CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed at Birch Hill on Sabbath 13th. Services at 10.30 and 8. Preparatory services on Thursday at 10.30 a. m. and on Saturday at one p. m. Rev. James McDougall of Cape Traverse will assist the pastor.

POLICE COURT.—At the Charlottetown Police Court yesterday morning an assault case of Maud Fraser vs. Edward Fraser was adjourned till the 14th. John Murphy for being drunk and disorderly was fined $5 or ten days and Thomas Hendrahan for being drunk was discharged.

PRICE WEBBER ARRIVES.—Mr. H. Price Webber, manager of the Boston Comedy Co., blew into the Gazette office Friday afternoon says a Glace Bay exchange. "Blow in" is the proper term to use in reference to this popular, genial thespian. Price and his company were in town on the way to effect their annual capture of Louisburg. He is as hearty and cheerful as ever, and the years sit but lightly upon his silvered brow. The Boston Comedy Company play Louisburg till Saturday night, Port Morien and Dominion next week. They will be welcomed back to town, as the arrival of Price always synchronizes with the coming of pleasant weather. Their many friends in Charlottetown will be pleased to learn that he and Mrs. Webber are enjoying the best of health.

FOUL PLAY FEARED.—Captain F. H. Smith, of the three-masted schooner Greta, at present in port at Charlottetown, N. B., is missing and so is $400 freight money he collected, says a Moncton, N. B., exchange. The vessel arrived here last week, and on Saturday Captain Smith collected the freight for the coal cargo and Monday afternoon he disappeared. Capt. Howell, of Dalhousie, the owner of the vessel, is in town and is convinced that the missing man has not met with foul play. A man answering Capt. Smith's description bought a ticket for Boston on Monday and boarded an outgoing train in that direction. Capt. Smith belongs to West Point, Prince Edward Island, is quite elderly and has always borne a good reputation.

NEW HAVEN.—The first meeting of the Women's Institute of New Haven was held in the schoolhouse on Wednesday, July 2nd. The subject of School improvement was taken up and dealt with in an earnest, enthusiastic and businesslike manner. It was decided to have the interior of the schoolhouse cleaned and painted, which will without doubt prove a blessing both physically and morally to the children who spend so many hours of the day there. After a few minutes spent in social conversation the meeting adjourned, each one present feeling an immense satisfaction in the success of their first meeting, and feeling that they had spent one of the most profitable as well as pleasant hours in a long time.

HAY MAKING.—This is hay making time and every industrious and enterprising farmer should make it a point to look up the ad of A. Horne & Co., on Porter having tools in this issue. This firm, after testing the various lines of having tools on the market, has come to the conclusion that the line made by the J. E. Porter Co., of Ottawa, Ill., is the best by test, the best for strength, economy and efficiency. So they have placed in stock for these makers a large and complete line of everything you could possibly want in hay making tools, all of irreproachable merit and unbeatable values at the prices asked. Besides this they are showing a nice line of the famous potato scuffers and hillers made by the International Harvester people as well as McCormick hay mowers, rakes, hay tedders, etc. Their big display of carriages—50 different samples from the four largest factories in Canada—is still going on and every farmer who is in town should make it a point to call in and see this showing.

BIRD'S TONGUES.

A German naturalist has gathered some curious data with reference to the tongues of birds. As he points out, many persons suppose that woodpeckers use their sharp-pointed tongues as darts with which to transfuse their prey. It is true that the woodpecker, like the humming-bird, can dart out its tongue with extraordinary rapidity and that its mouth is furnished with an elaborate mechanism for this purpose, yet investigation shows that the object of their swift motion is only to catch the prey, not to pierce it. For the purpose of holding the captured victim the woodpecker's tongue is furnished with a sticky secretion.

Inasmuch as it possesses the power of imitating speech, it is not surprising to learn that the parrot's tongue resembles that of man more closely than any other bird's tongue does. It is not because the parrot is more intelligent than many other birds, but because its tongue is better suited for articulation than theirs; that it is able to amuse us with its mimicry.

In some respects the humming-bird's tongue is the most remarkable of all. It is double nearly from end to end, so that the little creature is able to grasp its insect prey very much as if its mouth were furnished with a pair of fingers.

GYPSIES OF SPAIN.

One of the things to attract the notice of every traveler that visits Spain is that strange race which he finds scattered here and there in small groups in the remote rural districts or near the great centers of population. It presents a type that can be mistaken for no other in the Spanish dominions.

The lips thick, the eyes large, black and piercing; the hair long, black and straight; the complexion olive tinted, the Spanish gypsy, whether encamped in a sheltered ravine or under the arches of an aqueduct or in the shadow of an overhanging cliff, is indeed Spanish because born in Spain, but in all else he is a gypsy. Time was when Spaniards of the true blue blood called gypsies "New Castilians," or "Egyptians," or "Moorish footpads," but while their traits have undergone no change, their name is now definitely gitanos, or gypsies.

Between 50,000 and 60,000 is the number now in Spain. Most of them have no fixed abode, but in some parts, and notably in Andalusia, there are several small settlements, for towns where they can hardly be called, where these wanderers have taken possession of caves in the mountain side, whence they sallied forth to tell fortunes and to flech. Wherever they are they are inclined to be quarrelsome among themselves and to enforce their arguments by means of wicked-looking knives, which they wield with great dexterity.—America.
