Nascopie Crew Returns To Home Port

MONTREAL, Aug. 4 —(CP)— Forty seven members of the crew of the Arctic supply ship Nascopie came home today—by train. There was no home-coming for the tough little ship that for 35 years has carried out her mercy missions to far northern outposts.

Far up in the northern reaches of Hudson Bay the Nascopie lay, a broken vessel. On July 22 she foundered off Cape Dorset, Baffin Land, and her career of mercy and adventure was over.

There were mingled feelings when the crew trooped into Central Station after a long rain ride from Winnipeg. Some of the more exuberant seamen, happy at being home, whooped merrily. Veteran officers were strangely silent.

Capt. James Waters, a Nascopie veteran who was making his second trip as Master of the ship, had little to say pending his report to Government officials at Ottawa. He said the ship foundered in calm weather, shortly after an Arctic gale blew up which prevented the crew from re-boarding her.

There was no panic and the only hardship suffered by those on the rocky beach seven miles from Dorset came during nights spent in the open before crew and passengers made their way to the outpost.

Chief officer Leonard Eady still felt keenly the loss of the vessel whose upper decks he had trod many years.

Eady said he believed there was little hope of salvaging any of the cargo when he left. Water poured into the holds and most of the foodstuffs and other perishable supplies were soaked. When he last saw the Nascopie as the crew headed for Churchill, Man., on the Government icebreaker N.B. McLean, she was almost completely under water, only the stern showing.

If you are thinking of your family's welfare, and who isn't! You'll give them lots and lots of FRESH VEGETABLES... The Grocery Department has a fine selection of local, garden vegetables — that come in every day and are kept fresh as any daisy by the new Vegetable Sprinklers, which have just been installed. You'll find a tremendous difference between Vegetables that are kept fresh by these sprays and the tired, wilted variety... Vegetables are so delicious and so healthful— order yours DAILY from the Grocery Department.

If you like nice China — you'll be intrigued with the RADFORD POTTERYWARE, imported from England... The soft glowing colors and the interesting designs are lovely. There is a Teapot in the form of a dear old lady — there are pitchers, vases, marmalade dishes, salad bowls, cheese and a sweet little condiment set on a tray — all in floral designs. The Radford Potteryware is so entirely different, you will notice it immediately and like it always! China Department.

If you are foresighted and consider the shortages of fuel and stove oils, you'll realize that it will be well to have a supply on hand. The Hardware Department has a number of 45-gallon OIL DRUMS and 100 and 200 gallon STORAGE TANKS for sale. Install a storage tank or several drums in your basement and insure yourself against running out of stove or fuel oil, during the fall and winter... It is foresighted to have a reserve supply — oils may be more difficult to procure and you won't want to run short... These Tanks and Drums will hold enough to supply your stove, heater or furnace needs. Hardware Department.

"CROSS MY HEART" A RIOTOUS COMEDY AT CAPITOL

—"Cross My Heart", Paramount's new comedy which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, offers some of the most hilarious movie fun to come out of the cinema city in a long time. The picture co-stars Betty Hutton and Sonny Tufts, two able comedians who complement each other most effectively.

Betty is seen in the role of a show girl, who is a chronic liar. Every time she gets into a tight spot—and it happens often—Betty thinks up a whopper to get her out of it. Her fiance, played by Tufts, is a fanatically honest lawyer with no clients.

Betty decides to do something about it. She accepts the job of secretary to a notorious "wolf" when he hints that he can throw a lot of business Sonny's way. The "wolf" gets out of hand and Betty delivers him a knockout punch and runs from his house. When she returns with her mother to retrieve her bag and hat, she finds the police in charge of her ex-employer's corpse.

Here is a heaven-sent opportunity to make Sonny famous as a brilliant lawyer, thinks Betty. So she "confesses" she killed her boss in defense of her virtue. Sonny believes her and prepares her defense.

Things happen that are way beyond Betty's — and the audience's —expectations, and all of them are funny.

The story provides Betty with an opportunity to sing several new, catchy Johnny Burke-James Van Heusen tunes, among them "That Little Dream Got Nowhere" and "Love Is the Darndest Thing."

Coal Cars Replace Wheat Box Cars

BIENFAIT, Sask., Aug. 4 —(CP) —On railway sidings near this town in the southeast corner of Saskatchewan, rows of coal cars replace the wheat-laden box-cars normally found on Saskatchewan sidings. And lines of coal tipples replace the grain elevators that are almost inevitable at Prairie points.

