In Memoriam

MR. JAMES W. COLES

(Moncton Times 29th)

Mr. James William Coles, retired Canadian National Railways conductor and one of Moncton's best known and highly esteemed citizens passed away yesterday at the family home, 132 Dufferin Street, at the age of 76 years. Mr. Coles had been ill for several months but his death occurred suddenly while he slept early yesterday morning. His passing will be deeply mourned by members of his family and legion of friends here and elsewhere, especially in Saint John and other points along the Atlantic Region of the C. N. R. where he was a popular figure in his years of active service with the railway.

A native of Prince Edward Island, he came to the mainland as a young man, entering the employ of the Intercolonial Railway in Saint John. He removed to Moncton in 1899 and had made his home here ever since. He retired in 1926 after serving faithfully and well for 44 years.

Always running on East-West trains he became particularly well known to the travelling public between Moncton and Saint John. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias in Saint John and an honorary member of the Moncton branch of the Elks.

Surviving are his wife, one son, James W., Junior, and four daughters, Miss Dorothy Coles, Edmonton, Alta.; Miss Helen Coles, Saint John; Mrs. C. W. Kilgour, Beauharnois, Que.; and Mrs. Harold Chown, Saint John. Two sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Mary Yonker, Lethbridge, Alta.; and Mrs. Rebecca Yonker, who resides at North River, P. E. I. There are also three grandchildren, Misses Mary Elizabeth and Dorothy Coles, and Master James W. Coles III, of Moncton.

A son Harold Coles, paid the supreme sacrifice while serving with the Canadian forces in France in 1918. He was an air officer in the Canadian Railway Construction Corps.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon with service at three o'clock, cortege leaving at 3.20 p. m. for Elmwood cemetery.

In Memoriam

MR. PATRICK MCCARTHY

"In the midst of life we are in Death," these words were never more clearly brought to the minds of the people than when the news of the sudden death of Patrick McCarthy, Morell, spread over Eastern Kings. The crowds that came from far and near to offer their sympathy clearly attested to the high esteem in which he was held. He was an exemplary citizen and his death at the early age of forty-four is a distinct loss to the whole community. To the church where he was always a faithful attendant and generous supporter, to the Credit Union in which he was a willing and able worker, to the school where he was ever first to help with improvements and to every project which was for the public good, If his loss is felt thus in the community what can we say of the home where his aged father, looking forward to quiet and comfort in his declining years mourns a dutiful son, his five little children deprived of a fond father's loving care and protection play unmindful of their loss, where his heartbroken wife, whom eight years ago he brought as a bride to his comfortable home and who never knew ought of care or sorrow, until the dread Angel of Death in one fell swoop blotted out their happy future. Words of sympathy seem idle and futile in the face of their staggering loss and we can only recommend them to the "Mother of Sorrows" to help them bear their heavy cross and say "Not my will but Thine, O Lord.

Besides his immediate family there are left to mourn two sisters and one brother in New York, Margaret, Matilda and Philip, also Pius, Valeria (Mrs. Joseph Myers) and Sr. Mary Philip of St. Martha's congregation all of Prince Edward Island. Among the many Sisters from St. Martha's congregation who visited the home and attended the funeral were Sr. Mary Martha, cousin of deceased, Sr. Mary Imaculate and Sr. Mary Annunctia all formerly of Morell.

His truly Christian life left little need of a death bed repentence, but his sudden passing must serve as a warning that we too know not "the day nor the hour and it behoves us to be always ready for the call.

His funeral on Monday morning was largely attended. Funeral mass was sung by his pastor Rev. J. Rooney and services at grave were conducted by Rev. F. Mullaly, Sturgeon cousin of deceased. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. E. O'Hanley and Rev. J. McCardle of Charlottetown and Rev. B. Croken, St. Teresa's.

The many mass cards and spiritual bouquets received attested to the fact that as "we loved him in life we will not be unmindful of him after death." May his soul rest in peace.

MCQUAID—SMITH MARRIAGE

An interesting event was solemnized at St. Teresa's Church on Sept. 20th when Miss Mabel McQuaid became the bride of Mr. George Smith, both of St. Teresa's Parish. Due to the unavoidable absence of their pastor, Rev. Basil Croken the Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. M. J. Rooney of Cardigan, during which appropriate hymns were sung by girl friends of the bride, the organist being Miss Mayme Cameron. The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin with a bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gladiolis.

Miss Frances McQuaid, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore blue tulle with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of roses.

Ernest Smith, of Cambridge, Mass., was groomsman. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a large number of potted plants, dahlias and marigolds. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McQuaid, Baldwin's Road, where breakfast was served to upwards of fifty guests.

After breakfast a motor drive was taken through different parts of the Island after which they stopped at Old Spain and had dinner.

The bride travelled in a grey suit trimmed with navy. She wore a small navy hat with accessories to match.

In the evening they returned to the home of the groom where a bountiful supper was served and a pleasant evening spent.

The many valuable and useful gifts which Mr. and Mrs. Smith received testify to the high esteem in which they are held by a wide circle of friends, who join in wishing them much happiness in their married life.

Prior to her marriage the bride was given a shower at her home by the members of "The Children of Mary" and the Dramatic Club of which she was a valued member.
