Henderson writing to this office under date of Oct. 10th says: "Please do not continue the notice for Teacher for North Wiltshire School this week as we are flooded with applicants. A SONGER VICTIM.—The body of James Murphy, of Montague Bridge, was found, Tuesday, in the water near the Rail Road wharf, Georgetown. He had been missing since the exhibition at Georgetown. When last seen on Wednesday he was considerably under the influence of liquor. He was about 45 years of age, and when sober one of Montague's most successful house builders. He leaves a widow and one daughter about 11 years of age. They have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

On Tuesday morning, in St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora, the marriage of Mr. H. E. Dawson, teacher at Cape Traverse, and son of Henry Dawson, Esq., of Tryon, to Miss Mary J. McDonald officiating, after which the happy couple and about sixty invited guests drove to the home of the bride, where a wedding party was held. Congratulations.

VERY successful missionary meetings have been held this week on the Bedeque circuit. Good addresses were delivered by the Rev. E. C. Turner and John P. E. I. conference. Searltown has also received about $80, besides the above. The missionary receipts of the circuit for the past year were a little over $700. It is doubtful if any circuit in the conference has as much of missionary spirit as this.

CAPTAIN R. MACMILLAN having missed money from his tin trunk, times recently, laid information to the Marshall who, Tuesday, detailed Officer Campbell to go down and lock himself in the office at dinner time. He had not been concealed long when a boy named William Elworth got in through the window and was soon helping himself at the till. The officer took him in charge. Elworth will appear at the police court this morning. A boy named John McCormack was also arrested last night about 10.30 o'clock, as a confederate of Elworth's, both having been seen entering the office of Charles Lyons, Esq., from which a small amount of money was stolen, Monday night.

The following which appeared yesterday in our Summerside column is well worth repeating for the benefit of advertisers.

A SMALL LOCAL appeared in this column last week advertising potato baskets at wholesale by Braze, Mackay & Co. A few days after its appearance the dealers had enquirers from Mount Stewart, Georgetown and Charlottetown. All of their baskets were soon sold, but the orders still came in and were handed over to Wright Bros, who sold all they had. The orders continuing D. Rogers & Son were bought out, and the orders are probably not all in yet. All this from a three line local in the GUARDIAN, and yet you can find a few people (those who have never tried it, however), who say that it does not pay to advertise. The proof of the pudding, etc.
