Nervous? There are many causes of nervousness, but poor blood heads the list. The doctors call it anemia. The blood lacks red corpuscles. At your first opportunity, consult your doctor about taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ask him if he has anything better for weakness, debility, nervousness. If he has, take it. If not, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Get well, that's what you are after. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines! J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

BOSTON advices to hand convey the sad intelligence of the death of an Island girl Mary McDonald, who was found dead in her bed at the residence of her employer. She had been working for some time as a domestic. When her body was discovered there was a strong smell of gas in the room and there was evidence that suffocation from gas was the cause of death.

THE Salem Statesman says a more beautiful, more inspiring or more powerful recital than the one given by Henry Lawrence Southwick has never been heard in Salem. If the opportunity were offered of hearing either Mansfield or Southwick, and one were compelled to choose between the two, he should choose Southwick. He is a thorough Shakespearean scholar and a superb elocutionist. Lights and shades always harmonize; he has no tricks of delivery, and his interpretation of Shakespeare comes with a forceful light giving power. Dean Southwick appears in the Opera House next Tuesday night.

THE farmers have about completed their fall work at Rose Valley notwithstanding the weather Owing to the violent storm accompanied by heavy wind which was felt in this part has done quite a lot of damage to building. A large machine house owned by John D. MacLellan was turned over with the wind in which was stored all Mr MacLellan's machinery. Hugh Gillis lost a fine large barn with all of its contents. The storm has been the worst that has been felt for years. Mr. Kenneth H. MacKenzie has purchased the farm lately owned by Mrs. MacDonald; this farm is well watered and an abundance of hard and soft wood on it. If there were a few more like Mr. MacKenzie there would be no need to go to the North West to take up land and just as good at home.—Miss Flora Ann Trowsdale is visiting in Shamrock the guest of Mrs William MacKenzie.—Miss Annie Edwards is in Inkerman visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edwards. Mr. and Mrs Newsom have returned to Rose Valley for the winter.

THE last issue of the Cambridge Chronicle, the leading Republican newspaper in Cambridge Mass, contains the following account of the re-election of Senator Frederick J. Macleod which was one of the political sensations of the recent election in Massachussetts:—In the great loual contest of the day, that for the control of the new second Middlesex district, Hon Frederick J. Macleod, the Democratic candidate, ran 283 votes ahead of Rev. W. Rodman Peabody, his Republican opponent. This, however, can in no sense be regarded as a party vote. Senator Macleod's victory was a personal triumph, pure and simple, and was in large part brought about by that very redistricting which was looked to hopefully to make the district surely Republican. Mr. MacLeod had more votes than Mr. Peabody in five of seven wards in the senatorial district, including such Republican strongholds as wards six and seven The district is overwhelmingly Republican—was made so purposely, "so that no Democrat can get a smell for ten years," they said. Yet Mr. McLeod wins the election by a plurality of nearly 300! A new Democratic possibility for mayor some year in the very near future was made by the election. Senator MacLeod has joined the distinctly available class.—Senator MacLeod is a former resident of St. Peters Road, Charlottetown.

THE S. S. Halifax arrived at this port yesterday afternoon about 2.15, with one passenger, John Weatherbie, and a large cargo. She left on return last night about 12.30 with the following passengers: Miss B. McNab, Miss M. Morrissey, Mrs. S. Mahar, Leo Mahar, Miss Lizzie Koughan and Mrs. Wm. Davis.

A YOUNG Ladies Gymnasium class was promised at the Y. M. C. A. providing fifteen would join. Yesterday afternoon a number of young ladies met in the parlor, and found that twentyone had agreed to join, so the class will start next Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and will be held Wednesday and Saturday. It has also been decided to have a class for ladies on Monday evening from 7.30 to 8.30 provided a sufficient number desire it.

THE three student Y. M. C. A. Bible Classes met together last evening and listened to an address by Rev. J. T. Robertson on why the four Gospels were written and the distinguishing features of each. This was preliminary to the course of study which is to be taken up, "the life of Christ as given in Mark's Gospel." Over forty students have joined these classes. The three classes are taught by Rev. T. F. Robertson, Professor Ross and L. W. Archibald.

