The Y's Men's Club and Its Work

A summary of a talk given by the Director, Gladys Smith, before the Charlottetown Y's Men's Club, March 22, 1941.

The Y's Men's Club is a very different project. We come together working in unity to assist the Y. M. C. A. in their noble programme and in cultivating friendship among Y's men and Y. M. C. A. members everywhere.

The Y's Men's Club was formed by Paul William Alexander to assist the Y in a membership drive. It was decided to try out a supper meeting, and this was held at that today we have clubs in sixteen countries with thousands of members.

The most outstanding activity of the club is Boy's Work. The purpose of this work is to make our boys better citizens and to show them the way to a more efficient, more useful and happy life.

The Y's Men's Club is not a toy nor a project. It is our only hope for the future. The boys we serve, or fail to serve today, will do these things in the future.

In 1937 a very fine bulletin was issued by the Boy's Work committee. It is a booklet that we hope to have in the near future.

Paul William Alexander states: "We make a mistake to get angry. We have to offer to come and get what we have to offer. We prepare a feast. Then we beat the dishpan and say 'Come and get it.'"

Inspiring Sermon on War objectives

At the morning service of St. Paul's Church on Sunday, a special War hymn, "We Wrestle Not Against Flesh and Blood," was sung on behalf of the Empire and her allies. Suitable music was rendered by the choir including the anthem, "Give Peace to Lord," and the stirring hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," and Kipling's "Recessional" led off our Fathers' "Known of Old." The church was filled to capacity; Veterans and Trainees of the Red Cross, the Royal Canadian Legion, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, delivered an eloquent and inspiring sermon from the words of St. Paul, "We Wrestle Not Against Flesh and Blood." The text of the sermon follows:

Let us not forget who said this. He was a prisoner, possibly chained because of the hatred of men of flesh and blood. He had many companions arrested, imprisoned, some of them thrown to lions, others had their bodies torn apart and their heads crushed. He was broken, complete physical wreckage - the work of men of flesh and blood.

INVOKED JU-JU SPIRIT-HASER - CALRO March 24. - (CP) - British tars think the admiralty should consider amply warship commander's who have to spend any time in an African desert with a JU-JU - an evil spirit-hasher. They're pretty handy things to have around.

The commander of an aircraft carrier attached to a flotilla established shore was having trouble keeping a wind-sock hoisted on the flying field. It keeps disappearing from the pole.

Finally he obtained a JU-JU for four shillings and two empty ironmace bottles. There was no more trouble with the wind-sock. He even thought the result worth an official communication to his commander-in-chief.

The attached correspondence concerning the purchase of a JU-JU was supplied by a member of the R.N. or R.A.M.C. serving in the desert.

"It is not, however, considered that the qualifications of any of the R.N. or R.A.M.C. serving in the desert would have enabled them to produce the desired effect."

"The JU-JU consisted of a bunch of chicken feathers wrapped in strips of snake skin. The witch doctor buried the JU-JU in the earth at first, and then he covered it with cement to enable the cause of the JU-JU - a black snake - to emerge and attack any prospective foe. The wind-sock was un-touched."

LONG CAMPS FOR SWEDES - STOCKHOLM (CP) - Neutral Sweden's Defence bill calls for an increase of the first training period for conscripts from 180 to 360 days.

Moses, seeing it, lifts up his hands in prayer, and as he does so the tide of battle turns and the Hebrews are victorious. He is very heavy, and he ceases to pray and gives his attention to the battle; but no sooner does he stop praying than Amalek again reverses the tide, and Amalek is compelled to retreat. Then Moses realizes where Amalek has his headquarters, and he takes up a stone and he casts it upon the head of Amalek, and Amalek is crushed.

Amalek has been calling us to prayer, and he has called us again and again, as a Nation, to the great battle against spiritual wickedness. We cannot fight spiritual wickedness with spiritual weapons, but we must fight with the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God.
