Mrs. Duncan Macgregor in charge of programme on "The Lord goes atravelling, contributed interesting readings, was assisted by Mrs. Crowdis, Mrs. Sinclair Macgregor and the Mission Band girls continued the story. Offering, dedication and closing prayer. A social hour followed and Miss Hazel Hopkins served dainty refreshments.

—GALLANT — NOONAN WEDDING — A wedding of much interest was solemnized in St. Mary's Convent Chapel, Summerside, at 6.30 on Monday morning when Miss Mary Ruth, daughter of Mrs. Gallant of Summerside and the late J. E. Gallant was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Dr. Ralph L. Noonan, son of Mrs. Noonan of Summerside, and the late J. M. Noonan. The ceremony was attended by many friends of this popular couple. The altar was decorated with lovely spring flowers. Rt. Rev. Msgr. G. J. MacLellan, V. G., performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. Members of the ladies choir sang appropriate hymns during the service and Mrs. Roy Ahearn rendered very sweetly a hymn to the Sacred Heart. Mrs. Joseph Dechant presided at the organ. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Lloyd Gallant, was very lovely wearing a dusky rose ensemble with white accessories and corsage of talisman roses; in her hand she carried an ivory prayer book. The bridesmaid, Miss Imogenie Arsenault, cousin of the bride was dressed in turquoise blue with a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Mr. W. Henry Noonan was best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride for the immediate family and friends. Attending the wedding were Nursing Sister Pauline Noonan of the R. C. A. F. at Yarmouth, N. S., sister of the groom; Mrs. Arsenault, wife of Mr. Justice Arsenault of Charlottetown, aunt of the bride and Miss Laura Jean Arsenault, Dr. and Mrs. Noonan left by the early morning boat for a wedding trip to Ottawa. Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde at The Capitol

TRACY SCORES IN FIRST DUAL ROLE

Once again Spencer Tracy proves his right to his place as a two-time Academy Award winner with his portrayal of that favorite of fiction, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde". Sharing honors with the star in the new picture, currently playing at the Capitol Theatre, are Ingrid Bergman and Lana Turner.

Surprise of the M-G-M production is the casting against type of the two leading ladies. Contrary to expectations. Lana Turner is the sedate Beatrix Emery, and Ingrid Bergman the little barroom entertainer, Ivy Peterson. Both prove their versatility in the unusual roles. One of the highlights of the drama is Miss Bergman singing "You Should See Me Dance the Polka" to the befuddled Mr. Hyde. Miss Turner, in her best role to date, proves herself a front-rank performer.

Tracy Dominates

But it is Tracy's performance which dominates the film. Admirable in his restraint, Tracy resorts to no gargantuan make-up to denote his transformation from the good Dr. Jekyll into the evil Mr. Hyde. With a minimum of facial horror, the star achieves his personality change through change of expression.

The Robert Louis Stevenson novel tells the story of young Dr. Jekyll, scientist interested in man's dual personality. He believes that in all men are good and evil. In some evil predominates over the good. In others the reverse is true. Over the objections of friends, colleagues and sweetheart, Jekyll continues his experiments in this field. He drinks the resulting potion. It is then his evil self asserts itself and he becomes Mr. Hyde.

tions, the avoidance of double taxation, the prevention of fiscal evasion in the case of income tax and the exchange of certain fiscal information, was passed by the House.

Before proceeding to discussion of the mobilization act amendment, possibly tomorrow, the House will deal with the $2,000,000,0.0 war appropriation bill. Prime Minister Mackenzie King expressed the hope in the House today that this measure would be passed by the House and sent to the Senate for approval tomorrow night.

Unanimously, members approved a resolution extending their "loyal and heartfelt greetings" to the King. Today was set aside for the official celebration of His Majesty's birthday in Canada.

The resolution, introduced by Mr. King and supported by Conservative House leader Hanson, said the King's "calm courage, steadfast faith and active service have been an inspiration to our own peoples and those of other nations joined in the common struggle."

The resolution adopted, members joined in singing "God Save The King."

land, Prof. Norman MacDonald and C. M. Pitts.

