His Honour's Reply

His Honour read the following reply:

His Excellency Viscount Willingdon,
Governor General of Canada.
Rideau Hall,
Ottawa

As the representative of His Gracious Majesty King George Fifth, Your Excellency will learn with pardonable pride how joyously the people of Prince Edward Island are participating in this magnificent National Jubilee of Confederation. The coming to Canada of Your Excellency as Governor-General happily synchronized with this unique historical event. From the past sixty years Canada's future destiny may be judged and with such a basis of hope our people today enjoy a stronger faith than ever in the growth and achievement of our beloved country. In this Province the melody of the Carillon of bells from Canada's Victory Memorial Tower will harmonize with the playing of the bands, the singing of the school children, the acclamations of our people, then the parades, the addresses, the pyrotechnic displays, the general illuminations, flags, decorations, and the assembled thousands will all evidence the fervency of the patriotic spirit with which Prince Edward Island's people have entered into the far-flung celebration. The Dominion now appears to be exceptionally ripe for a long upward trend in intensity of development and the fervent hope of our people is that Your Excellency and your amiable Viscountess may dwell for long years amongst us and vastly assist in declaring the splendour of our country and the glory of our heritage.

FRANK R. HEARTZ
Lieut. Governor

Deepest sympathy will be extended to Mr. Eugene H. MacEachern and family of this city, in the death of Mrs. MacEachern who passed peacefully to rest in the City Hospital Sunday morning surrounded by her loved ones. She again improved and returned home and every hope was entertained for her recovery until a few weeks ago when she had a relapse and all that medical skill and loving care could do could not avail and she passed peacefully to rest. The devoted wife and mother, the centre of a loving home circle, she will be missed, not only by her husband and family, but by numerous relatives and friends to whom her home was always open and her welcome sincere. Full of good works she has passed on to the fuller life. She leaves to mourn besides her husband the following family: Eileen, Arthur, Alice, John P., Angus and Jean. The other members of her family are her brother Kenneth Irving of Ottawa, Sister Mrs. Evelyn Strickland, Canton, Mass.; John P.
