Plans London, Dublin, Paris Boxing Circuit

BY GORDON MCKEAN

LONDON, Nov. 12 (CP)—Boxing Solomons, Britain's biggest boxing promoter, is planning a London-Dublin-Paris boxing circuit in which the leading British, Continental and American fighters will take part.

Already lined up are some classy Continental fighters and Solomons is seeking young British boxers who show promise. Biggest problems at present are transport and arenas, many of which still are under military control in England and France.

The Sporting Life columnist "Straight Left" says: "One thing is certain. British boxing and boxers are in for the biggest boom for many years. Jack Solomons will provide the opportunity. It is up to the boxers themselves to cash in on them."

The Scottish women's free style swimming record for 2,000 yards was broken twice in one night at Dundee, when Cathie Gibson of Motherwell lowered it to 24 minutes 55.6 seconds. Nancy Riach, also of Motherwell, then proceeded to swim the distance in 25 minutes 40.3 seconds. The previous record was 26 minutes 2 seconds. Both failed in an attempt to break the 1,000 yards free style record of 13 minutes 53 seconds.

Another Scot in the news is 17-year-old Cameron Buchanan, Wollverhampton left winger, who scored three goals against Southampton in his first soccer match as a professional. He first played for the Wolves at the age of 14, as an amateur.

R.A.F. Corporal George Edwards, 24, was the only amateur on the Welsh soccer team which handed England a 1-0 defeat. A graduate of Swansea University, Edwards hopes to become a sports master on demobilization. He is an all-round sportsman—plays tennis and bowls, right handed, but shifts to the left when playing golf and hockey. He is a left handed cricketer batsman and is "ambidextrous" as a footballer.

James Ballard, who played cricket for Chelmsford, Essex, for 45 years, often said, "When I die I should like to be buried in my cricket kit." When he died at the age of 72, his wish was granted. He was buried in his flannels, cricket shirt and the hat there would be cricket in heaven and I'm sure heaven would not gaily-colored tie and blazer of the Chelmsford club. "He often joked that there would be cricket in heaven complete for him without the game."

An almost new program of open lawn tennis events is scheduled in a big revival of the game next year. The provisional list of dates of the Lawn Tennis Association includes the Scarborough meeting, Aug. 19-24, where the North of England championships are decided, and the Eastbourne tournament, Sept. 9-14, for the South of England championships.

Boston Bruins Appear Real Team This Season

BY JOHN D. HAMILTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (CP)—Don't look now friends, but Arthur Ross, the four hockey man from Boston is getting ready to burst into the biggest grin he's had in years. The reason for his starting grin is that he believes Boston Bruins are once again a real hockey team. Their 7-1 victory over New York Rangers here Sunday night was strictly me-merit.

For the last three or four years, Mr. Ross hasn't had a thing to smile about in connection with his National Hockey League club. With stars like goalie Frank Brmsek, the squire "Kitchener" Kilds, the scrappy Terry Reardon, off to the wars, any resemblance between the Bruins and a big league club was strictly coincidental.

But after a slow start the Boston team hit its stride Sunday night. In their first six games, Bruins won two, lost three and tied one to hold down fourth place in the N.H.L. standings. But they interrupted the living daylight out of the Rangers Sunday — no great feat in itself, but pointing the way to the general direction of that derby, the Stanley Cup.

The important factor about the 7-1 victory was that the Bruins scored three superlative forward lines were effective on defence and were more than passable in goal.

Up front the "Kitchener Kids" minus right wing Bobby Bauer who is nursing a bruised shoulder — showed promise of becoming the old effective combo which drove opposition goalies to distraction before Bauer, Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart went into the R.C.A.F.

The high scoring front line of Bill Cowley, Herbie Cain and Terry Reardon was as smooth as ever. Reardon was a little slow but Cowley and Cain were the old smooth duo that has been poison to goalies for years. And the third line of Bep Guidolin, Bill Shill and Don Gallinger looked as if it was ready for its best season.

Coch D.C. Clapper, playing his 20th season in the N.H.L., was still the brilliant ice general and Murray Henderson, Jack Crawford and Jack Church were all potent — especially Crawford.

Boston's renaissance cannot be predicted on a victory over the lowly Rangers. But with a team that can pass, shoot, guard and organize good offensive plays, the sun may soon be shining through that Boston fog for the Massachusetts hockey fans.

NEWARK, N.J., Nov. 12 (AP)—Angelo Pucci, manager of Tippecanoe Garden, N.J., said today that he was offering a guarantee of $50,000 to defend his world welterweight boxing championship against Larkin at Madison Square Garden in January or February.

Cochrane has signed to meet Marty Servo at the Garden in his first title fight since he got out of the United States Navy, which he entered soon after Jack Crawford and Fritz Zivic in 1941.

Johnny Greco, Montreal welterweight who defeated Tony Janiro, Youngstown, O., here last Friday, is also anxious for a crack at the championship.

Larkin holds five decisions over Cochrane in five fights before the champion entered the Navy.

Allie Stolz Wins Decision Over Willie Joyce

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 12 (AP)—Flashing the form that made him one of the classiest lightweights in the business a few seconds back, curly-haired Allie Stolz punched out a clear-cut 10-round decision over Willie Joyce, high-ranking Irish, Ind. Negro, in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Stolz weighed 134, Joyce 137. Although he lost two rounds by low blows the Newark, N.J., boxer master look command from the start and never was behind as he belted Joyce around to win the unanimous verdict of both judges and referee Frankie Fullmer. The Associated Press scorecard gave Stolz seven rounds, Joyce two, and called one even.

St. Louis Cards Boss Holds Too Many Aces For '46

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals, faces a poker player's dilemma for 1946 — what to throw away when your Cards are all aces.

