PITCHED BATTLE

the top of his voice shouted there were murderers on the Nazi benches. The Nazis jumped up and made a mass attack on the Communist members, whom they outnumbered 162 to 57, meanwhile singing their battle song, in which their sympathizers in the gallery joined.

Doctor at Scene of Conflict

Tops were broken off desks, drawers were pulled out and upholstering was ripped. Piles of books, card indexes and fragments of furniture blocked the entrances from the lobbies after the air cleared. The Communists were forced out of the hall during the battle, at the conclusion of which numerous deputies on each side were lying on the floor, bleeding profusely. Dr. Wester, Catholic Centrist deputy from Cologne, who is a surgeon, bandaged the injured.

Three Communist deputies, Kraemer, Kuntz, Angshokke, were seriously hurt. Sometime after the fight was over Herr Kraemer returned with bloody bandages about his head. Turning toward the Nazi members grouped at one side of the hall, he shouted: "Twenty to one! You'll pay for this!"

A renewal of the fight was threatened when partisan spirit flared up in the public gallery. Spectators rushed down to the main floor, but were ejected by officials. During the tumult Herr Kerri, the legislature's new President, left the hall, automatically closing the session. Members of the various parties gathered in their conference rooms to discuss the happenings.

In the Council of Elders after the affair both the Nazis and Communists declared their respective parties were disinterested in fixing the blame and neither wished to drag the police into the affair. The Social Democrats, since one of their members—Herr Juergensen—was injured, objected to that attitude as did the Centrists, but the council took no further action.

Before the fight started the Diet had voted to adjourn until June 1 pending negotiations over the ticklish problem of electing a new state Premier to succeed Otto Braun, who resigned with his Cabinet after the recent election of the new Diet.

Herr Kerri was elected President of the Diet in accordance with the precedent that allows the strongest party in the legislature to name the President. The National Socialists also are seeking to dominate the new State Cabinet which remains to be formed.

Two hundred deputies were involved in today's affair. A dozen, including four National Socialists, one of whom was stabbed with a knife, bear injuries of a more serious nature, while scores nursed bleeding noses or bruises.

SUMMING UP

OTTAWA, May 25—Peter White, K.C., counsel for the Gypsum Queen royal commission, began this morning his summing up of evidence secured by the Commission to date.

Just prior to the opening of Mr. White's remarks L. A. Forsyth counsel for Senator Hance J. Logan, submitted an affidavit bearing on some evidence given by his client at previous sittings.

The commission had been told by Senator Logan that Captain Freeman Hatfield, former master and owner of the Gypsum Queen, had entrusted to him a large share of the $71,000 awarded him as reparations for the alleged torpedoing of the schooner, for the purpose of buying Canadian securities. He had bought $22,000 of bonds in Montreal but could not recollect in what manner he transmitted them to Hatfield, although he had a letter from the latter dated May 1931, acknowledging the receipt.

Mr. Forsyth presented an affidavit from Alma Hatfield, daughter of the Captain, from Westchester, N.J., a missa Hatfield had sworn before a notary that she had seen the bonds in the possession of her father in May, 1931, but did not know where her father was. She could not come to Canada for an examination because of her position, Mr. Forsyth said.

Mr. Justice Harvey accepted the affidavit after Mr. White had referred to the evidence of Senator Logan and the latter's way of giving answers. Mr. White scouted the idea that a "son of a Nova Scotia law school" would profess ignorance of the merchant shipping act. That was what Senator Logan had done until faced with evidence that he passed a special examination on the act at Dalhousie University, said Mr. White.

"That was in order to impress upon your Lordship his ignorance of the fact that he had no opportunity of cross examining the witness."

HOLM WINS DECISION FROM MCKENNA

Fighting Dane Knocked Down In 10th But He Finished In A Daze And Won.

PORT ELGIN, May 25—Billy Holm, New Waterford, slammed his way through ten torrid rounds to a referee's decision over Jack McKenna, Halifax, here tonight in a battle that had the customers almost groggy from cheering and excitement. The Fighting Dane tore into McKenna from the start and flailed him with leather, as the Halifaxian absorbed the punishment as a sponge absorbs water and stalked about, endeavoring to get one solid punch at his adversary.

McKenna's opportunity came in the tenth. His right smashed solidly on Holm's jaw and the Dane folded up on the canvas. How he got to his feet to finish the round and win the decision, Holm himself does not know. In fact it was not until he was in his street clothes and had left the arena that the effects of that blow had left him. Then he asked "Who won the fight?"

