Ch' Town Business College AND WRITING ACADEMY

CH' TOWN, P. E. I. This College re-opened for the Fall and Winter Course on

THURSDAY, AUG. 14, PROX

Intending students will consult their own interests by entering as soon as possible after the date of opening. Last year we were most successful in placing our students in positions. To enable us to do the same this year they must enter early in the session. There are lots of splendid positions waiting for competent persons to fill.

Business men are acquainted with our course and method of instruction and apply to us for competent young men and women. Come and get a live education; one with some backbone in it. If, perchance, you have made a mistake in the past, try an education in which you will be rewarded as you exert yourself. The past is gone, the future is yours. A special course in Shorthand and Typewriting will be given as soon as the term begins. "Phonography, What it is and What it Does," by Ben Pitman; also full particulars relative to the College will be cheerfully furnished on application to

A Laughter-Cure For Drunkenness.

In a recent lecture at Chicago University, Professor William N. Guthrie declared that laughter and comedy made be made to play an important part as curative and remedial agents, even to the point of protecting humanity from the liquor habit. Says the Chicago "News" (July 7), in a report of the lecture:

"Drunkenness, of course, is due only in part to discouragement or desperation. But for the considerable number who drink because they feel dejected and seek a quick and easy way of throwing off their depression, there is a much larger number who drink either because they have nothing else to do or because they crave some excitement to relieve the monotony of their lives. Drinking is a great time-consuming habit, and the man who would shake it off usually finds that the reform leaves him with an undue amount of leisure. One chief trouble with the efforts to suppress the evil, perhaps, is that while the drinker and his friends make brave efforts to stop the bad habit, they do little or nothing toward putting a new and wholesome habit in its place. It is in this stage that his bored feeling and his depression recur with greatest effect. Professor Guthrie's address contains a hint for the despondent person. Let him surround himself with the influences which make for comedy and laughter. Let him seek cheery companionship or attend amusing entertainments. The chances are that he will find the time slipping by so pleasantly that he has forgotten his depression and much of his craving for artificial excitement. Good fun and good cookery—the one to occupy the depressed man's mind and the other to steady his nerves—might be made to do a great deal toward suppressing the liquor evil."

That Professor Guthrie is a valuable press agent for the comic opera and vaudeville companies is asserted by the Chicago "Record-Herald," but after following out this light vein for some time it becomes more serious and says: "There really is a scientific or physiological basis for Professor Guthrie's cure for alcoholism. The general assumption is that men resort to alcoholic stimulation to make them feel happier than their normal condition would justify. They drink to drive away the 'blues' and to induce a feeling of temporary buoyancy and cheerfulness can be induced by some other means than alcoholic stimulants, it is clear that the desire for intoxicants will be lessened. "This is the argument of Professor Guthrie, and it seems sound and logical. The 'horse play' of John Slavin or Montgomery and Stone may not fertilize the mind as does 'The Second Mrs. Tanqueray,' but it is more certain to Keeleyize the desire for strong drink."

Gives Him Pain in the Furze.

"I'm really worried about Charlie," said young Mrs. Torkins. "What's the trouble?" asked her mother.

"All my care seems to have been in vain. I wouldn't let him play golf for fear he'd get the golf elbow, nor ping-pong for fear he'd get ping-pong ankle."

"Well, he has escaped so far!" "Yes. But I haven't the heart to ask him to stop playing cards, even if it does lead to his becoming deformed."

"What do you mean?" "He admitted to me that the poker hands he is getting are extremely painful."

MESSES. C. C. RICHARDS & CO.

Gentlemen,—In '98 I had my hand and wrist bitten and badly mangled by a vicious horse. I suffered greatly for several days and the tooth cuts refused to heal, until your agent gave me a bottle of MINARD'S LINIMENT which I began using, and the effect was magical. In five hours the pain had ceased, and in two weeks the wound had completely healed and my hand and arm were as well as ever.
