Miss Giles died at the Homeopathic hospital, where she was studying for a nurse. She had been ill for a week. She is survived by her mother and sister, both of Lower Wentworth (N. S.).

ANARCHISTS PLOT TO POISON PROPERTY OWNERS.

GENEVA, Nov. 11.—An alleged anarchist plot to poison property owners in Milan in revenge for anti-anarchist activities has been unearthed by the police of Milan, as the result of a number of mysterious deaths there.

The victims all succumbed to a powerful poison, which, it was subsequently discovered was contained in letters sent by post from Switzerland purporting to enclose harmless specific cure of a common malady. Investigation showed that the letters were mailed from Lugano, and an Italian chemist known to be the associate of anarchists, arrested in that city.

Six other Italians have been arrested in Switzerland, including Lugi Dainesi, formerly editor of the Anarchist paper, "Agitation," who was taken into custody at Geneva yesterday. Two of Dainesti's friends came from Milan to warn him, but a warrant for his arrest had been issued. They are being sought by Italian detectives who are co-operating with the Swiss Police.

RESENT EFFORTS OF LIQUOR DEALERS.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 12.—At the meeting of the Methodist ministers of the city yesterday, matters of interest were dealt with. Rev. W. W. Brewer presided. An address was delivered by Rev. H. C. Priest, of Toronto, Canadian secretary of the Educational Missionary Movement, who spoke on matters in this connection. A committee composed of Rev. Messrs. E. C. Hennigar, W. T. Gaetz and H. E. Thomas was appointed to take up this subject locally. Mr. Priest is here to attend the missionary institute opening.

Temperance conditions in the province came in for an earnest discussion. There was denunciation of what was announced as a fact that liquor dealers apparently held such influence as to intrude materially upon the work of the temperance people.

Reference was made to the dismissal of Magistrate Kay in Moncton, and a resolution was passed endorsing the holding of a conference of all temperance workers of the province in Moncton at an early date.

BULGARIAN'S AT GATE OF CONSTARNTNOPLE

Have Captured Line of Forts in Front of Turkish Capital.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Nov. 12—Rumors are current today in Sofia that the Bulgarian army has captured the line of forts at Tabatalia in front of Constantinople, according to a news agency despatch.

The Bulgarian column is said to have reached Birjuk Chekmeedlic on the Sae of Marmora, to the south of Tebatalja.

It is also stated that Bulgarian army under General Teseedoroff has reached Salonika.

(Canadian Press)

VIENNA, Nov. 12—The Montenegrin cannonade of the Turkish fortress of Seataria has become heavier during the last two days but has had no visible result, according to a correspondent of Reichspost at San Grovanni Di Modna.

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—There is no news to-night either from Sofia or Constantinople as to how the great battle of the Tchatlja is going. The silence may imply that the Turkish forces are making a better defence than had been expected.

that Turkey is asking Bulgaria to re-

On the other hand it is rumored arrange the armistice.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—According to a Sofia dispatch to the Journal, the powers, with the exception of Austria, have presented a joint note to the Bulgarian government, offering mediation. The government accepted the note, but as yet has made no reply, and it is understood will decline the offer.

Dispatches received Sunday say that a great battle is being fought around Tchatalja, and that the Bulgarian government will do nothing till that has been decided. it is pointed out that the army cannot be left to spend the winter in the bleak exposed plains and must either enter Constantinople or be provided with winter quarters elsewhere with a full guarantee from the powers that the conquered territory will remain undisputed.

Other special dispatches from Sofia say that in military quarters the occupation of Constantinople is considered indispensible to prevent fresh levies from Syria and Asia Minor from entering, and that this is the only way to stop the war.

Rome dispatches declare that an agreement is far from being completed between Austria and Italy over the Balkan situation. Italy, it is asserted, will never admit that Austria should have economic and customs privileges in the Balkans, and it is also pointed out that Italy has not the same interest as Austria in shutting out Servia from the Adriatic. It is considered, that these points and several others stand in the way of the two powers agreeing on a common program.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A sorry picture of the conditions at Tchatalja is given by one of The Daily Telegraph's Correspondents. He arrived at Constantinople Thursday after riding several days from Tchorlu with the retreating Turkish army. He sends the following despatch from Constantinople:

"Never for a single mile has there been a break in the endless chain of retreating soldiers and refugees. We had not seen a single regiment, a single battery, a single company of organized soldiers. We had only seen men without arms, without food, without morals and whose officers seemed to have completely disappeared.

"I do not think that the Turks had even taken the trouble to blow up the railway line behind them. When we neared Tchatalja, our spirits rose, as we heard on all sides that it was an impregnable position. Surely, here the retreat would cease, we would find an army prepared to make a last stand for Islam.

"We realized that our hopes were vain, when three miles from Tchatalja, we found a village in flags, and the soldiers looting it for food. Tchatalja was deserted. There was no signs of an army, no signs of a camp, no signs of a fortified position and no supplies of food.

"At Hademkeui, there were one or two forts with obselete guns, there were 4,000 troops, a majority of which were wandering about the village in a semi-starved condition although only twenty miles from Constantinople.

"We met a lieutenant-general riding aimlessly about, followed by an escort of four orderlies and preceded by two aides. He told us that he had an army of 150,000 men and that 200,000 more were coming from Constantinople. Then he rode off apparently in search of something, looking for the phantom army which existed only in his imagination."

SAM RIOUX'S CONTRADICTIONS

(Canadian Press)

QUEBEC, Nov. 12.—Sam Rioux, the pilot of the Royal George, sent a wireless message to the Chronicle today asking the contradiction reports of the serious position of the vessel and predicting she would be afloat at next spring tide 24 to 26 of November.

