WASHINGTON, June 28.—(Special)—The American Consul at Odessa cables as follows:
"The Russian warship Kniaz Potomkin and one torpedo boat arrived yesterday evening.
"The men mutinied, all the officers were murdered at sea and their bodies thrown overboard.
"The men threaten to bombard the town if interfered with.
"The situation is precarious.

"The Black Sea fleet is expected today."
LATER.
ODESSA, June 28.—(Special)—It is now learned that the mutiny on the warships was caused by the act of an officer in shooting and killing a member of the crew who on behalf of his comrades asked that the soup be made more palatable. The Grand Jury have very great satisfaction and pleasure in reporting to your Lordship that no criminal cases have been brought to their notice.

The Grand Jury have almost unanimous expressed the opinion that many and serious encroachments are persistently being made throughout the county and especially in the vicinity of Charlottetown, upon the Public Highways, not only by extending fences beyond the owners' limits but by piling heaps of manure, building materials and rubbish on the public roads.

Whilst this complaint is very general from all sections of the county, only one specific charge was made, that of the horse shed near Rocky Point. This property is owned by the Provincial Government and extends some twenty feet into the Public Road, and usually is in a dirty

JUBILEE SERVICES HELD AT ALBERTON

REV. F. A. WIGHTMAN
Pastor of the Alberton Methodist Church.

ALBERTON, June 28.—(Special)—The Methodist church here had the right of way here since Sunday and all the services have been well attended and fully up to expectations. Rev. Mr. Dobson has more than sustained his reputation as a preacher and lecturer.

The Methodist Church was beautifully decorated with flowers and filled with an attentive congregation on Sunday morning and afternoon. Mr. Dobson was the speaker on both occasions.

The afternoon service was especially interesting in that it was an union of the Presbyterian and Methodist S. Schools. During the service Mr. Wightman's little son was baptized, Arthur Fenwick.

In the evening the service was in the Presbyterian church which, being larger, was kindly loaned for the occasion. The congregation is said to be one of the largest ever seen in this town, and Mr. Dobson was at his best.

On Monday night the Town Hall was entirely filled with an attentive audience which listened with delight to the Rev. gentleman's lecture on "England and Englishmen." Mr. Fielding presided, a vote of thanks was moved by Dr. Foss, seconded by Mr. Tweedie, after which the occasion was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

The celebration comes to a close on Wednesday night by a congregational social when ice cream and historic papers will be the chief features.

of time to visit these institutions with the expectation that their advice will be acted on.

EDITOR'S MAIL.

SPOILING ARTISTIC WORK.

Sir—We note with some satisfaction your timely editorial in the Wednesday morning issue on the new chimney that is being plastered against the east end of your artistically built Market House.

The incongruity of a common red brick chimney against a brown stone structure will make a disfigurement for which there is absolutely no architectural excuse.

If the authorities cannot afford to have this proposed chimney extension constructed of the same material of which the main building is built, they could run up a twelve or sixteen inch iron pipe, which could be painted the same color as the stone, which would be less obtrusive than the brick, and would not mar the artistic beauty of the general structure.

As a visitor to your interesting city, we felt constrained to add our word of protest against the disfigurement of your most beautiful Market House, which has not its duplicate in any of the many cities we have visited.

Yours respectfully,
ROBERT MITCHELL FLOYD.
