

HEADACHE

One tablespoon Phillips' Milk of Magnesia stirred in a little water

Frequent headaches mean too much acid. Neutralize the acids with Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It ends your headache because it removes the cause. Take a little whenever a coated tongue or sour stomach or sluggish bowels warn you of an acid condition. Take it when you've eaten too heartily, or after any meal that "disagrees." Be sure it is genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, in this bottle.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

CARRY ON

(By Mary Eadie)

Three quaint, roomy, covered wagons, the kind with the white hoods, travelled slowly across country roads and smooth prairie ground. The first was guided by the father, the second by his son, Oliver, and the third by the mother of the family, who had her two small daughters safely beside her on the seat.

The Willard family was moving out West. It was in the year 1848. They were going from Ohio to Wisconsin, a full three weeks' journey in the old days.

Although the roads were bumpy, and Oliver and his sister grew very weary, they had great fun on the journey. All kinds of questions were asked. "What will Wisconsin be like, where shall we live?"

To such enquiries Mr. Willard just smiled, shook his head, and said, "I do not know, but we'll find a good place." And they did, because they decided to stop to build a cottage on the banks of the winding Rock River, with the beautiful wooded hills near by on each side of it.

The cottage was low and rambling. It had gables and dormer windows and little porches. The Willards christened it, "Forest Home." In time some climbing roses were planted and virginia creeper, and the home in the forest became very beautiful.

plead with the shop keepers to give up their terrible business. Miss Willard took a very active part, speaking at meetings and appealing to public officials to do all within their power to drive the liquor traffic away. She became much interested in this great new work and resigned her college position to become its leader.

Once in Pittsburg Miss Willard and a band of women, after being denied admittance by the owner of a liquor store, held a prayer meeting on the sidewalk. They prayed for all the poor, broken men and women who were going into the store to buy the liquor which was destroying their own manhood and womanhood and breaking up their homes.

In 1874 Miss Willard was elected corresponding secretary of the Illinois Women's Christian Temperance Union. In 1879 she became the first National President, and later the President of the World's Women's Christian Temperance Union, which still exists today, to help

The League of Nations

WORLD ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

The Lausanne Conference not only took a long step towards disposing finally of the vexed question of German reparations which has haunted the financial world for twelve years, but gave a fresh impetus to grappling with the world economic crisis. The Conference invited the Council of the League to summon a World Economic Conference. As Mr. Ramsey MacDonald put it in the House of Commons on July 12th:

"It is practically impossible for any Government in Europe, with the tremendous amount of work which Ministers have on their shoulders, to add to that work the calling of a further Conference like this. We pay money to the League of Nations, we pay our subscriptions to help keep the staff, and this is precisely the sort of thing that they can prepare for us."

The preparations for the Conference have been entrusted to a Committee of the Council composed of representatives of France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Japan, to which Belgium and the United States of America were afterwards added. This Committee is to be responsible for the general organization of the Conference and the preparation of its political background.

The technical work is to be done by a Committee of two experts from each of the countries mentioned, together with three economic and three financial experts nominated by the Council from nationals of other countries, with the assistance of the Directors of the Economic and Financial Sections of the League Secretariat. The Experts Committee will be divided into an Economic and a Financial Sub-Committee. The Bank for International Settlements is to nominate two persons to the Financial Sub-Committee, and the International Labour Office and the International Institute of Agriculture will co-operate with the Economic Sub-Committee.

The fixing of the exact agenda will be part of the preparatory work, but the following main questions were indicated at Lausanne and Geneva as requiring examination by the Economic Conference:

(a)—Financial Questions:

Monetary and Credit Policy; Exchange Difficulties; The Level of Prices; The Movement of Capital.

(b)—Economic Questions:

Improved Conditions of Production and Trade Interchanges, with particular attention to: Tariff Policy; Prohibitions and Restrictions of Importation and Exportation, Quotas and other Barriers to Trade; Producers' Agreements.

substance in the legalized Alberta beer-parlor (?), he went out and shot himself." Just as an incidental note in this tragedy the item says, "He leaves a wife and one child."

And then we wondered again: "How far responsible for what happened that day are those christian electors who voted for beer-parlors a few years ago?"

BOOZERS AND PIGS

One evening in October, When I was far from sober, And dragging home a load with manly pride,

My poor feet began to stutter, So I lay down in the gutter, And a pig came up and parked right by my side.

Then I warbled: "It's fair weather When good fellows get together." Till a lady passing by was heard to say:

"You can tell a man who boozes By the playmates he chooses." Then the pig got up and slowly walked away.

AFRICAN SCHOOL CROWDED

Because of the awakened desire for learning in South Rhodesia a girl's school at Hope Fountain, near Bulawayo, has more girls than it can accommodate, and the officials may have to enlarge the buildings. One black girl arrived from a remote country district in Selukwe, having traveled by train until her money ran out and then walking 20 miles. Her mother, a widow, could not pay the school fees, and the girl insisted on becoming a working pupil.

Nucker Irvine Receives Injury

MONCTON, Oct. 14.—The season's first hockey casualty is reported. Nucker Irvine, burly left wing and centre star of the Hawks, will be unable to take part in the pre-season training exercises for several days and perhaps weeks owing to a slight fracture of his left wrist and a sprained ankle. His wrist which he injured in a softball game several days ago, was fractured when he fell in a workout more recently and an X-ray showed a slight fracture of the bone and some of the tendons severely strained. His right ankle was sprained also during a softball workout. The injuries, however, will not interfere with his hockey playing this winter, it is said.

