After several short speeches from the floor of the meeting George Hart as discussion leader summed up and elaborated upon the ideas advanced. Rev. G. C. Webster emphasized the church's role and closed the meeting with benediction. During the service Miss Lorena Sempel sang as a solo, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

FORMER ISLANDER NOTES PROGRESS—The great contrast in modern passenger equipment as compared with the early days of railroading was commented upon by one of Moncton's oldest citizens, Mr. Paul Lea, who is ninety-one years of age, when the first of the new air-conditioned day coaches arrived here yesterday as part of the consist of the eastbound Ocean Limited of the Canadian National Railways operating between Montreal and Halifax. The aged citizen, who was born at Tryon, P. E. I., was on board at the station when the new Limited rolled in from Montreal and inspected the new day coach. This latest product of Canadian National engineers and architects drew from him a comparison between the train in which he made his first trip back in the "Strides" from Shediac, N. B., en route to San Francisco. The passenger coaches, he stated, were plummy wooden affairs compared with this modern coach which is all steel and it was heated with a wood stove. The coach rode on four-wheeled trucks and air-conditioning was non-existent except such as was provided by opening the windows and the ventilators in the roof of the car. Montreal Times.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service the Rev. H. L. Denton's sermon was a thoughtful consideration of "The Spiritual significance of the twenty-third Psalm." Making mention of the fact that this beautiful passage is often with considerable reason interpreted in terms of the material reference was made to John Freeman's "Life on the uplands" and to George Adam Smith's interpretation. The speaker considered that the Psalm fell into three parts, the first and last being "the golden setting that enclosed an incomparable jewel." In the bright rays of that jewel might be discerned the Shepherd's gifts of Rest, Refreshment, Restoration, Courage, Confidence, Comfort, Protection, Purification, Purity. The anthem of the morning was "How Amiable are Thy Dwellings" and Miss Vera H. M. Campbell Mus. Bac., sang "The Lord's My Shepherd."

The sixth of that impressive and interesting series of addresses on "Seven Simple Gifts" was delivered at the evening service. Mr. Denton on this occasion discussed "Envy." The evening anthem was "Consider and Hear me O Lord" with Miss Pearl Burns taking the contralto solo, Miss Burns and Mr. Quigley taking the duet.

At this service the ordinance of the Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed.

ST. DUNSTAN'S BASILICA

Yesterday, Holy Name Sunday, the Holy Name Mass at St. Dunstan's Basilica was celebrated by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan who also preached.

Rev. Father Dougan said the 9.30 Mass and preached then and at the solemn High Mass at 11 o'clock. Rev. Father George McDonald from St. Dunstan's College was the celebrant of the High Mass assisted by Rev. Father O'Hanley as deacon and Rev. Father McCormack as sub-deacon.

Last evening at 7 o'clock Holy Hour was conducted by Rev. Dr. McMahon.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

Preaching in St. James Church yesterday forenoon from Psalm XLVI, "God is our refuge and our strength," Rev. R. Moorhead and D. J. D. Esplan seemed to have been written in a time of national calamity but there was no fear in it; every word of it was confidently expressive of the Jewish people's unshakable trust in God's help, and that out of all the evil that was happening, He would surely bring good to His people. We all remember how often and how fervently this Psalm was sung during the Great War, not only by the people at home but by the soldiers in the trenches.

"A sure stronghold our God is He—A timely shield and weapon—Our help, our help, and our strength—From every ill can happen—And were the world with devils filled—All eager to devour us—Our souls to fear shall little yield—They cannot overpower us."

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. They were all men, we fear though the earth be removed; though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof."

It is that not just as appropriate a description of world affairs, asked the preacher, as we find them today, as it was of the Jewish situation which the Psalm describes. The Bible is just as modern as the daily newspaper, if we have only the perception to see it. And the faith that saved the Jews in their necessities is just as valid and adequate to save us in our modern needs. The world is in its present mess because we are content to trust in our own resources for fighting wrongs, instead of handing over the reins to God. But we will yet come to see that. We will be driven to it before all is over.

