

MAXIMS OF A MERE MAN
To blaspheme is a hateful form of cleverness.

THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

The People's Paper Read by Everybody
Covers Prince Edward Island Like the Dew

MAXIMS OF A MERE MAN
Character is simply habit long continued.

Charlottetown Guardian, Founded 1887. Charlottetown Guardian, Two Cents. CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA, MONDAY, AUGUST 20, 1945 10 PAGES Mail, $1.00; other Provinces & U.S.A., $5.00. Subscription Delivered, $5.00.

JAP SURRENDER ENVOYS IN MANILA

Gen. Chiang Is Told He Must Act Immediately

Communist Leader Says 260 Million Chinese "Dissatisfied" With Chiang Regime.

CHUNGKING, Aug. 19 (AP)—Communist Commander Gen. Teh told Gen. Chiang Kai-shek today he must act immediately to avert the "grave threat" of civil war between Communist Government forces in China and the Japanese.

GEN. CHIANG KAI-SHEK

Who faces internal troubles in war-weary China despite end of hostilities with Japanese.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Chiang's regime, coincided with reports reaching Chungking that 20,000 to 30,000 Communist guerrillas were converging on Yangtze River port of Wuhan.

Ch'town Soldier To Receive Highest U. S. Army Award

(By The Canadian Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—The largest mass award of Congressional Medals of Honor will be made by President Truman next Thursday to 27 army officers and men.

Among the group will be Sgt. Charles A. MacGillivray, formerly of Charlottetown, P. E. I. The citation accompanying a award of the United States' highest decoration to Sgt. MacGillivray will be released when the medal is presented.

(Sgt. MacGillivray is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald MacGillivray, 23 Spring St., Charlottetown, and is one of a family of nine boys and girls living.)

(Sgt. MacGillivray left Charlottetown in 1936 at the age of 17 to live with his uncle at Wollastou, Mass. He enlisted in the American Army shortly after the entry of the United States into the war. He was overseas for about six months in 1944 and in October returned to his home in Charlottetown on leave. He returned overseas at the end of his leave and was badly wounded in Germany on New Year's day. In this action he lost his left arm at the shoulder.

He was placed in hospital at Washington in a very critical condition but by June 1945 was discharged from hospital in good health. He returned to Charlottetown last July and has been here with his parents since then.

(Sgt. MacGillivray left Saturday for Washington, having been summoned by the President of the United States to be presented with the award of the Congressional Medal of Honor at the White House. Accompanying him were three of his sisters.

(Roland MacGillivray, a brother of Sgt. MacGillivray is in the R.C. N.V.R.)

Jap Resistance Ends In Most Of Manchuria

Red Jap Nemesis

LONDON, Aug. 19 (CP)—Japanese troops gave up Manchuria and are surrendering in increasing numbers, the Soviet communists said tonight.

The communique said more than 97,800 Japanese were herded into Russian prisoner of war camps today. Previously the Soviets had announced some 25,000 enemy troops had given up in Manchuria.

Expect Battle In Repeal Of British Trade Union Act

(By ROSS MUNRO) LONDON, Aug. 19 (CP)—One of the most bitter battles in the current parliamentary session looms over the Labor Government's proposal to repeal the 1927 Trade Union Act which in effect makes a general strike illegal in Britain.

The appeal bill will stir old animosities and feuds between Labor and Conservatives, for the underlying principle involves definition of proper limits for activities and methods of trade unions and the area of their autonomy in the state.

Controversy over this measure, going back nearly 20 years, developed from the general strike of 1926 called by the Trade Union Congress. For nine days mining, transport and other essential industries and services were at a standstill.

The Trade Union Act in 1927 was the British Government's reply. By its first section it made illegal any "sympathetic strike." This led to the effect of making any general strike unlawful. It compelled unions of civil servants to disassociate themselves from the Trade Union Congress.

Most serious for Labor Party funds, the Act ruled that the political which unions took from their members unless they specifically claimed exemption, termed "contracting out," henceforth was to be taken only from those who specifically assented by "contracting in."

When the Act was passed the late Ramsay MacDonald said "it breathes hate and spitefulness in every clause." When the Labor Government of 1929 assumed office it pledged to repeal the act.