The following committee conveners were appointed: J. C. Grier, bills and overtures; G. Carlyle Webster, business; George Rowland, roll; Dr. A. S. Reid, committee to strike standing committees; Dr. Stuart C. Parker, loyalty addresses.

The Assembly acknowledged receipt of an invitation to send delegates to the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada and appointed Rt. Rev. J. B Skene and Rev. C. L. Cowan, Rev. G. Carlyle Webster, Charlottetown, P. E. I., will preach the morning sermon on Sunday, it was decided, with Rev. J. L. McLean as the preacher in the evening. Both services are to be broadcast.

MONTREAL, June 5 —The 68th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada yesterday heard a flat denial by a returned missionary of charges that Christian missionary activities in the Far East have been proven worthless by the course which the war has taken in that theatre. The denial came in a brief address by Rev. E. H. Johnson, formerly stationed in Manchuria and now entrusted with the promotion of missionary education, which was a supplement to the annual report of the general board of missions.

Mr. Johnson told the assembled Presbyterian ministers and laymen that he had heard frequent allegations that the money "poured into the Far East for missionary effort" had been shown clearly as wasted by the war in progress there. Such assertions, he said, were "ridiculous," and he urged the Assembly to bear in mind the dangerous effect which such theories might have on post-war missionary enterprises if they became thoroughly imbedded in the public mind.

"It is hardly necessary for me to go into detail on the fallacy of the argument," Mr. Johnson declared "It should be enough for me to point out that money has never been 'poured' into the East for missionary work. It has been furnished in very small amounts—amounts which were inadequate for the purpose. Compare the figure spent in missionary activities with that used in the diplomatic field. Trink of the vast sums expended to provide embassies, legations and consulates in the cities of the East. Do not forget to take into account the money used to build up defences, both on land and sea, in this area."

If the funds used for these latter purposes had been made available for missionary work and the converting of the peoples of the East to a true appreciation of Christianity and the love of God, results much more satisfactory to the Christian work might have been obtained, Mr. Johnson suggested.

Volume of Work Cut

In the report of the general board of missions, home and foreign, A M. Hill, chairman, said that the volume of work had been reduced as a result of the international situation but that, in some quarters, expansion had been possible. Noting the number of ministers of the Church leaving to accept posts as chaplains in the armed services, Mr. Hill suggested that a number of these might have rendered better service by remaining at their original posts.

"Almost 60 pulpits have had to be filled by other ministers," he stated. "This in turn has meant vacancies in other charges, and as a result, the augmented charge and the aid-receiving mission field have in some cases found it almost impossible to secure ministers. Students in training and in at least one case, an ordained minister, have joined the combatant forces. While one cannot but pay tribute to the spirit which has led to such action, yet as a result some mission fields have been without supply. In a number of cases re-adjustment of territory has taken place and enlarging of fields. But this has a time limit especially now with the restrictions which have been necessary in the use of the motor car. This is but a small fraction of the price which must be paid for the preservation of freedom for the world, and should be accepted without the slightest murmur."

Referring to the overseas field, Mr. Hill declared: "Three of our fields have been in Japanese or Japanese-controlled territory. We are very thankful that all our missionaries were evacuated from these fields in good time. What is happening to the Church and to the Christians under the stress of war, we have no means of knowing."

Bible Society Asks Aid

Rev. J. B. M. Armour, M. A., of the British and Foreign Bible Society, asking for continued assistance from the Presbyterian Church in Canada, disclosed that the Society's agents in Hong Kong, Shanghai and Singapore are missing and are "probably interned."

Shortage of paper in Britain has created new problems for the society, he told the General Assembly, and he suggested that a system of rationing the Bible among the United Nations may not be far distant. The Society has been allowed 37 per cent of its 1939 paper supply by the British Government, he disclosed. This figure was higher than allowed any British publishing house and was proof of the importance attached to the work of his organization in official circles in Britain. He told of how the Society's binderies, valued at many thousands of dollars, were destroyed in a single night and how the co-operation of the American Bible Society made it possible to replace the destroyed machinery in a minimum of time.

