How To Enter

Each of the above firms have published an advertisement in today's Guardian. These advertisements appear in various parts of this paper and may be easily identified by the diamond border.

The Contest Editor will also publish in this section each Friday, an article featuring one or more of these items.

It will be noticed that an extra or surplus word has been purposely inserted in some of the "DIAMOND TREASURE" advertisements and Feature Article. These words, when arranged in their proper order, make up a slogan or trade phrase used by, or appropriate to, one of the above advertisers.

Having carefully read each "DIAMOND TREASURE" advertisement in this paper, and Feature Article in this section, contestants must write the name of the advertiser in whose announcement or Feature Article a word was inserted, along with the extra or surplus word in each individual one. Also arrange the words to form the slogan or trade phrase and state the advertiser to whom you think the slogan belongs.

Then attach to your solution a receipt or counter slip from any one of the business concerns sponsoring this Contest, indicating that business had been transacted with at least one of the firms listed above, within the past two weeks.

Each week six replies will be drawn from all received and six awards will be given in the order of their drawing:

FEATURE ARTICLES

Exceptional Display of Beautiful Gift Watches

Chester A. Campbell has the finest array of Gift wrist watches the writer has ever seen in this city, on display in the store at 157 Queen Street.

Mr. Campbell says that these watches were not stocked by him for the purpose of decorating his window and show cases but were specially ordered to be sold to the Christmas trade. He says he secured them for resale and that he is going to sell them—price will be no obstacle to his customers this season, as he guarantees he can sell at prices which will meet and beat all competition.

Asked why, how, and wherefor regarding the low prices on high grade watches, Mr. Campbell replied, "Live, and let live, is my motto," The reduction in price is the result of purchasing in large quantity orders.

Besides these, you will also see here a first class line of pocket watches, rings, diamonds, pen and pencil sets, rosaries, etc., all at very reasonable cost and of the best quality.

An added feature at this store is that with each purchase you not only receive an entry slip for the diamond Treasure Contest, but also a coupon with each dollar purchase affording you a chance in a special drawing contest for a twenty dollar prize.

Christmas shoppers will do well to call at this up-to-date jeweler's and see for themselves the many splendid gift articles on display.

"Canada No. 1" shall include only potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are reasonably mature and firm, free from freezing injury, hollow heads, sprein, dumbells, specimens from which the knobs have been removed, soft rot, and free from damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter, sunburn, abnormal growth, growth cracks, cuts, scab, blight, dry rot or other disease, insects, mechanical or other means. In this grade the diameter of the potatoes shall be not less than 2 inches and not less than 75 per cent by weight of the potatoes in any lot shall be 2 1-4 inches or larger in diameter. In the case of long shaped varieties the minimum diameter shall be 1 3-4 inches for specimens of not less than 3 1-2 inches in length.

"Canada No. 2" shall include only potatoes of similar varietal characteristics which are reasonably mature and firm, free from freezing injury, sprein, dumbells, specimens from which the knobs have been removed, soft rot, and free from damage caused by dirt or other foreign matter; free from serious damage caused by sunburn, abnormal growth, growth cracks, cuts, scab and blight, dry rot or other disease, insects, mechanical or other means. In this grade the diamater of the potatoes shall be not less than 1 3-4 inches and lot less than 75 per cent by weight of the potatoes in any lot shall be 2 inches or larger in diameter. Potatoes of this grade grown in Ontario or the provinces east thereof shall not be shipped out of Canada.

"Canada No. 1 Small" (for shipment out of Canada) shall include only potatoes meeting the requirements of Canada No. 1 Grade except that in this grade the diameter of the potatoes shall be not less than 1 1-2 inches or more than 2 1-4 inches.

Attention is again directed to the change in Canada No. 1 Grade, namely, that not more than 25 per cent by weight in any lot or package shall range from 2 to 2 1-4 inches in diameter. The reference to long shaped varieties applies to varieties such as the McIntyre (blue) potatoes. Also note that Canada No. 1 Small grade is similar to Canada No. 1 except for size.

The Act also requires to identify the packer—"Potatoes packed by any person or persons other than the person shown as the packer, shipper or dealer, a number or other mark on each package identifying the packer thereof."

By strictly adhering to this, unnecessary trouble can be avoided. The inspectors have been instructed to refuse certification on all lots not properly tagged, marked with the packers name, number, or other mark of identification.

MRS. CAROLINE AMELIA FARRAR

There passed peacefully away at Hampton, P. E. I. on Nov. 23, 1937 Caroline Amelia Inman, widow of the late Daniel Farrar at the advanced age of ninety-one years.

Mrs. Farrar with her husband and family resided for many years in Boston, Mass. where the latter carried on an extensive carriage-building and later automobile repairing industry. After the death of her husband and sons she returned to her native province and made her home with her niece Mrs. Warren Inman by whom she was tenderly cared for until the end.

She was a woman of a quiet retiring disposition and always had a kind word and cheerful smile for everyone and was never heard to murmur or complain amid the sorrows that came to her through life, but looked forward to the dawning of a better day, when the shadows had departed and the mists had rolled away.