Now round three of the battle of the Trade Union Act is under way. The Trade Union Movement has always resented the measure. During the war a great effort was made by the Trades Union Congress to alter it—not to repeal it, however. The T.U.C. asked that the provision relating to affiliation of civil service unions to T.C.U. be relaxed, but Winston Churchill declined the offer, grounds being that it would imperil the unity of the Union Government.

Two Weathermen Killed In Blast

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP)—Two men were killed and two others were injured slightly Saturday by an explosion of unknown origin in the power house of the Transport Department's radio-meteorological station at Dore Lake, Que., 260 miles north of Quebec City, it was announced here tonight.

Discuss Details With MacArthur Aides

By RUSSELL BRINES

MANILA, Aug. 20 (Monday) (AP)—Japan's four surrender envoys, questioned for more than five hours last night and this morning by Gen. MacArthur's top aides, were summoned back to the conference table at 9:30 a.m. today (8:30 p.m. Sunday E.D.T.) still without having seen the Supreme Allied Commander of their defeated Empire.

The surrender delegates, required to check their Sumurai swords at the door, were interrogated at length during the first meeting concerning facilities for the triumphant Allied entry into Japan.

(A report that the Russian delegates to the surrender conference would arrive in Manila Monday night was broadcast by the American Broadcasting Co., which said this indicated the meetings would continue at least beyond that time, so that they could attend.)

3rd Anniversary Of Dieppe Raid

DIEPPE, France, Aug. 19 (CP)—On this third anniversary of the Dieppe raid more than 400 Canadians came back to this Canadian town to commemorate in a series of ceremonies the grim operation and remember the gallant fighting men of the 2nd Canadian Division who gave their lives in that nine-hour battle.

Calms and plaques were unveiled on the main beach, at Veils and at Petit Appelle, as well as at the Canadian cemetery on the green slopes south of Dieppe where the men of the raiding force are buried.

Officials of the French town participated in all the ceremonies, climaxed by a parade through the downtown streets by the Canadian army, along with a detachment of British troops and American soldiers.

From Holland the 2nd Canadian Division sent 150 men and from England came a similar number. About 50 officers and men were veterans of the operation on Aug. 19, 1942. Many of these were officers of war until they were liberated last spring and were returning for the first time to the scene of their bloody fight.

Corregidor Hero Is Safe And Well

CHUNGKING, Aug. 19 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, hero of Corregidor, is now safe and well, in a prisoner of war camp in Manchuria Aug. 16, and will arrive in Chungking in a day or two, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, United States commander in China, announced today.

Animal Troupe In Accident Saturday

A regrettable accident to one of the travelling troupes that performed here at Old Home Week happened early Saturday morning in the vicinity of Fortuna Bridge. The Kirk-Adams Animal Troupe with Kirk-Adams driving, left the Exhibition Grounds at 12 o'clock midnight Friday and instead of taking the road to Borden, drove the East-end highway. In some manner, the truck got out of control and plunged into the ditch near Fortuna. The big super-structure of the truck was practically demolished and it will be necessary to construct a new "body."

Very Rev. A. Macdonald Is Transferred

Word was received on Saturday night of the transfer to Toronto of Very Rev. Archibald Macdonald, rector of the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer in this City.

Father Macdonald came to Holy Redeemer parish 1 1/2 years ago and during his rectorship, much indeed has been accomplished in this comparatively young parish. While in this City, he made a host of friends among all people, who will regret deeply his departure.

During his 28 years in the priesthood, Very Rev. Father Macdonald has preached missions in all parts of the Dominion. For six years, he was Rector of the Redeemer parish in Edmonton. He also served as Rector in London, Ontario.

The nature of his new appointment has not been disclosed as yet. His numerous friends will wish every blessing in his new charge. It is expected that a successor to Father Macdonald will be named some time in the latter part of the week. In the meantime Rev. Fr. Baines will be acting Rector.

Last evening following Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, an address was read on behalf of the parishioners of Holy Redeemer by Mr. Leonard Mac.