Dr. T. Wardlaw Taylor, clerk of the General Assembly, announced that he had received the resignations of two synodical missionaries —Rev. H. R. Horne, whose territory was that of Saskatchewan and Alberta; and Rev. W. M. Mackay, synodical missionary for Northern Ontario and Manitoba.

Rev. W. Barclay, convener of the committee on correspondence with other churches, reported that fraternal relationships had been sustained with churches of the Presbyterian and other denominations by Canadian Presbyterians during the past year.

Women's Society Report

A report on the work of the eastern division of the Women's Missionary Society disclosed receipts of $31,431.18 while expenditures in foreign missions, home missions and general expenses were placed at a total of $13,056.39. Muriel L. McMurrich, reporting for the western division, said that receipts had totalled $182,843.07 and reported a surplus for the year of $12,265.38.

Greetings to the General Assembly were brought by Very Rev. John Woodside of Ottawa, representing the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of the United Church of Canada, at the morning session.

"It is only right that in times like these we should look into each other's faces and feel the warmth of each other's hearts," Mr. Woodside said, "We share with you the hope that somehow or other we may be instruments in God's hands to bring into being a being a better world.""

Dr. D. Leslie Pidgeon of Montreal also visited the assembly as a delegate from the United Church conference. The General Assembly welcomed Dr. George Sumney of New Orleans as the delegate of the Alliance of Reformed Churches by making him a corresponding member of the General Assembly. Dr Sumney celebrated his 89th birthday Wednesday.

The session opened with celebration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, conducted by Rt. Rev. Norman A. MacLeod, the new Moderator. During the business session that followed, Rev. Samuel Lindie of Sooke, B. C., was made a constitutent member of Victoria Presbytery and was received as an official commissioner.

Report on the Presbyterian Record, official church magazine, was given by the editor, Dr. W.M. Rochester.

There was no evening session of the General Assembly giving the commissioners an opportunity of attending the Jubilee Convocation of the Presbyterian College— celebrating its 75th anniversary. The speaker was Rev. Dr. John A. Mackay, president of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Principal Rev. F. Scott Mackenzie conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity upon Dr. Mackay, and four graduates of the Presbyterian College, Rev. J. L. Morin, retired professor, Montreal; Rev. Geo. S Mitchell, Westville, N.S., Rev. Samuel Lundie, Sooke, B. C., and Rev John Lindsay, Cobourg, Ont., convener of Assembly's pension board.

Rev. Dr. A. L. Budge, Hamilton, asked the General Assembly to consider a cablegram of congratulations to the Presbyterian Church in Ireland which celebrates its 100th anniversary June 10.

Much Interest

valuable work. The teachers are deserving of much credit for their excellent instruction which resulted in such noteworthy achievement.

Sewing, knitting, weaving, embroidery work, crocheting, drawing, domestic science, paintings, etc., are included in the exhibition. In all there are several hundred articles on view.

Many of the exhibits will be donated by the pupils to the Red Cross and will serve as comforts to the soldiers, for refugees and other patriotic endeavors. Of special interest also is the assortment of knitted dresses, stockings, cloth dresses and other wearing apparel made by the St. Joseph's Sodality to be donated for refugee children in Britain. This is on exhibit in the corridor just outside the room containing the children's goods.

Grade two's contribution to the interesting exhibition includes a number of attractive handkerchiefs, plain stitched and hemmed. Grade three pupils have various designs of work bags, woven caps, drawings and they have teamed up with grade four to show a number of well-made hemmed handkerchiefs. The latter grade also contributed some fancy work aprons, seat work books, and drawings.

The work of Grade 5 consists mainly of embroidered and hemstitched pillow slips as well as a number of fine drawings. Along with Grade 4, they also presented some knitted face cloths and potholders for inspection. Grade six pupils contribute an attractive assortment of household science costumes, patch work quilt, knitted socks, gloves, case showing the different stitches, and scrap books.

Grades seven and eight, showed the benefit of their years of careful training by exhibiting a variety of fine exhibits. Dresses, featured for the first time this year, were included in this array. Blouses, slips with crocheted edges, drawings, paper vases, crocheted baskets, satin cream puff cushions, bed jackets and project maps were other articles produced by these pupils. The propect map of Canada, drawn by Miss Frances McMillan, and the project map of Australia and the East Indies, drawn by Miss Corinne Walker, are special exhibits attracting considerable attention.