"There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacle of the Most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved; God shall help her, and that right early." The moral of that lively picture is surely obvious. The nation that has God as its true and real centre is a happy and well-off nation—that is not mere theology; it is authenticated history, and we see the converse of that truth operating in the case of certain nations today. The man or woman who has God in the heart has a river flowing there that makes the heart a stronghold against such enemies and ills of life as may come up against it. "Come behold the works of the Lord, who desolates He hath made in the earth. He maketh war to cease unto the end of the earth; He breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder. He burneth the chariot, he burneth the bow in the fire. Whenever we read our newspapers, whenever we read history, we should do so with this verse sounding in our ears. Today most ministers are half-afraid to tell their people that God is at the bottom of all the hard things that come upon men. That He works desolations among men. The fact is we misunderstand God. Preachers preach and the people believe today that God is love to the exclusion of every other attribute He possesses. That is not true; that is only a feeble effort to try and explain things away. God is love. But love has to be angry sometimes—love has to punish sometimes. The Jews were braver and more honest about

Supervision Of City Schools Is Decided

Four additional teachers would be appointed, one for each of the city's four schools, who would relieve the principal or some other teacher who would take the place of the principal, in order that the latter might be free to carry out the duties of supervisor. It was decided at a special meeting of the Charlottetown School Board.

The meeting was of the opinion the new appointees should be qualified to teach special subjects, including Domestic science and handicrafts. Messrs. Reuben MacDonald, chairman, H. F. MacPhee, K. C. J. Wilfred Boulter, Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan were appointed a committee to confer with Hon. Mark R. McGuigan, Minister of Education, to discuss the matter.

The committee will also request permission to have the domestic science equipment in Prince of Wales College made available for the girls of city schools.

Besides the principals of the four city schools, H. H. Shaw, Chief Superintendent of Education, also attended the special meeting.

Week's Review Of Activities At Y. M. C. A.

On Monday evening the membership committee under the chairmanship of Mr. George Craig sponsored a new-members' supper event on which occasion a group of young men who have recently joined the Y.M.C.A. were officially welcomed by members of the membership committee representing the Association. After introductory remarks and words of welcome by the chairman, Dr. J. A. Clark and the general secretary, each outlined to the new members the purposes of the Association and the opportunities for Christian fellowship which membership in the Y.M.C.A. affords.

A large attendance of directors of the Association featured the regular monthly Board meeting held in the Association Board Room on Monday evening. Mr. E. L. Miles, chairman of the boys' work committee, gave a detailed report of conditions under which the boys' work is being carried on and led a discussion on suggested changes in respect to present policy. It was revealed in the course of the discussion that there is a growing demand for the facilities afforded by the Association on the part of junior and intermediate boys who have not membership affiliations with the Association.

This extension of community service has created problems in the matter of re-ordinating the programme with activities and privileges afforded members of the Association. A special study is being made to determine the future course of the Association in giving the most effective and helpful service on behalf of those, as may be decided, whom the Association is obligated to serve.

Preparations are now underway for the special Christmas holiday programme. A detailed announcement will go forward next week to all members of the various boys' sections, and a large participation in the holiday activities for this Christmas season is anticipated. During the past week a large class of intermediate girls made up a quantity of the decorations which will be used throughout the main floor of the building. On Friday night there was a particularly large attendance for the various programme features, and at the close of the basketball games, Y.M.C.A. members of the various club-net in the Social Room for a short period and were served hot coffee and doughnuts. About 20 members participated in this social feature which was very much enjoyed by all present.

The manual training classes, under the direction of Mr. J. L. Curran, still continue to attract additional members, and the membership capacity of the classes has been practically reached. On Friday and Saturday evening classes were well attended and a very keen interest is being manifested in this particular hobbycraft on the part of all the boys enrolled for this activity.

The intermediate girls' class, under the direction of Miss Lella C. Worthy, have arranged for a specially reserved period at the Forum on Wednesday, the 15th inst., from four to five-thirty p.m. when the girls will have a period of skating. The arrangements and carrying through of this programme are being directed by Miss Lella C. Worthy and the members of her

Police Investigate Theft Of Trousers

City police last night were investigating the theft of a pair of trousers yesterday from the residence of Mr. Thomas Campbell, Richmond Street, contained some cash, notes and keys.

Mr. Campbell was awakened at an early hour Saturday morning by some one moving around in his bedroom. Shouting, "who's there?" and turning on an electric light a glimpse of a man, police said, taking his trousers off a hook near the bedroom door.

He arose quickly, but as he reached the head of the stairs the intruder was at the bottom and made his exit through the front door. Police investigation disclosed the man gained entrance to the house through a cellar window. After walking through the cellar to a hatch which admitted him to the kitchen, he proceeded through a pantry to the dining and sitting rooms to the front hall where he ascended the stairs to Mr. Campbell's room.

A fairly good description of the burglar was given by Mr. Campbell, police said.

STRAIN ON YOUR EYES

Eyes used for close work—particularly if lighting is not correct—are subject to a greater than normal strain. This brings the patient discomfort if there is present any appreciable refractive error and shows itself in headaches, sore eyes, etc. A person has no way of knowing the degree of strain on the eyes until they are examined.