Count Bernadotte Ill

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 19 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, through whom Heinrich Himmler sought to arrange a surrender meeting last April, was killed today in a plane crash. A zodiac hemorrhage which required a blood transfusion. His condition today was described as satisfactory.

When a Radio Announcer Feels Old Age Creeping on Him, He Should Get His Voice Lifted!

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, Toronto, Aug. 19 (CP)—Minimum and maximum temperatures: Vancouver 49, 68; Edmonton 46, 65; Regina 53; Winnipeg 68, 91; Toronto 60, 81; Ottawa 59, 80; St. John 44, 82; Charlottetown 58, 78; Sydney 56, 78; Yarmouth 57, 72.

FORECASTS Lower St. Lawrence: Moderate southeast to southwest winds, partly cloudy and warm.

Lake St. John: Fresh south and southwest winds, partly cloudy and warm with scattered showers.

Coal Shortage Acute In Europe

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Europe, her mills and plants idle and her people hungry, needs 500,000,000 tons of coal to relieve a critical shortage threatening to delay the continent's economic revival for at least two years, Allied economic experts in the European coal organization estimated tonight.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

Coming Events

- "Show" — Morel Tuesday.
- "Pie Social and Dance, St. Patrick's Church tonight, 8-20-11.
- "Fort Augustus Play at St. Theresa Hall Tuesday night, 8-20-11.
- "Hospital Dance in McLean's Restaurant, Soudry, Wednesday, 8-12-Tue-11.
- "Car Number Books now on sale throughout the Province. Get yours now, 8-10-11.
- "Come to the Barn Dance at John MacAvoy's, Grand Tracadie, Monday, Aug. 20, 8-20-11.
- "St. Teresa's Play at Rollo Bay Monday, Aug. 20th, 8-18-21.
- "Dance, Kelly's Cross School, Monday, August 20 Lunch served, 8-18-21.
- "Dance in Webster's Corner School Monday, August 20th. Good music, 8-17-20-21.
- "Notice—Sales solicited, moderate charges, John C. MacPhee, Auctioneer, Long Creek, 8-17-20-21-31.
- "C. W. L. Dance, Vernon River Hall Wednesday, August 22nd, Milverton, 8-18-20-21.
- "Unloading car old Sydney Brown Coal at Milton today and Monday, Vernon Gillespie, 8-18-21.
- "Postponed Dance, Donagh Road, Wednesday, August 22nd, Special music, Refreshments, 8-20-11.
- "Loading hogs every Tuesday for Davis & Fraser Ltd., Phone collect for trucking service, R. N. Dawson, Crapaud, 4-14-Sat.-Mon.-11.
- "Don't miss the United Church in York Hall, Wednesday, Aug. 22, beginning at 4 P. M., 8-18-21.
- "Reserve Wednesday, August 22 Chicken Supper at St. John's Presbyterian Church, Belfast. Supper served from 4 to 7, 8-20-11.
- "Come to the Chicken Supper, the cream, dance, fish pond and other amusements in Tracadie Hall, Wednesday, August 22nd, Supper served from 5 P. M., 8-18-21.
- "Unloading Oats and Ground Oat Meal today and Monday, Lorne Coles, Vernon Gillespie, 8-18-21.
- "Collecting hogs every Thursday for Davis & Fraser Ltd., Phone collect for trucking service to N. A. MacAvoy, Fredericton, D. L. MacAvoy, Fredericton, 8-2-11.

Coal Shortage Acute In Europe

LONDON, Aug. 19 (AP)—Europe, her mills and plants idle and her people hungry, needs 500,000,000 tons of coal to relieve a critical shortage threatening to delay the continent's economic revival for at least two years, Allied economic experts in the European coal organization estimated tonight.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.

It has made recommendations to put Europe's coal mines back into production, and to allocate shipments to countries needing them most. Obtaining transport and communications for distributing coal is as great a problem as restoring mine production.

The coal problem in Europe will be critical for the next two years, one expert said.

The European coal organization, composed of representatives from the United States, United Kingdom, The Netherlands, France, Norway, Denmark, Turkey, Belgium, Greece, and Luxembourg, and observers from Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, has been sitting in London for two months.