The work done by Grade nine, the most advanced of the lot, is one of the highlights of the display. The altar linens done by this class are being greatly admired as are also the drawings and pen and ink work. A project map of the Alaskan highway by Miss Joan Brown is also well done. Household science cooking was also on display.

Citizens are reminded that the exhibition continues until this evening and those who have not already had the pleasure of visiting the convent would be well advised to do so.

Hold Inquest Into Death of Alphonse Poirier

Alphonse Poirier, a native of St. Nicholas was found dead shortly after midnight on Saturday outside a store in Miscouche.

It seems the man had been into Summerside Saturday evening and had gone out in a taxi with some others and had left the taxi at Miscouche. When found life was extinct. On Sunday morning Dr. Howatt, the coroner, for Prince County ordered an inquest and an autopsy. The inquest was then adjourned until the result of the autopsy is received.

The deceased was a native of St. Nicholas and was 62 years of age. He had resided in the U. S. A., for a number of years but had come home about a year. It was understood he had been working at the airport. He leaves his aged mother, Mrs. Joseph J. Poirier, residing in St. Nicholas, a sister, Mrs. John DesRoches in Miscouche, and a brother and sister in the States.

The funeral was held on Monday morning from St. John the Baptist Church. Rev. Dr. Monaghan officiating. The pallbearers were Messrs. John C Poirier, Emile Poirier, Eli DesRoches, Joseph J. Gaudet, Stanley L. DesRoches and Joseph F. Gaudet.—S naval history, undoubtedly brought greatly nearer the zero hour for the all-out attack against Japan by the United Nations. This was made certain by the crippling blows to the enemy fleet and its air arm.

As in the battle of the Coral Sea, which opened a second phase of the war in the Pacific, air power played a principal part in repelling the attempted invasion of Midway. A majority of the damage to enemy ships, official communiques have indicated, came from attacks by dive bombers and torpedo planes, supported by land-based planes.

First stage of the war with Japan —fought on land—ended with the fall of Java. Malaya and the Philippines. Japanese air power made those victories possible, and the United Nations set forth to strengthen at once the areas remaining in their control. The Coral Sea battle was an indication that allied air strength was mounting. The victory at Midway re-emphasized the growing crescendo of this power.

Midway was another demonstration of the superiority of the American naval airforce—in training, equipment, skill and daring. It also showed the co-ordination of army and marine corps planes, based on Midway, with the fleet's air arm.

Pretty June Wedding At Summerside

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Trinity United Church on Monday, June 8th at 7 p.m. when Rev. K. G. Sullivan united in marriage Miss Enid Constance, only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Lockhart and L.A.C. Alan Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wortley of Toronto. The church was nicely decorated with flowers for the occasion by the girl friends of the bride. The wedding music was played by Miss Effie MacKay and during the signing of the register Sgt. W. McCarten sang "I Love You Truly". The ushers were, Messrs. Herbert Schurman, Gerald Sheen, Ferno Rogers, James Ramsay.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of white taffeta with finger tip veil and orange blossom and bouquet of Briercliff roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Marjorie Kennedy was dressed in a gown of pink organza over taffeta with juliet cap of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. Lockhart wore a summer suit of beige crepe with hat and accessories of brown and mink furs with a corsage of Talisman roses.

Aircraftsman Kenneth Gunter of the R. C. A. F. performed the duties of best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents.

The drawing room was charmingly arranged with June flowers.

The decorations in the dining room were carried out in yellow and mauve. The bride's table was centered with yellow and mauve tulips in a silver basket, yellow candles in silver holders and the pretty wedding cakes at one end in front of the bride. Yellow candles in cut-glass holders and flowers were on the buffet.

Mrs. H. G. Muttart, aunt of the bride, presided over the silver tea service, while those assisting in serving were, Mrs. Alex Horne, Mrs. Will Kavanaugh, Mrs. James Lynch, Miss Effie MacKay, Miss Helen Marks and Miss Mary Hogan.

