SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

know nothing but the incoherences of a senseless source of supernatural revelation.
 Dreams in the Bible often stand for the religious imagination. They are "the outgo of the soul towards the invisible, distant, spiritual, incomprehensible, eternal." Were our lives purer, were our thinking nobler, were our aspirations diviner, were our ambitions single-eyed to God's glory, might it not be that our dreams at many times would be such as could be safely followed?

But the lesson speaks of Joseph, not as the dreamer, but as the interpreter of dreams. The point of value to be noted is that he has anything further to do with dreams at all.
 Had he not been sold in Egypt because of his dreams and the telling of them? Yet his confidence in God has not wavered. There is a sublime lesson of trust lying right here, and one of the grandest exhibits of it when Joseph uncovered the cause of the sad faces of his comrades of the dungeon and said: "Do not interpret tions belong to God?"

The statement that "the Lord helps those who help themselves" is the axiom of the scoundrel. Rotten business and a morality whose basis is the quintessence of selfishness is under the cover of that policy. When Joseph asked the chief butler to think on him when it should be well with himself he was not working along such lines at all. He was demanding the square deal, and gave his reason.

But ingratitude has no place for the square deal. It deliberately will not give it. The forgettery of the chief butler was conscious of what it forgot, and too much of what is said to have been forgotten between men is guilty ingratitude, as base as guilty.

There was a reason why the butler chose to forget Joseph. It was similar to the reason why his brothers sold him as a slave. It was jealousy. Joseph out of prison would be one in the road of his ambition. He knew the qualities of leadership which Joseph had, and if he did not fear them he did not want them in his way.

Neuralgia's Burning Pains Checked, Then Cured

Stronger Proof of Cure Could Scarcely be Found Than This.

WORST CASES CURED AT HOME.

"To be really cured of Neuralgia is a marvel to me," writes Davidson E. Plummer, from Kingston. "During the six weeks Neuralgia held me in its grip I suffered agony. When I had used almost every remedy, hope fairly died within me. Twice every day the attacks would occur. Had the pain been persistent I could not have borne it. I was away out in Alberta, when the attack came, and was probably not robust enough for the conditions of life in that new country. I just had to suffer, as nothing seemed to subdue that awful burning pain. But relief was coming all the same, coming thousands of miles, for some new people came in from the Maritime Provinces and they brought with them a number of the Catarrhose Company's medicines, among which was a dozen bottle of Nerviline. Hearing of my sad plight, they sent me two bottles. At first the effect of Nerviline seemed to fluctuate. Hope would rise, then followed despair, but within twenty-four hours Nerviline's victory was assured. The first bottle cured, and I am still well. The second bottle I have also used for colds, earache, toothache, sick headache and other internal disorders. I will never be without Nerviline again."

GILLETTE

The Symbol of Clean-cut Modern Manhood

By making shaving so easy, the Gillette Safety Razor has done much to develop the typical man of to-day —that strong, aggressive, successful individual who scorns to disguise his features with a beard or to appear with an unkempt stubble on cheek or chin.

Shaving with the Gillette takes but three refreshing minutes. You waste no time honing or stropping—or fuming in the barber's waiting row. The Gillette makes home shaving so easy and luxurious that it is no more a task, but an agreeable incident in the morning toilet.

There are over 40 Gillette styles from which to choose. Standard Sets, like the illustration, cost $5.00—Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, with brush, soap and other toilet articles, run from $6.50 up.
 From the assortment which your Hardware Dealer, Druggist or Jeweler can show you, buy a Gillette—you'll enjoy it.
