SOLDIERS BLAMED FOR ROWS IN QUEBEC

OTTAWA.— "From all the evidence which the court could obtain, there was nothing to show either hostility or unfriendliness on the part of the citizens towards the soldiers. Any stone-throwing there may have been was because a few individuals became angered at the moment by the treatment they had received from soldiers passing through."

This is the outstanding part of the finding of a military board, composed of Col. E. S. Wigle, of Windsor; Lieut Col. J. T. Ostell and Major Gregor Barclay, who were appointed to investigate allegations in a Toronto newspaper that troop trains had been stoned at Riviere du Loup and Mont Joli, and that returned soldiers were maltreated at Quebec. The court finds also that there is no evidence to support the charge of such ill-treatment.

While no direct evidence could be secured of stone-throwing by citizens at Riviere du Loup, the court believes "there was some foundation for the rumors circulated among the citizens themselves that on one occasion in October, 1916, a few stones were thrown at one train."

The story was that a train conveying men of the 132nd Battalion stopped at Riviere du Loup and that some of the soldiers asked young men on the station platform why they were not in khaki. Receiving answers not satisfactory, the soldiers used insulting language and some of them assaulted several young civilians.

A group of civilians formed, and, though dispersed by a constable, some stones were thrown.

THE NEW GREAT WAR VETERANS' ASSOCIATION OF CANADA.

Officers and Members of the Great War Veterans' Assn., of Canada, and Affiliated Association.
Comrades.—

We soldiers who have returned to Canada from the Great War, have undertaken a great task in the organization and carrying out of the aims and objects of our association. The organization of our Body is now an assured fact, and our existence as the Great War Veterans' Associaton of Canada is now fully recognized. Already our membership has attained a very large figure, and is being steadily increased by the return of our gallant countrymen from Overseas.

We who have returned and are the organizers of this Association have a great responsibility in the preliminary work in connecton therewith. We are trustees for those brave souls who are members and comrades in spirit, but who will never be with us in the flesh, and also trustees for those who have yet to return. Our trust is a sacred one. We cannot afford to make any mistake now, for the consequence of such would be too far reaching, and involve the happiness of too many lives.

My Comrades, realize this!

You have undertaken the task with us, and to its successful fulfilment we must band all our energies, or be recreant to the most sacred trust which man can ask of men.

To attain our object we must have co-operation and unity. That we must have though it be at the sacrifice of our personal opinions. Every man must work for the interests of the whole. We have much to strive for, and that for which we strive can be gained only by united efforts. So my comrades as we stood shoulder to shoulder in France, so now, and hereafter, we must stand shoulder to shoulder for the attainment of our efforts—didived we can only fill. As a united organization we are powerful and will count for much in the eyes of those whom we wish to impress with out strength.

As the Chief Official of the Dominion Executive. I now call for you to give us your full co-operation and support. We have been selected by your representatives in Convention to act for you in this most trying period of our career, and I wish to assure you that we have undertaken our duties with a full realization of our great responsibilities. We must not only be able to feel that we have you at our backs, but we must be able to show that you are there as a man. Place us in this positon, and we can then speak for you with the assurance that carries conviction and achieves results.

Therefore I say let "Unity" be a watchword for us. We surely have unity of purpose, then must we have unity of action in the achievement of that purpose.

Our ideals are high— let us not mar them by anything selfish or unworthy.

Today we hold the respect and esteem of a nation, and the World— let us not lose them by the exercise or any unreasonable or untoward actions or motives.

We have rights—if not accorded.— We will demand them, and if united gain them.

We have rights— let us not ask for more, for if unreasonable we will lose the respect and esteem that we hold today."

We have rights— yes, and is not the greatest one that of worthy citizenship in Canada— the best country on earth? Comrades, let us not lose the right by stulifying our manhood, as we would if we were to allow ourselves to become objects of charity and pity. But not let this later be helpless, or the partly incapacitated or the needy one from accepting what is his or her just due from a grateful and appreciative country.

We have rights— so too my comrades have others and we will have the better claim to oor own if we be ever ready to respect the rights of others, and show our fellow citizens and the world that he, who was a soldier of Canada, has the broader vision which ever comes to him who has offered his life in the great cause of the freedom and advancement of the world.

And now in conclusion, let me say to you "Stand By." I ask that every man of you be ready at our call. May we feel that you are behind us, that when we speak, our voice is yours, that our will is yours,and that our act will be yours? One voice—one will— one body—. One for all and all for one.

How can we fail?

We cannot!

Fraternally yours,
(Sgd.) W. F. PURNEY.
Dominion President.

NOW "June" go to it!

THE peace of the world will only be decided upon at the Haig Tribunal.

GENERAL HAIG is ready for a big blow, say a despatch. And of course the Kaiser is a big blow.

ACCORDING to the latest statistics there are 7,248,649,513 things a woman can find for her husband to do while he is resting.

WHEN the Hun submarines are all worsted the Allies will be able to thread their way safely to the Needless again.

THE QUESTION of coalition is a perplexing one to the Government. The first syllable of the blamed word bothers us a lot too, nowadays.

DON'T comb the hair over the bald spot on your head and then kick because the grocer puts the big potatoes on top of the measure.

HA! HA!

Few gladnesses of life can be
So filled with joy as when
In early morn we wake to see
It's only four or fifive and we
Can go to sleep again!

WHEN PA PUTS UP THE SCREENS

When Pa puts up the screens he goes
And spends an hour in hunting clothes
To do it in and frets and fumes
And wanders round through all the rooms
And yells for this and yells for that,
"Oh Ma! where is the hammer at?"
And bangs his thumb and stops to cuss
And makes in fact so great a fuss
That Ma exclaims, "Now what on earth!
You've lots more trouble than you're worth
You're not a help by any means,
Hereafter I'll put up the screens!"

THE MEN who get behind things are the ones who get ahead.

THERE are two places in a newspaper where a man doesn't care to have his name appear— the obituary column and the police court record.

"OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES"

A young mother was about to hear her small girl's prayers when a neighbor called and said she must see the mother right away. They had been talking at the front door several minutes when a reproachful little voice came from the top of the stairway:

"Mamma, aren't you 'shamed to keep Dod waiting so long?"

THE CONTENTED FARMER.

Jim Binks has bought a new Ford car
In which he travels fast and far
I see him reel off mile and mile
And put on twenty kinds of style,
I also see some folks turn green
When sizing up that Ford machine
But I'm contented just to walk
When with my girl I want to talk,
My heart for grandeur never begs
I point with pride to my fat legs.
They take me up and take me down,
Around the farm or in the town,
Behind the plow or in the lane.
They never kick or ne'er complain.
I do not paint them black or green
Nor fill them up with kerosene,
I do not carry tools in kegs
To make repairs on my fat legs
They do not skid or bust a tire
Nor leave me stranded in the mire
They do not run the chickens down
And mash them up from heel to crown,
They do not honk, or hiss, or toot,
And scare some farmer's nervous brute,
Day after day they bravely walk.
My good fat legs that never balk.
I would not trade my crooked limbs
For any car that snorts and skims
Beneath its load of handsome rich
And sometimes leaves them in the ditch.

GERMAN SPY SYSTEM IN THE U. S.

NEW YORK.— With three men under arrest who are alleged to be minor figures in a conspiracy to transmit information of military value from the United States to Germany through neutral mail channels, the federal authorities and city detectives today indicated further arrests which they said might result in disclosures of a German spy system.

Two of the men are said to be American born and a third a naturalized citizen of Sweden. Examination of mail seized by federal agents indicated transmission of information on steamships to Mexico and thence possibly by wireless to Germany.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.
