Good Values in Smart, Summery Silks--Read Them Carefully

Every woman knows the comfort of owning a "summer silk"--the practicable, wearable, sunny or cloudy day frock that looks neat when shopping or smart when driving according to the small dress belongings that are worn with it.

We are at present showing some specially good silk values--high class goods that should bear a larger price--goods that are regularly sold elsewhere at higher prices.

Select that silk now--select it here and select it promptly.

"THE FINAL SETTLEMENT."

A drama of American social life will be the attraction at the Opera House on Friday, August 5th.

A problem play of more than passing interest, it points a strong moral lesson, depicting as it does the grave consequences that oftentimes follow the sudden acquisition of wealth and power.

The smoothly running lines tell in an engrossing fashion of the rise of a brilliant and ambitious young mechanic from the ranks of labor to the presidency of a great iron trust.

His suddenly acquired opulence and power, and the allurements of life in the social set in which he moves, dispose him to divorce his wife, a woman of conservative, homely tastes and ideas, who still retains her orthodox conceptions of home and husband.

He marries a beautiful actress, believing that her talents and charms will enable him to establish the social leadership he so greatly desires.

His subsequent disgrace and ultimate rescue at the hands of the still faithful first wife, form the basis of the story. A strain of sprightly comedy gleams from time to time through the lines and serves to relieve the spirit of gripping intensity that pervades the atmosphere of the production.

Seats on sale at usual places.

I bought a horse with a supposed incurable ringbone for $30. Cured him with $1.00 worth of MINARD'S LINIMENT and sold him for $85.00. Profit on Liniment, $54.00. MOISE DEROSCE, Hotel Keeper, St. Phillippe, Que.

FORTUNES AT MONTE CARLO

LONDON, August 1.--After a 15-year trial of a system which practically consists of betting high enough and long enough Huntley Walker has left Monte Carlo £18,000, the richer, says Tid-Bits. He won £6,000 one day, and the next day in a little over two hours won £12,000 more which necessitated the table at which he was playing suspending operations for a few minutes while further funds were obtained. This is technically called "breaking the bank," and recalls the feat of "Monte Carlo" Wells, the first man to break the bank at the famous gambling resort, who a few years ago won £40,000 from the casino.

Wells played by a system, and afterward explained how starting with a certain capital, he bet on "runs" or "series" staking £20 or £480--the minimum or maximum bets.

Five years ago an immensely wealthy American, Col Power, the owner of mines in Mexico, won £76,000 at the casino. His first day's play, which lasted less than an hour, brought him in £3,760, and each succeeding day had a similar story to tell. Crowds dogged his footsteps whenever he entered the casino, some of the habitués rubbing his shoulder or surreptitiously touching the hem of his coat for luck, while the more rational followed his play. The colonel did not plunge, but continued to stake the maximum of £480 each time. The result was that he came away richer by £70,000.

A Russian count once carried away £14,000 as the result of a single night's play, while a north of England ship-owner won £6,000 in a couple of hours. On another occasion a Yorkshire colliery owner left Monte Carlo, after a three weeks' stay, £15,000 richer than when he went there, but in the same month the wife of an English peer lost £16,000 in one night and £20,000 on the night after.

One of the most remarkable incidents which ever happened at Monte Carlo was when a Mr Jagers won £80,000. He kept a close watch over the roulette wheels at the various tables, and discovered that each one had some small defect which resulted in one number winning more frequently than any other. These numbers he backed, winning £120,000. The bank, however discovered his secret, had new wheels made, and Mr Jagers was losing rapidly when he wisely desisted and returned home with £80,000.

One of the distinctions enjoyed by the late Grand Duke Alexis, of Russia, the uncle of the czar, who died in November last, was that of being among the men who had broken "the bank at Monte Carlo." He won something like £20,000 in a couple of days; and it may be remarked that Lord Villiers heir to the earldom of Jersey, was credited a short time ago with an extraordinary run of luck. Starting with a capital of £2,400, a sum which represents only five maximum coups, and playing only one hour in the evening, all in one black, he won £30,000 in a few days.

But, in spite of all these huge sums which have been won, the bank holds its own against all systems, plungers and perserving gamblers, and, as a witty proverb invented in the days of M. Blanc, the founder of the casino, truly says: "The black often loses, and red often loses, but white (Blanc) always wins," and his winnings range from £1,000,000 to £1,500,000 every year. Well might one remark that he who breaks the bank today will be broken by the bank tomorrow.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE ON SEASICKNESS

Gentlemen--Your letter of the 14th of September reached me on my return to England from a journey to Newfoundland and back, during which I have seen and heard abundant evidence of the fact that Mothersill's Seaside Remedy appears to be, in nineteen cases out of twenty, an absolute cure for mal-de-mer, and also for what Americans call "Car-sickness." I have taken it on many occasions, with excellent effect and no after-effect. You are quite at liberty to make use of this letter, as I think it a duty to express my opinion on the subject. Yours truly, NORTHCLIFFE, Sutton Place by Guildford Surrey, England.

MOTHERSILL'S REMEDY QUICKLY CURES SEA OR TRAIN SICKNESS. Guaranteed safe and harmless. 50 cents and $1.00 a box at all Drug Stores and Drug Departments. If your Druggist does not have it in stock he can get it for you from any Wholesale Druggist in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, San Francisco or Canada.

CAN YOU USE A PRETTY HAT, READY TRIMMED, WORTH $6.00 TO $8.00 IN CASE YOU CAN BUY IT AT $1.95? IF YOU CAN, YOU'D BETTER DROP IN AND MAKE A LITTLE "DEAL" WITH US. MOORE & McLEOD. 9-24dtf.

Our Laundry is at Your Service

A couple of trips to this laundry is sufficient to prove that your linens will look nicer and will last longer than by common laundry methods.

It's the dainty touches of artistic laundresses that show "class" and that's the kind of work that has made this laundry famous.
