Point Pleasant

Mr. Louis Harris, of Beach Point preached in the school on Monday evening, March 8th. The building was filled to overflowing. Through the kindness of Mr. Hiram Leeco, planks were furnished for extra seats. Mr. Leeco also furnished a gas lamp for which thanks are extended. Mr. Harris preached a very able sermon to a very interesting audience. A good feature of the evening was the singing of the old time hymns most all taking part. A special number was sang, "In That Land Where We Never Grow Old", by Miss Jean Jenkins, Mr. Willard McLean and Mr. Harris. Miss Jenkins accompanying on guitar, which was enjoyed and appreciated by all. As there is no church in this district, writes a correspondent, we are glad to have Mr. Harris come.

On account of the last snow Mr. James Finlayson's Mill is very busy sawing lumber of all kinds. Mr. Finlayson who has been quite sick for the past few months is up and around again at the mill each day. Mr. John Leeco his son-in-law does the sawing. Mr. Leeco is a very capable and satisfactory man.

WEEKLY REVENUES C. N. R.

MONTREAL, Que.—The gross revenues of the all-inclusive Canadian National Railways System for the week ending February 21st, 1937, were $3,495,314, as compared with $3,127,186 for the corresponding period of 1936, an increase of $368,128.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go
The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A new bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else, Doc.

Ice Racing

Up to the present time four races have been staged on the ice of the Cardigan River. Keen competition has resulted in an ever increasing number of fans clamoring for their favourites to bring home the bacon.

Honors in Class A. have been fairly evenly divided between "Dizzy Dean", owned by N. Landrigan and driven by Steele; "Our Aubrey," owned and driven by C. McKay; and "Hush," owned and driven by Mr. Judson. Those horses are hitting the glazed surface at the rate of 32 for the quarter.

In Class B. "Robert Bruce", owned by S. Gordon and driven by Rice; "Darby Direct", owned and driven by the 75-year old veteran P. Rice; and "Jack Dongola", owned and driven by Miller, are sharing the spotlight. In the last race, however, "Bob Kenworthy", owned by MacMillan, and guided by the expert reinsman J. Steele, found his old-time form and came through in excellent style.

The favorites in Class C. are "Belle Harvester," owned and driven by Moran; "Dot," owned and driven by McIntyre; "Benjamin D." owned by S. Gordon and driven by Rice. But the competition between "Jerry," "Molly," and "Peggy" for a pay-off position has created considerable interest on the part of the spectators.

The appearance of the veteran "Jack Todd", "Kip", in his newly-patented sled; "Jean Orwell," a filly from Orwell Belle; "Don," without his hobbles and the other horses, makes us hope that the ice and weather will continue good. The following are three of summaries.

New York Mark Music Settings For Coronation

(By Thomas T. Champlin)
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, March 16.—Musical arrangements for the coronation in venerable Westminster Abbey are being made on an elaborate scale. Dr. James Bullock, organist of the Abbey, Sir Henry Walford Davies, Master of the King's Music and other prominent musicians, have for some months been considering the four-hour program in which a choir of about 500 will participate.

Some of the music for a coronation is traditional, including the setting of Tallis for the Litany, and that of Merbeck for the Nicene Creed. Purcell's setting of the Psalm, "I Was Glad," has been rendered at every coronation since that of Charles I.

In addition to such traditional pieces the directors of the music are likely to endeavor to include excerpts of the work of representative English masters of different ages. At the coronation of Edward VII. for instance, the more modern composers were represented by S. S. Wesley, Stainer and Sullivan. At the coronation of George V a place was found for works by Sir Edward Elgar, Sir Alexander MacKenzie, Sir Edward German. Sir Walford Davies celebrated Solemn Melody was also included.

It will be specially interesting to learn whether women are to be included in the choir. For such a precedent one has to go back to the coronation of Queen Victoria, when one or two famous cantatrices (whose names now are totally forgotten) found a place in the choir. Primarily the choir will consist of the regular Abbey choir, with the "gentlemen and boys of the Chapels Royal," assisted by the choir of St. George's Windsor. No doubt the Temple Church, which possesses a musical reputation equal to that of the Abbey, will send a contingent of chorists. Picked singers from practically all over England will be eager to participate in so historic a ceremony, and there will be an orchestra of about 70 of the finest of London's instrumentalists.

Under the superintendency of Dr. Bullock, the Abbey is being completely rebuilt at a cost of $100,000. There are parts of the old instrument which go back to 1727, if not earlier. These, as far as possible, will be preserved.

The new organ will have four manuals, 102 speaking stops and 34 couplers. The whole of the mechanism will be electrically-operated. In some of its details the organ will incorporate devices which have proved successful in the organ lately installed in the famous King's College, Cambridge.

For the devout and finished rendering of its music few churches have a reputation as widely established as Westminster Abbey. Even before the Reformation visitors from foreign countries journeyed specially to the Abbey because of its musical fame. Its organists in former centuries included such masters as Orlando Gibbons, Henry Purcell, John Blow and William Croft.

The music composed by Purcell for the funeral of Queen Mary of Orange is often heard today. Eight months later Purcell was himself laid to rest in what is known as the Musicians' Aisle of the Abbey.

To come to more modern "Masters of the Music and Chorists" every musical churchman will remember gratefully the melodic fitness of the chants for the Psalms of which James Turle was so prolific a composer. Turle was followed by Sir Frederick Bridge, whose long presidency at the console of the Abbey organ included the great service in celebration of Queen Victoria's first Jubilee, and the coronations both of King Edward and King George. Sir Frederick was followed by Dr. Sydney Nicholson, who resigned after a few years to organize a School of English Church Music.

COAL PRODUCTION ON THE INCREASE

REGINA, March 15.—Saskatchewan lignite coal mines produced more than 1,000,000 tons in 1936 as compared with 240,000 tons in 1935, government statistics show. The coal found a market as far east as White River, Ont., and as far north as Flin Flon, Man. Large quantities were also shipped to southern Alberta.

Most of the production was from the Souris Valley. The largest mine at Estevan uses a 600 ton electric shovel for trip-mining to remove top-soil 30 to 60 feet deep from the coal seams. It scoops ten tons of earth in each load and can remove 10 cubic yards a minute. Coal reserves in this area are placed at 2,400,000 tons. Community mines of the shaft were in vogue until 1900 when the field was commercialized.

A Face Covered With Pimples Causes Much Embarrassment

There is little doubt but that impure and impoverished blood in the soil on which those red, white, pus filled pimples develop and thrive, and that nothing short of a vigorous, persistent blood purifying treatment will eradicate them from the system.
Burdock Blood Bitters banishes bad blood and with the bad blood banished the skin becomes free from pimples.