She was predeceased by her husband and four sons, Wm. H. Mordecai; George and Fred, and is survived by one brother John T. Inman on the old homestead at Hampton. Three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Harrington, Nine Mile Creek, Mrs. Mary Inman and Mrs. Grace Stordy, Victoria, P. E. I. also two grandsons and one great grand daughter in Boston, Mass. besides a large number of nephews and nieces, survive.

She was active up to within nine months of her death, when she was stricken with a heart attack, later followed by a paralytic stroke from which she failed to rally. During her illness she was frequently visited by her pastor Rev. D. J. Morrison who conducted her funeral service on Thursday, Nov. 25th and spoke fittingly and feelingly from the last verse of the 23d psalm; "And I Will Dwell in the House of the Lord Forever." The hymns sung were, Psalm, 23, All the Way My Saviour Leads Me, Peace Perfect Peace and Shall we gather at the River, led by the choir of the Hampton United Church.

The pall-bearers were Messrs Russel Ferguson, Boyd McQuarrie, A. D. Inman, G. Victor Ferguson, Fred Ince and William Farrow. Interment was in the beautiful St. John's (Anglican) cemetry, Crapaud, under the direction of Dawson and Son.

Wife Of Noted Bridge Expert Seeks Divorce

NEW YORK, Dec. 1— (AP)— The 14-year-old bridge romance of Ely Culbertson and his wife, Josephine, has ended, Culbertson said tonight.

Mrs. Culbertson, the noted bridge expert said in a statement through their attorneys, will seek a divorce decree in Reno, Nev.

"I have lost a grand slam doubled," Culbertson commented.

They have two children, Joyce, 10, and Bruce, nine.

"Mrs. Culbertson," the statement said, "will seek a divorce on grounds of mental cruelty, due to Mr. Culbertson's 'ultra-temperamental moods' and mostly because he insists on publishing a 'brutally frank' story of his life to 'teach my children not to do things'.

"Ely is a very good father and loyal partner," it quoted Mrs. Culbertson. "He will remain my friend and I will continue to work with him, but his temperamental moods make it impossible for me to live with him. Ely still is my favorite partner."

"This is not a case of 'another woman' or 'another man'," Culbertson was quoted. "Jo always has been my grand romance in life and always will be. Unfortunately I am a married man with bachelor instincts. Complete solitude often is my most precious and necessary requirement.

"In those moments I am a solitary animal and if disturbed I become unbearable. Any woman who marries a really unsocial man of my type, with his solitary yearnings and attacks of abstract meditation, will sooner or later find her marriage on the rocks."

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that since the organization meeting in February, the sum of $67.61 had been raised and that there was on hand a balance of $22.45.

The same officers were re-elected for another year. It was decided to donate $5.00 to the P. E. I. Hospital.

Holiday Traffic Shows Increase

MONTREAL, Dec. 1—The Canadian Telegraphs companies already report the filing of an unprecedented volum of holiday greeting traffic. They attribute the early filing of this traffic to the many business houses who have decided to take advantage of the prevailing low rates for Christmas and New Year's greeting messages, which were inaugurated last year and are again in effect this season to points overseas and between offices in Canada and to points in the United States

Arrangements have been completed to ensure delivery of the greeting messages, being made by uniformed messenger prior to or on Christmas day at the option of the sender. Telegraph companies in both Canada and the United States have adopted special telegraph blanks and envelopes of colorful design.

As a result of the increasing popularity of the holiday greeting Telegram the ender of which may telephone his telegram from the quiet and comfort of his residence, the Canadian Telegraph companies have already arranged to materially increase their telephone staffs in order to assure the Canadian public prompt attention when telephoning their holiday greeting telegrams from their residence or office.

PLACE LAWRENCE IN HIGH COMPANY

LONDON, Dec. 1—A presentation copy of Lawrence's "Seven Pillars of Wisdom," flanked on either side by the last books read by George V and Albert, the Prince Consort of Queen Victoria are given a position of honor in the Royal Library, Windsor Castle.

King George's book, a novel by a well-known author, bears an inscription by Queen Mary on the fly leaf, but neither the inscription nor the book's title nor author have been made public. The Prince Consort's book is one of Scot's Waverley novels.

By special permission of the King a party of friends of the National Libraries was shown over the library by O. F. Morshead, the King's librarian. He showed them what he described as the most thrilling letter ever written—Napoleon's letter of submission to George IV, which he wrote from Rochefort, dated July 13, 1815.

The letter has been mounted together with two drawings of the house in which he was exiled in St. Helena, a lock of his hair, and the actual star of the Legion of Honor which he wore at St. Helena.

Nearby there is the shirt which King Charles I wore at his execution, his first folio copy of Shakespeare and what was described as the most valuable book in the world—the King's copy of Mainz Psalter, dated 1457.

AIR FORCE MEN TO TOUGHEN-UP

LONDON, Dec. 1 — Royal Air Force has just announced a "toughening" course. One hundred bomber pilots are, according to The Daily Express air reporter, to be attached as civilians to Imperial Airways and British Airways. They will be taught to find their way about Europe in all weathers.

The newspaper says Air Force ideas are changing. Bombing range five years ago was 500 miles. Now it is 3,000 miles. Pilots must fly to time through fog and learn tricks of flying by radio.

In the past air force pilots have been kept grounded in weather through which the civilian pilots of the big air companies are forced to fly.