QUEBEC, Nov. 11—It has now come out that the carrying of a Lantern on the St. Laurent beach by a fisherman led to the pilot of the Royal George's mistake. It appears that the fisherman was visiting his fishery and as he walked along the beach the lantern was swinging.

The Royal George was then coming up the river at full speed, and the pilot, seeing the light swaying to and

PRELIMINERY HEARING CLARK-PHILLIPS CASE

Prisoner Arraigned for Examination—Witnesses Testify—Case Submitted to Supreme Court.

(Special by Phone.)

SUMMERSIDE, Nov. 12.—This forenoon Silas Clark, Summerside, was arraigned for preliminary examination on the trial of shooting one Robert Phillips with intent to wound or of doing other serious bodily injury. Police Magistrate McQuarrie opened his court at 10.30 a. m. The prisoner Clark came into court attended by Police officer Steele. A large number of spectators were on hand. A. C. Saunders appeared as counsel for Clark. Four witnesses were examined.

The first witness examined was Dr. Tanton, physician in attendance upon Phillips. Dr. Tanton testified that he saw Phillips on the door-step of the residence of John Phillips, of Summerside, about five o'clock on Thursday last, the day of the alleged shooting. He was suffering from some wounds in the head, neck and shoulder and arm, all on the left side. He was bleeding quite freely. Dr. Tanton probed the upper wounds on the shoulder and obtained a shot which was produced in court.

It was such a shot as would be used in shooting plover. Wounds situated as these might be serious. These do not appear to be so at present. It is too early to say positively as to what may be the outcome of the wounds. At present Phillips seems to be doing well.

The next witness was Mrs. Minnie Ramsay, wife of Hubert Ramsay. Mrs. Ramsay testified that her home is on Russel street, Summerside, and Clark lives on Harvard street, about 150 feet from her home. She saw Clark shoot Phillips. Clark was in his own yard. He used a gun. Phillips was near John Phillips' door across the street from Clark's house when he was shot by Clark. She saw both men. She saw Clark raise him the gun and fire. She heard the report and saw the smoke of the gun. Phillips staggered back and let himself fall on John Phillips' doorstep. Clark went around to the backdoor of his own house presumably to enter the house.

The next witness was Sigelle Gallant, a boy about sixteen years old, of St. Timothy, Lot 16. He was working for Phillips the day of the shooting. He testified to seeing both Clark and Phillips when the shot was fired from a gun. The witness was about five steps from Phillips at the time of the shooting. Clark was in his own yard gun in hand.

The next witness was William Thomas Dewar, driver of Sinclair & Stewart's delivery. This witness testified that he was at John Phillips' backdoor delivering a parcel when the shooting occurred. He saw Clark coming along behind his house with a gun in his hand. He saw him aim the gun at something. Clark pointed towards the street and fired. Witness did not see Phillips at the time of the shooting. Witness was at the backdoor while the shooting occurred. The house was between them so he could not see. The witness got into the wagon and drove away. He soon stopped when some men told him to get John Phillips and take him home. Witness went and got John Phillips. When he returned he saw Robert Phillips on a couch in a cart. Dr. Tanton was there.

The examination ceased at this point. Clark on the advice of his counsel reserved any statement he had to make for a higher court. Magistrate McQuarrie submitted the prisoner to the Supreme Court for trial upon the charge preferred against

THE SHELL FISH COMMISSION.

TORONTO, Nov. 11—On the 17th inst., the Dominion Government Shell Fish Fisheriey Commission composed of Prof. E. E. Prince Dominion Commissioner, of Fisheries, Ottawa, S.Y. Wilson, of A. Wilson & Son, Halifax, and Canso, Hon. John McLean, of Matthews & McLean, Souris, P. E.I., and member of the Prince Edward Island Government, and Richard O'Leary, of Richibucto, largely interested in the Fishing Industry, met in Canso.

At the afternoon session, C. H. Whitman was the first witness examined. He traced the history of the Lobster fishing industry from its beginning about forty years ago to the present, incidentally referring to the first packer in Canso. N. C. Brown, and his two sons, of Summerside, P. E. I., came to Canso about the year 1869 and operated here for a short time. The first Canning factory was situated where the Glue factory now stands. Alfred Ogden was the next to operate a canning factory here; first packing for the Portland Packing Co., and later on his own account. H. L. Borhan began packing Lobsters in Canso in the year 1887 and later A. N. Whitman & Son, D. Sproul & Co., and Matthews & Scott, were engaged in the business.

Prices in the early days were very low compared with present day prices, fifty cents per one hundred count was ruling price in the beginning of the industry, and ten traps in those days were equal to one hundred today. Mr. Whitman gave it as his opinion that regulations should be as simple and stable as possible and that it was futile to have a size limit. The protection of the seed lobster is the important thing and these should be returned to the water as soon as caught. In his opinion this would be accomplished more than is being accomplished by hatcheries or any other artificial means. With regard to the length of the season, Mr. Wightman's opinion is that it should not be made longer. Professor Prince here stated that in some sections it had been proposed to grant licenses to all lobster fishermen free of charge and require the return to the water of all berried lobsters, the penalty for violation of this tule to be the cancellation of the license for a year or term of years. The opinion of the Witness was that this might be a good regulation and added that every fisherman might be a sworn officer to see the regulations carried out. Dr. McGarry was of the opinion that neither packers nor fishermen desired an extension of the season and if shortened it would be taken off the end of the season.

James Meagher, manager of the Lobster Hatchery, was then examined, and gave evidence with regard to the collection abd care of the spawn. At the evening session William Shrider and John J. Berrigan, two leading lobster fishermen, gave evidence as did also Sam Hurst who has been a smacksman for the past seventeen years. These all gave the commission much valuable information and the commissioners seemed much pleased with their visit and information received at Canso.
