ROD AND GUN. The August issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, which is now on sale, contains a wealth of worth-while reading, and it abounds in bright and interesting features. The camper or vacationist will find the big article: "Some Suggestions Regarding Outfit," worth a great deal, for it is written by an outdoors man, specially for the aid of holiday pleasure seekers whose trails lead through the wilds of the open spaces. "The Dandy of the Westmoreland," is a big fish-reading, and it abounds in bright and interesting features. The Bonnycastle Dale, while the scribing serial: "Men of the Hudson's Bay Company," is another feature. The various departments are filled to the brim with material which the sportsman will not want to miss. The Trap department is an unusually generous one, containing a long breezy account of the Eastern Canada Championships at Hamilton, which is replete with pictures of many of the "big guns." Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly at Woodstock, Ontario, by W. J. Taylor, Limited.

Stop the Cough—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passages and it is the effort to dislodge obstruction that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

Wills Deserves Public Support

Now that Jack Dempsey has agreed to fight Harry Wills for the heavyweight title there will be a great deal of interest in the big negro challenger, Harry's next important match will be with Tut Jackson, a young giant, who is a native in the West.
 Wills deserves a little good fortune. For several years many good judges have looked upon him as the best heavyweight in the world, and yet purses have been so small and so scarce that he has been compelled to work as a laborer at the docks.
 To be the best of the next best fighter in the world and not be able to make a living out of the sport, when others with not half as much ability are reaping fortunes must be rather trying on the nerves. That Wills has been content to go along picking up a small purse here and there speaks well for his honesty. He could have made plenty of money by agreeing to "carry" his opponents. There are many who would allow him to take the entire purse in order to get the credit of holding him even.
 If Wills had been willing to make such arrangements he could have had all the bouts he wanted and his bank roll would have been a fat one by this time. Other negro heavyweights have followed that plan and have kept busy. Wills alone has remained idle week after week, although he lives in a time when purses are many times as large as they were when Langford, Johnson, Jeanette and McVey were going strong.

Wills has won many friends by the way he has acted toward Dempsey. Instead of roaring challenges from the housetops and calling attention to the fact that Dempsey was afraid of fight Wills went along without saying a word, patiently waiting for the public to recognize his claim and force Dempsey to give him a chance.

Corns?

—just say
Blue-jay
 to your druggist
 Stops Pain Instantly

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

The winners were Eunice Lund and Catherine Evans in the Primer and Joseph McQuillan in First Reader; Mary Evans and Mary Steele in Second Reader; Joseph McAskill in Third Reader. For Perfect Attendance Joseph McAskill was the winner.

Reading of address signed by the pupils was done by James Evans Trustee, and presentation of gifts to the teacher.
 The address read as follows:
 Dear Teacher,
 This semi-annual examination reminds us, that, our school year has drawn to a close, and we cannot allow this opportunity to pass without expressing in some feeble manner our appreciation of your labors on our behalf.
 We realize that the path of the teacher is beset with many difficulties and that their patience many times is sorely tried yet during the time you have been with us, you have shown to us that your motto is "Patience and Perseverance." You have by your kind manner and amiable disposition endeared yourself to each and everyone of us, and have instilled in our hearts a love for you, which cannot easily be effaced.
 We earnestly hope that you may see fit to remain, and instruct us for another year. In conclusion we beg of you to accept this small gift, not for its intrinsic value, but as a token of our esteem for you. Wishing you a pleasant vacation and many happy years in the teaching profession.
 Signed on behalf of pupils.

ARISTOCRATIC SWALLOW.

The swallow comes from an old and aristocratic family, and as the honor of being named several times in the Bible, which is not strange, as his tribe skimmed the soft air of Palestine. He appeared in literature way back in the time of Aristotle, who said: "One swallow maketh not a spring," a proverb translated into all languages. The swallow was honored by a special holiday given to the children of Attica to celebrate his arrival.
