NINE-POWER PARLEY TO CONDEMN JAPAN SEVEN KILLED, 14 INJURED IN PALESTINE

Draft Declaration Arraigning Japan As Treaty Breaker Italian Envoy Voices Lone Protest As Powers Prepare To Indict Japan For Invasion Of China.

BY GEORGE HAMBLETON BRUSSELS, Nov. 14—(C.P. Cable)—Tomorrow afternoon the nine-power pact conference will formally adopt a declaration arraigning Japan as a treaty breaker in the Far East. All day Saturday until well into the evening the conference mulled over a draft of the declaration. They approved it clause by clause, leaving only the formal adoption until Monday. Already the conference has sanctioned it both in principle and in detail. Count Luigi Albrovandi-Marescotti, the Italian representative, was the only opponent. Italy, Count Aldrovandi-Marescotti declared, could accept the declaration neither as whole nor in detail. Speaker after speaker supported the declaration, Great Britain, the United States and France particularly, standing by the sanctity of the pledged word in international affairs. A remark by Count Aldrovandi-Marescotti brought intervention to the discussion by Senator Raoul Dandurand, leader of the Canadian delegation. The Italian referred to a sentence in the Japanese reply that declined an invitation to attend the conference in which Japan said she would be glad if the powers "could make their contribution to stability in eastern Asia in conformity with the real situation". Count Aldrovandi-Marescotti suggested that in accordance with this sentence Japan's approach might be made to Japan. Mr. Dandurand with Norman Davis, United States Ambassador-at-Large and Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, opposed the Italian submission. It means reversing the roles," Senator Dandurand said. "We have been asking Japan to contribute by joining in conversations with the conference, or with a small group of delegates. Japan has consistently refused. It is Japan which invaded China with 300,000 troops. We are trying to get Japan to accept an armistice. Now Japan asks us what we suggest. "We can suggest that Japan accept the invitation to negotiate. We shall be glad of any contribution Japan can make to the conference." Did the Italian delegate really believe," asked W. J. Jordan, New Zealand, "that Japan is really desirous of opening conversations with the conference?"

RENEWAL OF TERRORISM IN HOLY LAND Arab "Revolutionary Committee" Urges Revolt Against British Mandate.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 14—Seven persons were killed and 14 injured today in renewed rioting between Arabs and Jews in Palestine. Reports from Safed, near the Sea of Galilee, said bills signed by "The Revolutionary Committee" had been posted calling on Arabs to revolt against the British mandate because the Arabs were "on the eve of freedom." Heavily armed patrols were concentrated in the Jaffa road area of Jerusalem, where the most serious rioting occurred. Detachments of police marched through the streets scattering crowds. A new curfew order was issued. The situation in the city was tense, with few persons daring to venture far from shelter. Plan Demonstration Reports circulated that Arab leaders had set Nov. 18 for some form of rising or demonstration as on that day British military courts are scheduled to begin sitting in a drastic effort to stamp out the recurrent terrorism. Six of those killed today were Arabs. Eight Arabs and six Jews were injured. The rioting began when two Arabs were killed and one Arab and four Jews injured in a clash between labor gangs. Three Arabs were killed and five wounded when a Jerusalem to Jaffa bus was ambushed in the Mahneh Yehudah quarter. Two Jewish girls were wounded by shots from the bus. A bomb thrown in the Rouhana quarter injured three Arabs. A young Jew was badly hurt when stoned by Arabs. Buses carrying students and teachers to the Hebrew University were stoned, but there was no casualties.

Second Storm Sweeps Straits, Ship Unreported

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 14—Another fierce storm swept Cabot Strait today—a fortnight after the coal-carrier Calgaidoc steamed out of Sydney, N. S., on a 60-hour voyage to Wabana, Bell Island. The 1,664-ton vessel has not been reported since. The former Great Lakes boat, manned by a crew of 18, carried no wireless. She left the Cape Breton port Oct. 30 and it was feared a storm overtook her as she was crossing Cabot Strait, battering in her hatches. The faint hope she had limped into a Newfoundland outport and was unable to continue her voyage because of damages or dense fog that covers the coast died as she passed and she was still missing. Norman M. Paterson, president of the Paterson Steamships, Fort William, notified the company's underwriters he feared the vessel was lost.