F. W. HYNDMAN, Lloyd's Agent, returned yesterday from visiting the wreck of the Sovinto, and brought with him a sketch made on the spot showing the position of the wreck and the deals which formed the cargo. The main portion of the wreck lies in ten feet of water about 150 yards from the shore, while the bow, broken off and held by the anchor, is at some distance from the larger portion. A portion of the bow has come in to the shore. The shore rises abruptly to a height of 20 to 25 feet above the water, and at the base of this high bank are many rocks. The cargo of deals before the disaster was estimated to be worth $21,000. About one half of the cargo is believed to be still in the vessel and may probably remain there until the ice forms, when it can be secured. Something like one third of the deals by estimates are distributed along the shore for a distance of one third of a mile. A smaller portion has gone out to sea. About thirty-five men—all that could be obtained—are engaged in hoisting to the top of the bank the deals now scattered along the waters' edge. The ship was valued at about $60,000. Both ship and cargo are advertised for sale on Friday next at 2 o'clock. Of the ten men drowned, or killed in reaching the shore seven bodies in all have been recovered and buried and three are still missing. A rough draft of the scene of the wreck impresses one with the enormous risk and peril of the brave attempt made to rescue the crew from the shore, in the teeth of the furious gale and tremendous sea.

THE case of Tanton versus the late City Councillors was before the Court of Appeal in Equity yesterday. The appellant's counsel completed his argument shortly after recess, and was followed by Mr. McLeod, K.C., on behalf of the respondents. Printed factums were filed in the Court by both parties. These factums go very exhaustively into the authorities in England, the United States, and Canada, bearing on the case, as well as the principles of equity contended for by each party as applicable to the case. The arguments addressed to the Court followed up the lines laid down by the authorities quoted, and altogether it would appear that the law and the principles bearing on the subjects will be very fully presented. The lines of argument, both on principle and authority so far have shown that numerous cases in the form of the present case have been upheld by the courts, and also cases almost similar in which Attorney General was compulsinan have been sustained, thus apparently showing two lines of established practice. The appellant's counsel strongly contended that the matter is referable more particularly to the equitable jurisdiction of the Court than to the form of the action. Neil McQuarrie, K.C., and E. O. Brown for appellants; F. L. Haszard, K.C., D. C. McLeod, K.C., and W. E Bentley for respondents.

A VALUABLE Mare, the property of John French, sr., of Sturgeon, was lost under regrettable circumstances a few days ago. Mr. French drove to the edge of the Sturgeon channel and there the mare got stuck fast in the mud. In the attempt to extricate the animal its leg was broken, and it had to be killed.

THE death took place November 6, at the home of her aunt Miss Isabella McDonald, of Miss Isabella, second daughter of Archibald Morrison, formerly of Cardigan, now residing in Sydney. She had been ill for about seven weeks. Miss Morrison was 38 years of age and leaves to mourn a father, mother, three brothers and one sister.

THE Guardian correspondent from the East writes:—That oft quoted man "the oldest inhabitant" has never seen such a storm for length and severity as the first ten days of November has brought us. Our northern shores give evidence of its fury, three wrecks within a distance of four miles between Black Bush and Campbell's Cove, and the sad loss of life on the barque at Priest Pond where so many of the brave sons of Norway met a watery grave. On land, barracks were unroofed, fences blown down and buildings damaged. Daniel Munn's barn was demolished.—Mrs. Theophilus McDonald has arrived home after a few weeks pleasant visit among brothers, daughters, and friends in Boston and vicinity.—Mrs. Patrick Whelan has also returned after an enjoyable visit with her son and daughter.—William Scott has been visiting his aged father and friends and returned to Nova Scotia a few days ago.—No fishing since the storm began or trawling before that for a few days was nearly impossible on account of an immense body of sharks that ate the fish off the lines, cut the trawls and made themselves a nuisance generally.
