This Car Cost a Widow $10,000

HER husband was a young business man of good prospects. He believed in living more carefully than his wife did, having business instincts and principles which she lacked.

"I would sooner put the money it would cost me to run a car into life insurance," said he. "I could get a good big endowment policy with the money running a car will cost us every year.

"The Jones have a big new car," she replied. "Everybody we know has a car."

That was three years ago. She has her car. It is still a fairly good car. She would like to sell it for $200. Her husband was right. A $10,000 Mutual Life policy would have been a far better investment. But it's too late, now.

Are you carrying the amount of life insurance you should? Talk it over with our agent.

Farewell Address

The Annual Meeting of Sterling Women's Institute was held on April 2nd at the home of the President, Mrs. William Miller, Stanley Bridge. There were eight members and seven visitors present. Meeting opened with the singing of the Ode, followed by reading and approval of minutes, also reading of correspondence and financial statement of the years work showing receipts for $30.23 with expenditure of $25.98, leaving a balance of $4.25.

Next was the election of Officers, Returning Officers, President, Mrs. William Miller, Vice President, Mrs. William Pendergast, Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Bolger. The result of election of Officers was as follows: Hon. Pres., Mrs. Walter Simpson; President, Mrs. James A. Stewart; Vice Pres., Mrs. Wm. Pendergast; Secretary Treasurer, Miss Sarah Simpson; Directors, Misses Adele Fleming, Geneva McKay and Mrs. Thomas Bolger; Auditors, Miss Ethel McLeod and Mrs. J. E. Fleming. A vote of thanks was moved, seconded, carried and tendered the retiring officers for their zeal in their different offices to which they fittingly replied. Meeting closed to meet again at the home of the President, Mrs. James A. Stewart's in May. But this proved not to be the last number on the programme of the evening. The meeting was again called to order, and Mrs. William Pendergast in a few concise words explained that the resignation of Mrs. Miller not only meant the loss of her as our President, but also as a member of our community. She then called on Mrs. Thomas Bolger who read the following address. The presentation was made by Miss Sarah Simpson to which Mrs. Miller very feelingly replied.

Dear Mrs. Miller:—It is with feelings of deepest regret that we the members of Sterling Women's Institute recognize the fact, that you as President and we as members have come to the dividing of the way. It now remains for us to say "farewell." We feel we cannot do this without first giving expression to the attachment we feel towards you as President of our Institute, for the past three years, in fact it dates back to the time when you first became one of its members. Your co-operation in all work pertaining to the welfare of the Institute, was always given your careful consideration, and your knowledge in the different phases of work done through the Institute was always considered of the highest, and was always impartially given.

As a resident of the community you have proven yourself a true friend and always a willing helper to the sick and needy. On many occasions have you opened your home for the use of the members of the Institute, who at all times we were met with a cordial welcome. In a world like this "So ripe with woe, so scant with bliss," we often fail to realize the power and influence of a pleasant smile, a kind word and a hearty hand-shake. These gifts you gave naturally and generously to all the members.

Now in saying farewell, we would ask you to accept the slight token of our love and friendship and may you always feel that a warm welcome will always be yours whenever you have an opportunity to visit the members of Sterling Women's Institute. May God's choicest blessings follow you to your new home in the earnest wish of the members of Sterling Women's Institute. Signed on behalf of the Officers and members.

musical director Prof. Fletcher. Many gentlemen are receiving congratulations on the success of the affair which was one of the nicest concerts ever given here.

The coats the spring brides will wear will be trimmed with the most fanciful of summer furs or with feathers. Hen's feathers pasted together are being utilized on dresses or coats just as are bands of fur. White or grey feathers look especially well on black silk. Colors are being constructed of pheasant plumage.

The variety concert in St. Paul's Schoolroom Tuesday evening was "something entirely different," and those who attended are still laughing heartily as they recall the many comical phases of "The Village Choir" under the talented leadership of Mrs. Francis Holl Trainor.

The majority of the wedding gowns imported from Paris this spring are of white satin or white lace and some are heavily embroidered at the waist with a pearl girdle. Others have a simple bunch of orange blossoms at the waist. The necklines are usually round, the train a plain court mantle and the skirts short.

The ladies of Zion Church held a prettily arranged afternoon tea at the Russ Hotel yesterday afternoon which was very largely attended and a most enjoyable social gathering.

Mrs. A. Reginald Jones accompanied by her little daughter, Margaret Carol Jones of Charlottetown, are the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Code, Lakesborough Apartment, Ottawa.

Dr. Fred W. Christopher, Chairman of the Committee on Presentation, assisted by Mr. J. Frank O'Hare, Past President of the Club, and Trustee of the Boston Elevated Railway, presented Mr. William M. Curtis, the retiring President of the Intercolonial Club of Boston with tokens of the esteem in which Mr. Curtis is held by the members and officers of the Club. A large photograph of Mr. Curtis was placed on the walls of the Club Parlors, and another was given to Mr. Curtis together with a handsome travelling bag. Mr. O'Hare dwelt upon the honorable and efficient service for the Intercolonial Club rendered by Mr. Curtis, and mentioned also his public service as a member of the Boston City Government and as a member of the Draft Board. A large percentage of the seven hundred members of the Club were present, and Mr. James H. Mudge, Vice-President, presided capably. Refreshments were served in the Dutch Room following the presentation. Mr. John Kiley, and Mr. William T. J. Casey assisted in the introduction of new members to the Club during the evening. Leut. Archibald F. Campbell, President, was unavoidably absent, and the absence of the popular President was greatly regretted. Among the islanders present were Messrs Dan B. Munn, John Kiley, John N. Chaceon, Wendell H. Gordon (Attorney-at-Law), D. A. McDonald, Frank Clark, Frank McCormack, Angus H. MacDonald, Wm. H. Aikin.

NOT—ROSE

The teacher in an East Side school in New York sent one of her boys home with a note to his mother to give him a bath. She received the following reply: "Miss Smith, when I send Johnny to school, I send him to be learnt and not to be smelt; he ain't no rose."

A STORY ABOUT WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS

William Dean Howells was the kindest of critics, but now and then some popular novelist's conceit caused him to bristle up a bit. "You know," said one, wishing for compliments, "I get richer and richer, but all the same I think my work is falling off. My new work is not as good as my old."

Time's Cash Value

MODERN methods and appliances have set a new standard for a day's work. Time is the one big factor. This is true in the factory, on the farm, in the home, or what not.

Time is money to-day. And anything that multiplies the value of an hour is increasingly valuable.

Advertising is an annihilator of time. It provides a short cut between a manufacturer or merchant and you. It makes it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

A quick glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you and in a moment you can know just where and when to go for what you want.

Figure how much valuable time advertising saves you if you use it properly. Think how much needless walking and talking it saves you and your neighbors.

Yes, advertising has a big value to you. Don't fail to read it.