Early farmers labored unsuccessfully on the thin unfertile clay. But near the turn of the century, coal was found nearby and since then farmers have turned in slack seasons to the coal mines to augment their incomes.

Early Scottish settlers were driven out by drought in the late 19th century. A wave of French-Canadian settlers followed but they, too, moved on. It was only when farmers began to burrow for coal in the banks of the Souris River that the town took hold and prospered.

Today approximately 1,500 men earn their living in the deep-seam mines, and civic leaders estimate the town's business is double that of the average farm community in the province. In its early days, it was as "rip-roaring" as any boom mining camp.

But now residents say, "you'd never know it was pay day except to cash the cheques."

Churchill Urges Easing Of U. S. Loan Clauses

(By The Canadian Press)

WOODSTOCK, Oxfordshire, England, Aug. 4 — Winston Churchill offered today to support the Labor Government in an appeal to the United States for a new loan on condition that Britons "labor long and hard" to help themselves.

In a party speech the Conservative leader charged that Prime Minister Attlee's Government had "frittered away" a great part of the present American loan of $3,750,000,000 on non-essentials.

Churchill also scoffed at what he called the "folly" of proposals for a coalition government to meet Britain's economic crisis, despite his offer of support to the Labor Government for "any and all sensible proposals, however, severe, that are truly made in the national interest."

He also urged "something much more" than an alliance with the United States.

Speaking of "fields which deeply influence our island's fortune," he said "the foundation of British policy must be an even closer association with the United States." Britain must seek "something less precise and far more potent than an alliance."

Referring to the problem of coal production, a key factor in the country's present crisis, Churchill declared that since nationalization the miners "are producing less at a far heavier cost than when they were working for the private capitalist owner with his more intimate and flexible management."

Churchill said some of the terms of the present American loan alarmed him, notably the clauses requiring Britain to make her sterling debts to other countries freely convertible into dollars by last July 15 and that requiring non-discrimination against the United States in the reduction of imports.

"However, I relied, and I rely now, on the wisdom of the fair-minded American people to make the necessary easements," Churchill said.

He said a large part of the dollar drain was due to rising prices in the United States and added:

"That is an aspect which I am sure the United States ought and will take into consideration."

Covering the whole range of world problems as they affect Britain, Churchill hailed the proposal of State Secretary Marshall of the United States for aid in Europe and expressed the hope it would further his own personal dream of a United States of Europe. He denied that he hoped to divide Europe into two camps.

Keep Drydock At Saint John Busy

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 4— (CP)—With the arrival here today of the freighter Gulfside for refitting, employment at the Saint John drydock was expected to take a sharp jump.

With 330 men already on the payroll many more were expected to be added when the vessel goes into drydock. With three other vessels due here for overhauling, Charles N. Wilson, president and managing director of the Drydock Company, said the establishment would keep busy through September.

Bernard Misses Opportunity For Second No-hitter

Gerard Berrard threw away a second consecutive twilight no-hitter last night at Summerside when he elected to play a bunted ball that would have obviously gave a foul if it had remained untouched. His opposing moundsman, Cecil Powell, beat the throw to first with the only hit the Red Sox got all evening. The final score was 11 to 2 and the Legionaires looked like a much better ball team on the night's play. After a momentary faltering in the first inning which allowed two unearned runs to cross the plate, the Vets steadied down and played errorless ball for the rest of the game. The Red Sox, usually steady, were never worse afield. They collected 12 errors in all, the infield accounting for ten of them.

There is one game left to play in the schedule and if the R.C.A.F. beat the Red Sox in this one, it will create a tie for first and last position.

Continue Probe Of C.P.R. Accounting

OTTAWA, Aug. 4 —(CP)—Minute examination relating to the Canadian Pacific Railway accounting system occupied the Board of Transport Commissioners today in its national freight-rate inquiry.

The full day was devoted to cross-questioning of Walter J. MacDonald, Winnipeg chartered accountant who had been critical of the C.P.R.'s accounting methods in his direct testimony on behalf of the Manitoba and Saskatchewan Governments.

On the witness stand for the seventh straight day, Mr. MacDonald reiterated his previously-expressed contention that certain of the company's depreciation rates were too high in relation to accepted yardsticks.
