no man is true to his wife. That it is a physical impossibility. He is a handsome lad, well educated, has an excellent position and I thought that I was much in love with him, but since he has made this confession I am not so sure, and have about decided to wait for some one who will be true to me, or at least have diplomacy enough not to tell me that he won't be faithful. What shall I do? TRUE BLUE.

"Forewarned is forearmed," said the old proverb, and since this young man has announced to you that he doesn't even expect to be faithful to you, you will be very foolish if you do not leave him to his philanderings without involving yourself in them. Thereby shall you save yourself from a lifetime of jealousy and anguish over your husband's little affairs.

As long as a man really loves a woman in the way she wants to be loved he is immune to the attractions of other women. DOROTHY DIX.

SEES ISLAND READY FOR BETTER TIMES

Jean Abbekerk Pontiac is one of the greatest oows of the breed holding as she does the world's record for long distance butter-fat production on twice-a-day milking. She was not on R. O. P. test until five years of age, but in six lactations since that time she has given over 5,150 lbs. of fat. Now in her thirteenth year she has started on her seventh lactation under test and in four months has produced over 10,000 lbs. of milk with a test that will be at least 3.8 per cent. Not the least of her accomplishments has been the production of 10 calves. And what calves they are. Standing down the row from her in the stable of W. R. Boyer is a four-year-old daughter who will soon be completing a record of 16,000 lbs. "There's quite an under-what?" was Walter Jones' remark as he pointed her out to me. Mr. Boyer also has a promising yearling bull out of her by Highland Paragon Dewdrop, while another son, used extensively in the herd Paragon Pat, is a qualified sire. A daughter of his out of "Jean" qualified with a 3-year old 305 day record of 12,444 lbs. milk 543.75 lbs. butter. "Yes, Jean has type too. She scored "Gold Medal" in Advanced Registration.

Guernseys

Guernseys are also a popular breed on the Island. Imported first by Mr. Brown, as told above, they are now to be found on many farms. One of the best known herds is that of Roper Bros., Charlottetown. Founded some thirty years ago through purchases from the Brow herd, and added to by an importation from Guernsey Island in 1906, this herd brought out many winners in the early years of the Royal Winter Fair. In 1928 they practically sold out to Beech Hill Farm, Princeport, N. S., Jas. Roper going as manager. His son, Russell, carried on, however, and built up a herd that was able to give a good account of itself at the last Royal. Most of the young cattle are by Dangwater's Marmon's Prince Edward, while their present sire is Beech Hill Dalrymple's Pride. They have a particularly fine farm with good growth in the pastures and

In respect for a former Councillor and the flags of the Masonic and Orange Orders also flew at half mast. During the service the fire bell tolled. There were many lovely floral tributes, including the following: Pillow from the family; Arch from the Orange Order; Square and Compass from the Masonic Order; Wreaths from Wm. J. Buchanan and family; Summerside Baseball Club; Nanking Cafe; Session of Trinity Church; L.O.B.A. Lodge; Crescents, Fred Miller, James Arthur and family; Sprays, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sutherland, Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Larkin, the firm of Williams and Orue and Norman Prichard. Interment was in the family plot at the People's Cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Percy L. Douglass Hall Reliance out of Bowness. S.

are one of the few on the Island who grow corn for silage. They operate their own milk route in Charlottetown, and though there is not a by-law requiring it have installed a very complete pasteurising plant. Near at hand is the farm of Lewis Roper, Federal Live Stock Promoter for the Province, who assisted me greatly in gathering information for this story. His herd of Guernseys is not large, but the fact that many of them were sired by Carter's Mixer King, Royal grand champion in 1927 and 17 times champion in 1929, including the Royal, attests to their quality. He was sold to Oakfield Estate, Oakfield, N. S., in 1931 and since then a son has been used.

They have their milk distribution problems in P. E. I., too. In spite of the fact that most of the milk goes to cheese factories and creameries, Mr. Roper told me that there are 40 licensed milk distributors in Charlottetown, a city of 12,000 population and all the milk comes from within six miles.

Jerseys And Ayrshires

William and Walter Clark, North Wiltshire, are the owners of one of the best known Jersey herds. They have been using a bull herd by Mr. Bagge, of Edgeley, Ont., Edgeley Silver Dollar, who worked a real improvement in the herd. They have a fine lot of calves by him, and two daughters have already qualified in R. O. P. They are following him with Brampton Lily Standard, a son of Standard of Oaklands. Most of the milking females are on R. O. P. test.