It was a great battle but only a small crowd was on hand. As a result the promoter announced it was impossible to go on with the entire card on account of the small gate receipts. Consequently the semi-final and one other bout was cancelled. In the curtain raiser Kid LeBlanc and Goodwin boxed three fast rounds to a draw. Roy Silliker refereed the main event and Frank Taylor, Moncton, was announcer.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., May 25. (By the Canadian Press)—Students graduating from Acadia today were told by Sir Robert Borden, wartime Premier of Canada, that "courage, patience, persistence and the saving grace of humor" were perhaps the most useful qualities with which to enter the lists of life.

Sir Robert was one of seven who received honorary degrees today as eighty eight students were graduated in arts and science. In addition, eleven students became Masters of Arts, five of them in the field of theology. Of fifty nine bachelors of arts, three received honor certificates.

Diplomas and certificates granted were: Bachelor of Arts, 59; Bachelors of Science 11; Bachelors of Science in Household Economics 15; Bachelor of Arts in Theology 5; Bachelors in Divinity 1; Certificates in Engineering 6; Diplomas in Household Economics 7; Diplomas, Licentiate in Music 3; Certificates in Junior Arts 5; Superior First Rank Teaching Diplomas 28; First Rank Teaching Diplomas 7.

Happy Graduate One of the happiest Acadia graduates today was Mrs. Sadie Jamieson Ford, wife of Wolfville's town clerk, and mother of two grown children, one of them a school-teacher.

The graduates included: Bachelor of Arts: J. L. Finigan, St. Stephen, N. B.; J. A. Finley, Saint John; K. C. Fisher, Saint John; Helen Dick, New Aberdeen; John; Muriel Israel, Sydney; Eugene Kierstead, Saint John; Marian Kinley, Sydney; John W. Miles, Sydney; Sara MacDonald, Dominion, N. S.; Mary E. MacNeill, South Perth, P. E. I.; Annie McGill, South Devon, N. B.; Earle Peach, Port Morien, N. S.; Charles Perry, Cody, N. B.; Charles Stultz, Havelock, N. B.; Stewart Trites, Fredericton, N. B.

Bachelors of Arts With Honors: George Mitchell, Saint John (English); Bachelors in Science: J. N. Lewis, Saint John; Wendell Steeves, Moncton.

It indicates that Senator Logan is willing to say whatever is necessary at the moment to make his point. Throughout the hearing he was rather more argumentative than prepared to make a plain statement.

McKENNA GOING BACK Jack McKenna, the once ferocious tiger man of the ring and veteran of dozens of gruelling battles in the squared circle, is beginning to hit the well known skids. His star, once bright and very illuminating on the athletic horizon, is in its descent, with its rays fast losing color amidst the young meteor which are now flashing their beams in the calcium glare of today—and too often at the expense of the battlers of yesterday.

McKenna, once the pride of the Maritimes and a likely looking prospect for a crack at the middleweight title, failed to make the best of his opportunities and returned to the land of his birth, still a great fighter, yet contented to bide his time, the time which waits for no man, and today Jack has apparently given up all hope of again getting into the "big show" where fame and fortune awaits the victor.

Only Tuesday night last Jack was forced to take a beating from a game little boxer, but practically unknown from the outside. Billy Holm was the boy who turned the trick, after narrowly escaping a K. O. in the tenth and final round. McKenna had him on the floor and almost out, but Holm and the youth came back to weather the gale. Had McKenna hit Holm in a like manner five years ago, the same "Fighting Dane" no doubt would have been out for the count. However, Jack is losing some of his steam, and it is only natural that some of the boys walk in and mix it with him without much fear or favor.

Description Of Visit To India

Under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church a service of more than ordinary interest was held last evening. The Minister, Rev. A. C. Vincent presided. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Wakeling. Miss Davida Baker sang very expressively after which the speaker of the evening, Mrs. M. P. Moores was introduced. The address was a very charming and most interesting description of a visit to India, made last year by the speaker. The marvelous land, its people, its wonderful cities, its wealth, its poverty, its needs were vividly brought out. A feature of special interest was a visit to all the various Baptist Missionary Stations in India—with description of their educational work, medical activities including hospitals, motor ambulances, hospital service, trained physicians, surgeons and nurses, the daily setting forth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ by the workers at all stations. Rev. A. C. Vincent expressed the thanks of the congregation to Mrs. Moores for her delightful address.

Ontario came second with six new chapters and one disbanded. Quebec gained five and lost one. Saskatchewan gained three and lost one.

In British Columbia, four new chapters were offset by a loss of five which were disbanded. Nova Scotia gained three and lost one. Manitoba gained none and lost one.