JAPS PUSH ADVANCE WEST OF SHANGHAI Chinese "Hindenburg Line" Threatened By Flanking Movements—Towns Bombed.

(By James A. Mills, Associated Press Foreign Staff) SHANGHAI, Nov. 14—A series of rapid thrusts by Japanese columns west of Shanghai tonight threatened to cause collapse of the whole Chinese defensive system known as General Chiang Kai-Shek's "Hindenburg Line." Japanese gains appeared likely to turn both flanks of this system, stretching some 50 miles west of Shanghai from the Yangtze River south into Chekiang Province. Troops, freshly landed along the lower Yangtze at points 40 to 60 miles from Shanghai, drove at the northern end of the Chinese line. Other columns smashed at Kunshan (Quinsan) in the centre. Still others were advancing along the Kiangsu-Chekiang border 40 to 50 miles southeast of here. Defenses Weakening Chinese defences appeared to be weakening steadily in face of the rapidly developing strategy of the Japanese. The Chinese advantage in number—some 400,000 to about 200,000 Japanese—was more than offset by the modern weapons and great mobility of the invaders. Japanese officers said the general advance west of Shanghai was merely a prelude to a drive against Nanking, the Chinese capital 125 to 150 miles to the west of the "Hindenburg Line." Japanese air forces raided the Chinese rear, bombing a score of towns considered to be concentration points. Among these was Soochow, China's "paradise under heaven," which missionaries had appealed to the Japanese command to spare. Create Havoc Meagre reports said the bombers created havoc at Soochow. Other towns heavily attacked from the north were Wushu, Kunshan, Kashing and Changshu. Heavy fighting was in progress on the Nanking railway 35 miles west of here at Kunshan where the Chinese were in danger of being outflanked by Japanese columns approaching from north and south. In Nantao, adjacent to Shanghai's French concession, a Chin-ese munitions dump was exploded. A dozen big fires raged in Nantao. In Nanking an army announcement told of the heroic stand of four Chinese battalions from Hunan Province near Nanzhang, west of Shanghai. All the 2,000 men in the four units died, said the announcement but not before they had inflicted 1,300 casualties on the Japanese. Indicating the Japanese might demand a larger share in control of Shanghai's international settlement, the United News, a Japanese organ, said Japan, Great Britain and the United States should have equal shares in administration of the settlement. Britons now are dominant numerically in the settlement's council.

Franco To Launch General Offensive On All Fronts Soon

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) HENDAY, Nov. 14—Insurgent officers declared today that General Franco might decide on "a general offensive on all fronts" for his long expected effort to crush the Government before winter sets in. The officers at Iron, said "troops, guns, planes, warships—everything is ready." Franco's general staff was reported in hourly contact with every unit of the insurgent land, sea and air forces. An insurgent communique which said "there is nothing to report on any front," covered last minute preparations for the major offensive Franco is expected to launch as soon as weather permits. There still was no official indication of the direction of the push. Troop concentrations have been reported on all fronts. Observers noted that the "calm before the storm" was charged with insurgent confidence the coming offensive would overwhelm the Government and end the 16-month-old civil war. Government sources said they were prepared, and expressed confidence the insurgent drive would be wrecked against the men and material with which the Government has bulwarked its more than 100-mile-long Aragon line.

Greek Ship Lost Off Stormy Cape Hatteras, N. C.

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 14—(AP)—Fifteen sailors, wave-tossed for more than 30 hours after the Greek freighter Tenny Chandris sank off storm-battered Cape Hatteras, N. C., were saved in dramatic fashion today, bringing to 21 the number of survivors rescued since the vessel foundered Saturday morning. Airplanes used for spotting purposes directed a Coast Guard cutter through thick weather and high seas to the men rescued today. Bodies of four others were aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Mendota and survivors said three more seamen were dead—two drowned and one dead from exposure. This made the 28 the Coast Guard cutter said was believed in the crew. Some sources said there were 29. From the mate, his name not given, the officers of the Mendota received their first detailed information of the tragedy, which was relayed to the Coast Guard base here. Naval and Coast Guard flyers had related in brisk language their part of the rescue. The mate of the Greek vessel, which was battered by terrific seas all Friday night, said the waves carried away a ventilator and the water flooded the engine room. In total darkness the crew fought a losing battle at the pumps in the high seas off Diamond Shoals. The cargo of scrap iron shifted, and there was a list of 15 degrees.