Little Miss Enid MacLeod prettily attended the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Wortley will spend a short honeymoon touring the Island.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of Queen's blue with hat and accessories of navy. They will make their home in Ontario. The Guardian joins their many friends in happy congratulations.—S.

Suggests No Assembly Until 1944

MONTREAL, June 8.—(CP) —A proposal that the assembly should not meet again until 1944 was made in the Presbyterian Supreme Court today by Rev. J. A. MacInnis of Orillia, Ont. He gave notice he would submit a motion to this effect at a later session.

(The General Assembly normally meets once a year).

Interviewed later Mr. MacInnis said his motion will be made on the grounds of economy, for each annual meeting of the General Assembly, he said, which lasts a week or more, costs the church anywhere from $12,000 to $26,000.

"In time of war this seems too much to spend on a church court, especially when we are going to make a drive for $500,000 to put the church on a sound financial basis," he added. He did not say whether his proposal would be only a wartime measure.

Rev. J. Lewis McLean of Victoria, B. C., said "the church's great opportunity and her greatest task today is youth—youth can be moulded. If there is to be a Christian civilization tomorrow the church has the supreme task of leading and directing the youth into Christianity."

"There are many boys and girls in this land of ours growing up esentially pagan, not Christian," he declared. He told of a young Canadian soldier who had never been in a church. "We must know these young people, something of their problems and their way of thinking."

Urge Laymen Supplement Ministers' Work

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 8—(CP) —A resolution that laymen be prepared to supplement the work of ministers, owing to a present shortage of clergymen, was presented to the maritime conference of the United Church today by Daniel MacIvor, Kentville, vice-president for Nova Scotia of the conference lay association.

Other resolutions from the lay association asked that a committee be established to obtain closer cooperation between churches; that an effort be made to equalize ministerial salaries; that some uniformity be observed in the furnishing of manses, and that suitable Biblical readings be prepared for public schools.

Earlier today the conference adopted a resolution of affection and loyalty to the King on the occasion of his birthday observance. Presented by Rev. J. A. Fraser, Scotsburn, N. S., the resolution expressed hope that the British Empire "may be led to discover sure foundations of truth and justice and so to build upon these foundations a new order of society that the remaining years of our beloved sovereign's life may be the happiest of his reign."

The following clergymen were permitted to retire from active service with the privilege of the pension fund:

Reverends C. T. Crowell, J. A. T Hart, J. G. Hocken, J. Howe, Dr. A. S. Rogers and P. A. Walker. Dr. E. R. M. Brecken, Sackville, was granted leave to retire owing to ill health, voluntarily waiving his claim on the pension fund.

Eight ministers were allowed to retire for one year with the usual claim upon the fund.

The conference expressed regret concerning the retirement of Dr. S. W. Dean, secretary of the fund for many years.

W. E. Brookes, O'Leary, P. E. I., president of the lay association, presented the association's report.

around it waiting to rescue personnel. Twenty minutes later the American dive-bombers rocketed into view.

Downed by a Jap fighter, Gay saw two other enemy carriers struck squarely by bombs.

Tremendous fires burst from these vessels. Great billows of smoke churned upward with the flames flaring from the apex in dark columns.

Internal explosions sent new gushes of smoke and fire belching from the carriers at momentary intervals, he said.

As the Pacific fleet attack ended, the second Kaga class carrier was on fire from bow to stern.

Darkness fell, and he never learned what became of them.

In the twilight, "maybe a little earlier than was wise," Gay inflated his life raft from his carbondioxide bottle. He said he had this fill of salt water.

Working calmly, the young pilot had to make emergency patches of several bullet holes in the rubber boat before it would sustain him safely. He clambered in. The long night began.

Toward morning, he was awakened from fitful slumber by three explosions which he believed may have been demolition charges.

Several hours after sun-up a navy patrol plane, on a search, spotted his rubber boat. Later the plane returned and picked up Gay.

Later a navy doctor asked him what treatment he had for his burns and he replied: "Well, I soaked 'em in salt water for 10 hours."
