PRINCE WILL OPEN BIG FAIR ON MARCH 14

Canadian Pavilion One of The Prettiest Spots Visited By the Royal Brothers.

(Special to the Guardian)
BUENOS AIRES, March 7.—The Prince of Wales and his brother Prince George, followed by crowds of workmen in their undershirts today made an informal inspection trip to the Fair grounds of the British Trade Exposition which he has come 12,000 miles to open on March 14. Motor trucks and sprinkler carts crowded the streets and the visit was informal. The temperature was about 90 degrees and the police guard which had managed to give him some privacy in his tour of the first pavilion, were unable to keep the crowds of eager workmen away from the party. Until the final stages of the inspection the party was a sort of human comet headed by the royal visitors with the crowds struggling behind.

The Canadian pavilion was one of the prettiest spots visited. The air had a northern tang from the piles of apples and other fruits from Canada already on show.

DAMAGE BY FIRE TO DWELLING

Considerable damage from fire and water resulted from a blaze yesterday in the fine double tenement dwelling on 98 Brighton Road, occupied by Mr. P. Errol Palmer and Mr. S. F. Tarbush, and owned by Mr. R. L. Cotton. The fire which was discovered at 10 a. m. was confined largely to the upper section of the apartment occupied by Mr. Tarbush. A large part of the roof was totally destroyed, and there was considerable damage to both tenements from water. All moveable property was taken from the building. The firemen completed their work shortly before noon.

The origin of the fire is not definitely known, although a defective fuse or defective wiring is suspected. Although the loss has not yet been calculated it is understood to be more than $1,000, most of which is covered by insurance. The building was erected by the late Mr. Charles Hyndman, and later came into the possession of Mr. D. O. M. Reddin. From the estate of the latter it was purchased by Mr. Cotton. The work of repairing the damage will begin shortly.

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, March 7.—A thousand London firemen fought for hours today against a spectacular waterfront fire in the heart of the city's danger zone, near the famous Tower Bridge across the Thames. It started in Butler's wharf and although fanned by strong winds it was confined to a six storey warehouse stocked with rubber and tea. Great clouds of acrid smoke shrouded the river and a wide area of the south side. The loss was estimated at between $250,000 and $500,000.

WHOLESALE FREEING OF PRISONERS

Thousands of Political Offenders Walked Forth From the Jails of India Yesterday.

(British United Press)
NEW DELHI, India, March 8.—Thousands of political prisoners walked forth from the jails of India today, free as a result of the Gandhi-Irwin accord signed last week, arranging a truce in the civil disobedience campaign against British rule. The authorities announced that 3,000 of the 25,000 prisoners still held at the time the accord was reached had been freed and that 2,000 more would be released forthwith. Most of the 3,000 to leave the prison walls, where they had been held for following the behest of the Mahatma M. K. Gandhi, their independent leader, were from the Bombay Presidency. The authorities also announced that the majority of the non-violent political prisoners had been released at Foshawar, on the north western frontier. The men released included Abdul Kaffarkhan, the so-called Frontier Gandhi who is proceeding to Delhi to confer with Gandhi. The jail at Sabarmati, Gandhi's home, was cleared of political prisoners. Meanwhile, Gandhi remained at New Delhi, to continue his efforts to settle the Hindu-Moslem problems. They discussed preliminaries of a settlement, conferred with ten Moslem leaders, and discussed the great obstacle hindering the people of CHICAGO, March 8.—A wild roaring blizzard, heaviest of the winter, virtually turned the middle west into one huge snow drift tonight. Seven deaths were attributed directly to the blinding snow in Chicago. Two were killed in Milwaukee. Coastguardsmen braved the pounding thirty foot waves of Lake Michigan to search for the fish tug Palmer, missing off Kenosha, Wis. A crew of four were aboard. A houseboat with its family aboard slipped its moorings in the Illinois river near Peoria. It was feared it might smash into one of the bridges spanning the stream. A party of twenty five Nazarene pastors returning from a convention, found themselves snowbound in Centerville, Iowa. In Chicago, 35,000 unemployed men were put to work clearing the boulevards of great drifts, freeing the street cars and digging out stalled busses and taxicabs. The Chicago Motor Club estimated that 10,000 automobiles had been abandoned to the drifts in city streets. Thousands more were stalled on country roads. The storm was hailed joyously in the rural districts where it definitely broke up history's most serious winter drought. Highway crews, after struggling against the drifts all night with snow-plows, were able to open all main traffic arteries to the east, south and west. North of Chicago, however, roads were passable only for forty miles on the route to Milwaukee. All secondary roads were blocked completely with drifts, which reached twenty feet in height. Railroads reported trains operating with considerable difficulty. Two Burlington trains were stalled for hours in drifts near Astoria, Ill. A series of fifteen foot drifts across its right of way caused the Jacksonville and Havana railway to give up service completely.

A fishing boat went aground at Belemnite. A blizzard isolated a party of Alpine chamois at Petit St. Bernard along the Italian frontier. A tidal wave damaged the Barfleur region, near Cherbourg.

EASTERLY GALE STOPS TRAFFIC ON N. Y. COAST

(British United Press)
NEW YORK, March 8.—A lashing easterly gale whipped the Atlantic into a rage today from the Carolines to the Maine coast, but exhausted itself in vain against the forewarned skippers of ocean going ships. Ferry boats crept through the blinding rain their schedules disrupted and the Jersey meadows became so flooded that all traffic over the Hudson and Manhattan lines had to be abandoned, passengers being transferred to Pennsylvania railroad trains. In New York City, the gale tore down two power standards carrying current to radio station WABC, and interrupted broadcasting for an hour and a half. Automobile collisions resulted in two deaths. All air travel out of Roosevelt Field was suspended.