VARGAS DENIES FASCIST COUP

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 14—(CP)—President Getulio Vargas stated that "Brazil's foreign policy is primarily American and only secondarily European." In a press interview Saturday night. He described President Roosevelt as "one of the greatest statesmen of modern times" and said that under the new regime Brazil would strive for further development of the "traditionally friendly relations with the United States." He said Brazil's foreign policy had not been changed by the promulgation of a new constitution three days ago and that "all treaties would be respected. The new constitution is neither "fascist nor integralist" he said. Brazil was not likely to adhere to the Anti-Comintern Pact signed last week by Germany, Italy and Japan. Integralist is the name of the Brazilian Fascist Party. He added, however, that "there is not the slightest doubt that the new regime gives battle without quarter to the Communist threat both in doctrine and by force."

Expect Judicial Appointments Soon

OTTAWA, Nov. 14—(CP)—Apart from the possibility of some progress with judicial, senatorial and other appointments awaiting disposal, deliberations at this week's Cabinet Council sessions will be on subjects of which no official intimation has been given. It has been expected some time that announcements would be forthcoming on the accumulation of vacancies, particularly those on high court benches in several of the provinces. A further contingency has arisen, Prime Minister MacKenzie King stated Friday, in the likelihood that a successor will have to be selected for Supreme Court Justice Duffin on the Rowell Commission on dominion-provincial relations.

Special Session Of Congress Opens Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(CP)—A new test of leadership, more critical in some respects than any he has met since he took office, confronts President Roosevelt at the special session of the United States Congress beginning tomorrow. Circumstances unforeseen at the time Mr. Roosevelt issued his call for the session in mid-October have altered the atmosphere in which Congress meets. Spade work on such measures as wage-hour regulation, crop adjustment, Government reorganization and regional resources planning was the theme for the session as the President then saw it, paving the way to early adjournment next year for the congressional campaigns. But on the eve of the session a strong and growing movement among his own party captains in House and Senate has arisen to make business' stimulation recovery rather than reform, the immediate purpose.

SCOUTS HOLD SUCCESSFUL APPLE DAY

Saturday was Boy Scout "apple day" and report: available last night indicated that it had been a big success. In Charlottetown gross sales totaled approximately $900.00 officials said. Summerside $600.00 and other centres where "apple day" was held included Montague, Belle River, Tignish, Alberton, O'Leary, Kensington, Borden and Crapaud. Detailed returns were not available but it was believed sales had been very successful. Ideal weather assisted Scouts in their campaign. Charlottetown Scouts sold 19 barrels and 19 hampers and Summerside Scouts 8 barrels, all Prince Edward Island McIntosh Red Apples. The big event of the day in Charlottetown was the public auction of the champion apple and a number of other choice apples on the steps of the Public Library. Promptly at eight o'clock Auctioneer John MacDonald took up his position, having been preceded by two Salvation Army bandsmen who rendered a suitable instrumental duet. Having announced the object of the auction Mr. MacDonald called for bids for the champion, intimating that a reserve bid had been received in advance, and quickly knocked the apple down to His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, who is also Patron of the Island Boy Scouts. The bid was the magnificent one of $50.00 which, on being disclosed, called for vociferous cheers from the admiring crowd. Other apples followed in quick succession, until ultimately the whole of the "Special reserves" were disposed of for the handsome and record sum of $128.75. Appreciation of Mr. MacDonald's voluntary services were expressed by both President L. D. Murray and District Commissioner Wm. Warren who accompanied him on the platform.

Rejects Jap Plea

Mr. Eden rejected the Japanese plea that the conflict was a matter for Japan and China alone. In respect for international law and the pledged word lay the only hope for peace. "By these means, and by these means alone," he said, "can the world escape a further ordeal such as it passed through 20 years ago." Britain could not accept the view that "dislike, however deep-seated, or abhorrence, however sincerely felt, for the form of government or the political institutions of one nation justifies another in interfering by force in its internal affairs," he said in apparent reference to Japan's oft-stated declaration she intervened in China to prevent Communism and anti-Japanese feeling from gripping the country. Mr. Davis declared that the question of whether international relations should be determined by arbitrary force or by law and respect for international treaties was the "real issue that faced the world today" and "is one of the most momentous problems that mankind has been called upon to solve."
