COLUMBINES FOR EVERY GARDEN

It has often been suggested that the columbine might well be selected as the American flower because it grows in every state as a native. Whether this is strictly true or not, some species or variety of this handsome hardy perennial is found in all the Northern and Western states and even extends into Mexico. However, it is also a native of Europe and Asia, which makes it inappropriate as a strictly national flower. Because of its grace and beauty both of flower and foliage it deserves a place in every garden. It is an obliging plant, and while many species are naturally shade loving, they grow equally well in full sun. Its one dislike is too dry quarters although it manages to survive much drought. It is one of the few plants that shows red, blue and yellow colorings with touches of white and shades. The long-spurred hybrids, of which there are numerous strains, are the favorites, having displaced the old-fashioned shortvarieties with their great range of coloring are derived from the blue and white Rocky Mountain columbine, the golden columbine of California and a long-spurred red and yellow type from Mexico to a great extent. They are very easily raised from seed and are much used in color schemes, particularly with blues when the color of the iris is other matched with columbines used in a harmony or pleasing contrast, the seed is slow to germinate but certain. It requires from three weeks to a month to come up. It should be sown about a quarter of an inch deep and the soil should be firmly packed after the seed. This is a permanent plant and is a permanent feature of the garden. It is a hardy dwarf plant from Europe for the rock garden, such as the alpine columbine, Aquilegia vulgaris, a difficult seed to grow, but it has a counterpart in Aquilegia Heisteria that is easy to grow and of the same coloring. The dwarf Japanese Aquilegia flabellifera placed in a handsome dwarf white for the rockery. These long-spurred spurred type. These long-spurred Now columbine seed now for a supply for next year. The Mrs. E. C. B. strain is one of the very fine types on the market. The columbine does not come true from seed, so plants must be selected when it is in bloom for color schemes. The Rose Queen strain is a beautiful series of pink columbines.

The Pioneers then leading the Independents by one lone tally, the only one of the evening secured in the first half of the second innings. Monday night's game was a good surprise to the fans and last night proved that Summerside has two new real players in Ratterson and Perry of the Pioneers. Noonan pitched great ball for the four stanzas and Monkley earned the admiration of the fans by pitching though under medical treatment. The line up was Pioneers: Frank Daley catcher; Monkley pitcher; Durant 1st base; Jamieson second; McInnis 3rd base; Perry S. S.; Noonan pitcher; Peters first; J. Schurman second; Art Johnston 3rd; Reid, Johnston S. S.; Arsenault Left; Stewart centre; Lyle right field.

McINNIS-DOWLING WEDDING —A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Saint Dunstan's Cathedral on Wednesday morning, June 6th, by Rev. Father Walsh, when Miss Elizabeth A. McInnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McInnis was united in marriage to Mr. Frederick P. Dowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dowling. The bride was attired in a navy blue suit with hat to match and fox fur. She was attended by Miss May Dowling, sister of the groom, who also wore a blue suit with hat to match. The groom was supported by Mr. William McInnis brother of the bride. After the ceremony the bride and groom left for a honeymoon trip through the Maritime Provinces followed by the best wishes of their many friends. Many beautiful and valuable wedding presents were received, testifying to the popularity of the young couple. While in Bathurst Mr. and Mrs. Dowling were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Kinsman, cousin of the bride, where a reception was held in their honor and they received many handsome presents. The bride before her marriage was tendered a shower at the home of Mrs. John A. Cronin, Dorchester street, where over fifty invited guests spent a pleasant evening. The Guardian joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Dowling many happy years of wedded life.

the jail-break was wounded and captured with Cleaver late yesterday, but the other three members of the gang remain at large. The conclusion of the man hunt, finished all the action of a most exciting thriller. The scene was a 40-acre prairie tract that resembled a war torn battlefield after the 50 minutes of fighting brought the pair under submission. At one side of the field stood the spectators, estimated at 600 persons, many of whom climbed to the tops of their automobiles to obtain a better view of the hostilities. No one was injured.

ALBERTON NOTES

Her friends are glad to see Miss Blanche Champlon about again after her recent illness.

Rev. T. Campbell, who has spent the past five months visiting Rome and other places of interest in Europe, arrived home on the 7th. His friends are glad to welcome him back and hope that in the near future they may have an opportunity of listening to an account of his trip from the public platform.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Matheson of O'Leary were in town on Wednesday evening.

Miss Mill and Miss Zinec, Public Health nurses, are in town.

On Friday, June 8th, about sixty young people gathered in the United Church Hall for a social evening. The programme was under the capable management of Miss Helen Oulton, Miss Joyce McArthur and Mr. Elmer Ashley, and consisted of games and contests, also musical numbers by Misses Mildred and Jessie Lawson and Ethel Oulton. After refreshments were served all joined in a sing-song, "Good night Ladies", brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

A number of people are suffering from flu this week. Among the victims are Mrs. Ray Barbour, Miss Cahill, Dr. Keir and Messrs. E. O. Barbour, Hilton Barbour and Eugene Hodgson.

A double tennis court is being made on the United Church grounds and a tennis club is to be formed. There has been no court in the town for several years and the young people are looking forward to the enjoyment of many games this summer.

Miss Florence Murray, M. D. Missionary to Korea, spoke in the United Church on Wednesday evening. Her subject was "What Christianity Has Done for Korea." Dr. Murray is a most interesting speaker and held her audience spellbound as she told of the great work our missionaries are doing for the people of Korea. She also spoke of the immediate necessity of a new school building in Ham Heung. It is expected that this building will be erected during the coming summer. Dr. Murray is well known on Prince Edward Island, having spent ten years of her life here, and her many friends will wish her God-speed as she returns to her work in August.
