a confidence in fact that meat has been kept in good shape. Foxmen would feel safe in purchasing, if the season were open from November to the last of March. As I see it—and I think anyone else—it is an unjust law, for it compels foxmen to buy foreign products, thus spending money outside of the Island for a product running wild in our woods, an animal most farmers consider a pest when they have crops or orchards handy where rabbits make their home.

Many of our fox ranchers pay thousands of dollars yearly for rabbit meat outside the province who would be glad to buy from their own people if assured a steady supply, which they could be sure of, but for an unnecessary law. And many Island men and boys are eager and ready to supply them if assured a fair price, for during the winter months the few dollars they could make are badly needed at home; but the law and short season spoils most of their chances.

I have had a man drive nearly seven miles to sell me twenty rabbits, because he heard I paid a fair price for them, which I could, owing to the honesty and fair-mindedness of ranchers I ship to. He told me he kept his family in flour and groceries through winter snaring of rabbits, and at little more than half the price I paid him. This I know to be but one case of many hundred on Prince Edward Island today. Many men and boys could do even better but for an unjust law which many break; nor can you blame them.

One rancher I know told me he pays nearly a thousand dollars a month for rabbits from the mainland. He also said he would prefer to buy Island rabbits if he could get enough during the winter months. But for this law I could supply him easily by buying from men and boys around here who would start snaring but for the law, and without detriment to the stock of rabbits.

Fellow trappers and rabbit-takers, don't let mine be the only voice raised in protest against such a law, and you all know what I have said is the truth. Speak to your M. P.'s and write if it be only a few lines. Let them know we have an unfair law in our constitution. And you M. P.'s who read this, change an act that unnecessarily keeps some of your needy followers from making the few dollars so badly needed these hard times, and you win a lot of goodwill from needy voters. Test out some of your men, and see how few approve of this law.

I am, Sir, etc.,

GRACE MOORE OFF ON SINGING TOUR

(By The Canadian Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24—Grace Moore can tell you where she will be any day from now until next September. Her date book for the next eight months is full of concert and opera engagements in this country and Europe—and of vacations for short periods, sandwiched between the singing dates, in Spain and at her villa in Cannes.

Grace will leave here Feb. 29, the day after her current and unnamed picture is completed. She considers her concert tour, in several southern cities during March, vacation enough. And so would you if you got as much money for singing as she does.

To the Electors of 4th Prince

Two candidates have been nominated to contest the bye-election in your District on Saturday, February 29th.

The official Government candidate, Mr. Horace Wright, was chosen at a regularly called and largely attended meeting of the Liberal Association at Bedeque. The choice was unanimous and enthusiastic, no other name being mentioned.

Mr. Douglas Bell now comes forward as an Independent. He offers no criticism of the Government or its policies. His sole motive is personal antagonism to the selection of Mr. Wright as the Liberal candidate. The proper place for Mr. Bell to have expressed his views on this subject was at the Liberal Convention. Although Mr. Bell was present at Bedeque, he said not a word, nor was his name mentioned as a possible candidate.

As Premier of the Province, I call upon the electors of 4th Prince to condemn by their votes on Saturday, this senseless conduct of Mr. Bell's, which will involve the Government and tax-payers of Prince Edward Island in the useless expense of a contested election.

As Leader of the Liberal Party, I may say to the Liberals of the 4th District that Mr. Bell and any who support him are simply reading themselves out of the Liberal party, and can receive no further recognition as Liberals.

I need not introduce Mr. Horace Wright to Fourth Prince. He is known throughout the District as a gentleman of great ability and honour, as well as a man of wide experience in parliamentary and public life. I solicit for Mr. Wright the unanimous support of the sane-thinking electorate of the District.

DATED this 24th day of February, 1936.

THANE A. CAMPBELL,
Premier.

L3102-2-25-28-2i

To the Electors of 4th District Of Prince

At a largely attended Liberal Convention held in the Central Bedeque Hall Tuesday, February 4th, I was unanimously nominated as the Liberal Candidate to fill the vacancy made by the death of our late beloved Premier. The nomination was accepted by me with the assurance that I would have the support of all loyal Liberals in the District. It has since developed that a former prominent Liberal has seen fit to leave the Liberal ranks and nominate himself as an opponent of the Liberal Candidate.

I therefore appeal to you, the Electors of the 4th District, to uphold the policies of the Liberal Party so ably formulated by our late Premier, and so heartily endorsed at the recent Provincial General Election, and to give your support to the candidate duly nominated at a regularly called convention of the Party.

I feel that I am justified in looking confidently for your support. My record of service in the past is well known to the Electors of this District. In regard to the future, I wish to assure you that if I am honored with your confidence I shall put forth my best efforts to serve you.

I wish to express my appreciation of the attitude of my Conservative friends who have demonstrated their confidence in me by refraining to nominate a candidate in opposition. I hereby solicit their support and I assure them that if so honored, I shall do my utmost to promote good government and to encourage such legislation as will bring the greatest good to the greatest number of the residents of this fair Province.

HORACE WRIGHT.