R. O. P. testing is showing quite an increase on the Island. One man could formerly handle the work, but now there is more than two can do. All the females are qualified or on test in the Ayrshire herd of A. McCrae & Sons, Charlottetown, which numbers between 50 and 60 head. The foundation came from Wm. Miller, Marshfield, one of the pioneer breeders, some 25 years ago. Most of the herd is by their former sire, Springburn Lucky John, 2nd, bred by Gilbert McMillan, Huntingdon, Que., and they are following with an imported dam bull, Douglas Hall Nascent, imported by Dave Hunter and now in the herd of Col. Harry McGee, Islington, Ont.

Another well-known Ayrshire breeder is Earl Ings, Mt. Herbert, whose herd have done well at the Royal on several occasions. In this herd it is that noted cow, Fride Bess Dream, who set a world's three-year old record of 14,379 lbs. milk 753 lbs. fat. But most interesting is Mr. Ings' venture in the rearing of speckled trout, with which he is doing selective breeding to produce the desirable pink flesh. He has a hotel and dining car market, which will take even more than he can supply. He plans to find an outlet for his skin milk and is trying to develop a satisfactory means of feeding it to the fish. He has a pond which is so full of "specklers" that it is necessary to feed them through the ice in the winter time. Did you know that fish have a home? Mr. Ings marks those he selects for special mating on the dorsal fin, and he states that one fish whose career he has followed most carefully can always be found in the same part of the pond, no matter where she is freed in it.

Swine Breeding

Only one breed of swine is kept on the Island, Yorkshires, and as a result they make quite a success and are working in close co-operation with the Federal Live Stock Branch. Most of the best hogs trace to the boar, Macdonald Morrison Duke, 20, brought in by A. W. Peterson of the Live Stock Branch and sows brought to the Experiment Station about ten years ago. They line bred to this boar and then followed him with Oak Lodge Masterpiece, 164, who nicked especially well with the sows by Morrison Duke. In 1929 a most successful out-cross was made through the boar Dickson Dan who corrected a tendency towards too much length. He now is at Falconwood, the farm of the Provincial Government.

The P. E. I. Swine Growers' Association is a most active organization. This year, on October 17th, they are holding their seventh annual show and sale of breeding stock. It is expected that some 40 hogs and an even greater number of sows will be sold. All entries in the sale must be farrowed in 1933, the West.

and all entries, which are now in are inspected and carefully culled monthly. This year only boars grading 3X will be sold and next year all boars will have to be from sows qualified in Advanced Registration. (They now have some sows entered in Advanced Registration.) It is at this sale that most of the sale of breeding stock takes place, for in general there is no private sale. There is an agreement among members of the Association that no immature breeding stock will be sold within the Province. There is a large demand for that stock for export, especially to New Zealand and the United States.

That the sale has given added incentive to improvement of stock is illustrated by the experience of Frank McAuley, Souris. At the first sale he gave a blank order to buy the first prize sow, and he got her for $40. The next year he won first in the boar class with a son of hers, and sold him for $95. In 1930 he won both sow and boar class with her progeny and sold the boar for $100. In 1932 the old sow won her class at Charlottetown Exhibition and a daughter by Dickson Dan was grand champion, beating a sow that was champion at the other Maritime shows.

The breeder of the original McAuley sow was Ernest Houston Hunter River. He got the first pure bred sow in 1923 and since then he has become probably the best prize winner in the swine class at the Maritime shows. Peter Dickson, a neighbour, co-operated quite closely with Mr. Houston in breeding policy. These two have supplied a considerable proportion of the breeding stock used, and their success illustrates the value of carefully supervised line-breeding.

My space is more than used up but I must tell of the great evening I spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kennedy, where I crashed the gate, with Walter Jones' assistance to a reunion of the Old Boys of the Consolidated School. This school was built in 1905 by Sir Wm Macdonald and Walter Jones was the first principal. The get together was to welcome Mrs. Cornwall their music instructor, who had returned for a visit, after some 13 years' absence, from her home in the sale must be farrowed in 1933, the West.