Counting men already out of the armed forces or expected out shortly at least 50 possessing quality first-string ball players will report at the Red Bird training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., in February. Twenty-five must be discarded by the middle of May.

Dyer will have to pick five outfielders from a roster glittering with the names of Stan Musial, Terry Moore, Enos Slaughter, Harry Walker, Buster Adams, Johnny Hopp, Danny Litwhiler, Al Schoendienst and about 14 others.

No less than 28 pitchers including rookies will be fighting for 11 select job. Former stars like Johnny Beasley, Howie Pollet, George Murrer, Al Brazle Max Lanier and Howard Krik, plus last year's regulars—Red Barrett, Harry Brodetsky, Ken Burdhardt, Ted Wilks and George Dockins — make selection a really tough job.

In the catching department, Dyer will have to use his imagination as a while with replacement. Two of the three regular catchers — Ed Fitze and Gene Cernie — are fast wear men, and three more highly touted youngsters — Jerry Zimmerman, Ted Sizemore and Joe Garabito — are due back from the armed forces.

Three months of the winter is still to go before the Cardinals are ready to start their 1946 season. Dyer will have to make his decisions by then. He will have to make his decisions by then. He will have to make his decisions by then.

Record Attendance For American Ball League This Year

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—The American League last season played before the largest paid attendance in its 45-year history, a total of 5,980,420 cash customers.

What it lacked in individual talent attracted almost 150,000 more fans than the previous record attendance of 5,830,000 in 1940.

The Detroit Tigers, pennant and World Series winners, topped the million mark in home attendance with 1,280,341. The total nearly reached the league's single club record of 1,389,422, established by New York Yankees in 1920.

The eight-club total of 5,980,420 exceeded the previous season's mark of 4,998,158 by 782,262 and was 146,626 more than the 1940 record attendance.

Negro Leagues File Protest

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Negro National and American Leagues reversed today and filed an official protest with baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler on the signing of Jackie Robinson, a member of the Kansas City Monarchs, by Brooklyn president Branch Rickey for the Dodgers' Montreal farm in the International League.

In a letter addressed to Chandler, the two Negro leagues, following a joint meeting here last Friday, said they wished it understood they were glad to see Negro players get the opportunity to play in the white organized baseball, but were protesting the "way it was done."

Charging Rickey with "piracy," Dr. J.B. Martin, president of the Negro American League, and T. Wilson, National League president, insisted that Robinson had made a verbal agreement to play with the Monarchs in 1946, but was lured away by the Dodgers' boss.

CONVICED

(Continued from Page 1) to talk to Mrs. Costello "as she was boss." Witness had offered the house to Mrs. Costello but Mrs. Costello would not accept it. Witness then bought a house on Esher Street, Mrs. Costello went to see it and Mrs. Costello had been offered $25 a month for it but offered to rent it to Mrs. Costello for $20 a month.

On the strength of that legal advice, Mrs. Costello refused several offers to buy the house. Mrs. Costello had been offered $25 a month for it but offered to rent it to Mrs. Costello for $20 a month.

Sgt. Dowling said Mrs. Costello had come to the Police Station on Oct. 26 and asked for police officers to go with her to 244 Pittsroy Street, where she wanted to get some clothes and other things there. Mrs. Costello and her two sisters, who were with her, took some clothes. Witness said Mr. Griffin was still working in the house when he and Mrs. Costello arrived.

Witness saw the partition was "half off." There was furniture in the house and Mrs. Costello took the house on the following Monday. Removal of the partition was done about 6:30 on the evening of Oct. 26 and asked for police officers to go with her to 244 Pittsroy Street, where she wanted to get some clothes and other things there.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Donnell, witness said he made no attempt to stop Mr. O'Donnell working in the room. Griffin had asked witness to "intercede with Mrs. Costello for him." Witness said Mrs. Costello would have nothing to do with it.

Mr. O'Donnell in addressing the court, Costello and her two sisters, whether or not a breach of the peace was committed; but whether or not there was an apprehension of a breach of the peace. Mrs. Costello had said she was frightened she had gone to the Police Station and returned with police protection. It was not necessary that force or threats be used, Capt. Matheson argued.

Upon the defendant being convicted as charged, in O'Donnell asked that a fine be imposed by the Court. The Magistrate ruled that in this case there had been no restitution of property by the defendant and set Saturday, Nov. 17, for sentence.

Expect 36,000 Applications Under Veterans' Land Act

OTTAWA, Nov. 12 (CP)—Nearly 36,000 applications under the Veterans' Land Act are anticipated by the end of 1945 and that total only 50 per cent are liable to be settled.

That prediction was made by Gordon Murchison, director of the Veterans Land Act, in remarks preliminary to study of the Act by the Veterans Committee of the Commons.

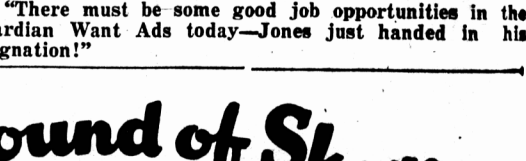

He said he did not think it would be "sound public business" to attempt to establish the whole $6,000 by the end of 1945. Mr. Murchison also disclosed that: Of the 8,354 properties awarded for possible purchase up to the end of October 3,239 had been turned down.

Total acreage purchased was 652,140 worth $9,267,640. The average sums paid for land and buildings ranged from $55.54 in British Columbia to $14.08 in Saskatchewan.

Applications for qualification under the act had jumped from 4,807 at April 30 to 18,705 by November 1.

Outlining causes for delay in granting them, Mr. Murchison said one of the numerous reasons was that the veteran often failed to bring along his wife when the time came to consult his advisory board. Applications had been turned down because the advisors decided the wife would never be contented under the scheme of life her husband had decided upon.
