Fight To Last Man, Jap Order

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Dec. 17 (Thursday)—(CP)—The Mikado, according to a prisoner, has ordered the trapped Japanese in New Guinea to fight to the last man, woman and child. (Indication of the resistance of the Japs in New Guinea is to be found in the fact that in the fall of 1941 only 18 prisoners were taken in contrast with more than 800 killed in the final stages and that, after the fall of Buna village, a war correspondent Martin Spencer reported seeing dead Japs "but no prisoners.")

The noon Allied command communiqué made no mention of the prisoner's account but told of increasing pressure by Allied troops on pockets of Jap opposition holding out east and west of Buna village.

Aerial activity filled out the rest of the picture.

Officer, 26 Men Punished For Letter Writing

HALIFAX, Dec. 15 (CP)—Military authorities have punished a senior officer and 26 other ranks in recent weeks for writing letters violating security regulations, it was announced today at Headquarters Military District No. 6.

The senior officer was severely disciplined, the statement said, while the soldiers received punishment ranging from four days confined to barracks to 28 days' detention with loss of pay. Names of the offenders were not disclosed.

Offences ranged from writing letters to "free press" through magazine columns to mailing pictures taken in prohibited areas, naming ships and giving information about essential defences and troop movements.

Permit Required For Poultry Export

OTTAWA, Dec. 16 (CP)—Effective today, exports of poultry of all kinds, alive or dead, require an export permit, the Trade and Commerce Department announced today. The permits must be obtained before the birds are shipped from Canada.

The order covers chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese and other domestic fowl.

"While purebred stock for breeding or show purposes will also require an export permit, such permits will be granted freely upon proof by the applicant that the birds are being exported for that purpose," the department said.

"No export permit is required for small casual shipments of 50 and under in value, but a permit is required for any poultry shipment over that value to any destination."

"It is to be noted that this also applies to shipments to Newfoundland."

Agriculture Department officials said they believed there would be sufficient poultry to meet Christmas needs in Canada, but the threat of a surplus of poultry, which appeared early in the year, had largely disappeared.

In Memoriam

MRS. JAMES CALLAGHAN

On Monday, the body of the late Mrs. James Callaghan was laid to rest beside her daughter, Bernice, in the family plot in the cemetery adjoining Immaculate Conception Church, Palmer Road. The late Mrs. Callaghan passed away on Friday Dec. 4th, after being sick only a short time. Her maiden name was Adeline Smith and she was born at Kirkcubbin in 1869. After attending school there she proceeded to Prince of Wales College from which institution she obtained her teaching diploma. She taught school for several years at Kelly's Cross and Centre Line Road. In 1894 she married James Callaghan and settled in Miramichi, spending all her married life there. During her 49 years residence in the community she amassed a wealth of friends, who admired her for her hospitality, her thrift and her love of home. Her exemplary Christian life made such an impression on the members of her family, her neighbors and friends that it will long remain as a force for good. During the time of her illness, her last hours were enriched by visits from her pastor, who brought her the consolation of the Sacraments of the Catholic Church, of which she was a life-long and devoted member. She leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing husband, two daughters and two sons as follows: Annie, wife of Ray Galask, undertaker at Elmfield, Winnipeg; wife of Edmund Kelly, Roseville, George, of Bloomfield, Louis, or High River, Alta., and Patrick at home. She is also survived by 25 grand children and two sisters, Mrs. Archibald O'Holloran of Brockton, and Mrs. Moses Foley, Kildara. The funeral took place on Monday morning to Immaculate Conception Church, Palmer Road, where High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Patrick Walsh, P. F. who also performed the committal rites at the grave. The pall bearers were: Frank Shea, Albert Kennedy, George Knox, Martin Hustler, Edmund Kelly and Roush O'Brien. A striking testimony of the high esteem in which the late Mrs. Callaghan was held was evidenced by the large number of relatives, neighbors and friends who visited her late home to pay their last respects and to tender sympathy to the bereaved. The large number of Mass Cards and Spiritual Bouquets tendered, the telegrams and Messages of Sympathy received gave additional testimony to the high place the late Mrs. Callaghan occupied in the lives of all who knew her. All will utter a fervent Amen to the concluding line of the burial service.

"Requiescant In Peace."

I HAVE LIVED TO SEE THE GLORY

I have lived to see the Glory of a nation in the youth shoulder arms to face the fury of the enemies of Truth. I have lived to see the measure of the courage and the might of the Liberty of mankind on the battle-fields of Right.

I have heard the song of Freedom in the beat of marching feet swinging onward in a rhythm that can never know defeat; Swinging onward for the glory of a mankind's right to be what the God of all Creation meant for all humanity:

Free forever from the shadow of the menace and the hate Of the mammoth—Beast of Evil—that again would found its state In the minds of men demented by the poisoned breath of Hell, But for whom the march of Freedom marks the end and tolls the knell

I have lived to see the Glory of the coming of the Lord. In the marching song of Freedom I have heard His spoken Word. In the steadfast eyes of heroes I have read His own decree. That the heritage of Freedom is, that all men shall be free.

—Jas. MacLean, Hotel Fort Shelby, Detroit, Dec. 7, 1942.

STEAL ANYTHING

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Dec. 16 (AP)—It looks as if some people will steal anything. Somebody stole a telephone from its connections at a local station. And somebody dug up and carried away a length of water main, leaving water gushing from the end of the pipe.