M. A. A. Team Is In New Hands

MONTRÉAL, Oct. 14.—There is no longer a Montreal Amateur Athletic Association Hockey team. Last night at a meeting of the senior group of the Province of Quebec Hockey Association, it was announced by directors of the M. A. A. that hockey club operated for years by the Association would in future be taken over by E. S. Hamilton and T. G. Ogilvie on a basis entirely apart from the Association. Hamilton and Ogilvie told the senior group that the new name of the club would be the Royal Hockey Club.

"This decision, reached only after mature deliberation, is in accordance with the Association's present policy to sponsor and develop those sports and recreations in which comparatively large numbers of our members can actively participate rather than to promote athletic entertainment, on a large scale, for the benefit of the general public," states an official letter from directors of the association to the senior group.

Miners Clash In Illinois

(Associated Press)

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Oct. 14.—Tension that has gripped the Taylorville coal mining area for the past several weeks was increased to the snapping point today by a half dozen clashes between employed miners and their militiamen guard, on one side, and striking coal diggers on the other.

Alarmed at the steady increase of strife, officials tonight increased the National Guard detachment here to seven full companies, and issued orders to break up all gatherings. Hostilities started shortly after daybreak when a group of men attacked a National Guardsman on duty at the Peabody coal mine. The Guardsman was disarmed and severely slugged.

Coal Imports Break Records

(Special to The Guardian)

MONTRÉAL, Oct. 14.—British anthracite imports through the port of Montreal this season have surpassed those of any previous year, it was announced today.

Not only has the previous full year's peak been exceeded by nearly 90,000 tons, but this was achieved in five months with another two months to go before the close of navigation on the St. Lawrence River.

The total imports to the end of September, 1932, the last date available, were 830,609 tons, 141,776 tons greater than total imports of 1931 and 89,805 tons higher than 1930, the previous record year. It is expected the season's imports will amount to 1,000,000 tons before winter seals the river. British bituminous imports showed an increase of 93,415 tons over last year with a total to the end of September of 113,298 tons. There was also an advance of 11,308 tons in the amount of British coke landed here, the total being 11,453. This

Great Trainer Passes Away

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 14.—Jimmy DeForest, one of the best-known trainers in the history of pugilism, died late yesterday at his home here.

DeForest was known to millions of fight fans as the man who trained Kid McCoy and brought Jack Dempsey along the championship trail to the heavyweight title. One of his last appearances in the public eye was when he trained the Wild Bull of the Pampus Luis Angel Firpo, for his spectacular meteoric career in the prize ring.

GOOD SOUP

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The bouillon that Mrs. Nellie Plummer, of White Plains, used to make from liver has proved to be worth $10,000. In court today it was revealed that Frank J. Titus, attorney, had left his residuary estate to Mrs. Plummer because her bouillon helped him to recover from a serious illness in 1923.

He was on his way home with his new car, which was absorbing all his attention, when it struck him that he had forgotten something.

Twice he stopped, counted his parcels, and searched his pocket-book, but finally decided he had everything with him.

When he reached home his daughter ran out, stopped with a surprised look on her face, and cried: "Why father, where's mother?"

Shoe Production In Canada

Here's a little bit of figuring which well exemplifies some of the troubles which are besetting the economic world at the present time, particularly applicable to Canada, and incidentally the part played by modern machinery. Shoe factories in Canada produced in the first seven months of 1932 a total of 10,509,069 pairs, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. The total population of Canada at the 1931 census was 10,374,156, which would allow an excess of 134,873 pairs of shoes after having shod every man, woman and child in the whole Dominion. This figure is an increase of 73,270 pairs of shoes over the production during the same

Aged Footprint In The Capital Of A Dinosaur

TRACE OF EARLY DAYS IS USED AS A BIRD BATH BESIDE NATIONAL MUSEUM

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—(By the Canadian Press)—The discovery by Robinson Crusoe of footprints on the beach of his island home filled him with consternation, and doubtless many a weary bachelor enjoying a solitary stroll along the sea shore has veered off amongst the sand dunes at the sight of the imprint of a high heeled shoe in his path. There are the carefully protected footprints at the scene of a crime, and the regularly spaced stones that Indians accredit to their legendary heroes. Muskwa, the bear, has left his footprints to name a lake in Western Ontario, and there are also the footprints that hunters follow so carefully through the woods at this time of year, but there is in Ottawa an ancient footprint that all visitors to the city may see in replica on the grounds of the Victoria Memorial museum.

Long before the Rocky Mountains rose above the plains a dinosaur ambled along the shores of a shallow western lake. Deep into the mire sank his foot and after he had gone by the depression remained. Centuries passed with their changes, but there stayed the footprint until it was removed and made the long journey from Peace River to the capital city. Apart from being a curiosity it would seem difficult to find a use for a dinosaur footprint, but this one, two feet six inches long and five or six inches deep has been utilized by some genius at the museum. Cast in cement this replica now stands in the museum grounds, not as a curiosity but as a bird bath in which the birds of the Capital may enjoy a morning dip.

A review of the work of the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1932, shows that a total of 89,700 certificates of registration were issued for live stock. This is made up of cattle, 33,286; horses, 1,734; sheep, 3,330 swine, 10,139; foxes, 21,895; dogs, 7,380; poultry, 1,811; and goats, 123.
