BARRISTER AT LAW, P. E. Island, Office in Cameron Block Charlottetown

MR. FOSTER'S MEETING.

Hon. Mr. Foster could not claim that the people did not turn out to hear him, or that they did not listen with respectful attention.

It was when he spoke of giving the "Bible sister" fair play, of the Conservative party's love for the Island, and especially when he spoke encouragingly of the Tunnel that the applause was most hearty.

Messrs. Martin and McLean met with a good reception from their constituents, spoke with force and vigor and no doubt enjoyed the compliment paid them by Mr. Foster for their zealous and persistent work in Parliament on behalf of the Island.

As a rule political meetings make few converts, and that of Wednesday night may be no exception to the rule. And yet public discussion is in forming, and instructive and helps to form that public opinion which is so potent a factor in the crises of our national life.

A bad man in Colchester is now proving to be the Bayne of the Conservative party.

A Moncton paper complains that there is "water everywhere but not a drop to drink." The water supply is a hard problem for Moncton but it will yet be overcome.

A young feminine person, grievously angry with her grandmother, talked with her pet kitten aloud: "Kitty I wish one of us three was dead. It isn't you Kitty and it n't me." Some thing of the same sort of indirect frankness appears in the columns of the Liberal New Glasgow Chronicle, whose editor talks with "kitty" briefly in the hope that "grandma" will hear: "In the federal service there should be a change in the Nova Scotia contingent in the cabinet. The Liberal party should have a young man in the Government as a safeguard for future emergencies. Mr. Fielding cannot be spared; there fore, as a matter of practical politics, it is clear who should retire."

The Farmer's Advocate:—Always the "other side" is the worst. It will be a bright day for Canadian politics when twenty per cent of the present party men on each side become so aroused and disgusted that they will be prepared candidly to admit that the party is as bad as the other, or, if anything, that their own party is rather the worst of the two.

Some day it will come to be recognized as a great public crime that the Government of Canada is a partner in the liquor business, deriving eight to ten millions of dollars from customs and excise duties on liquors and from brewers' and distillers' licenses.

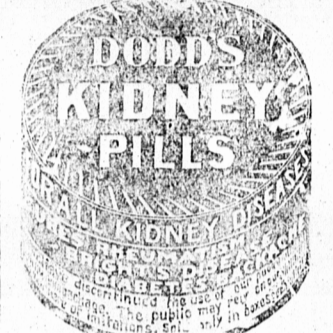

What bids fair to become a popular feature in the Democratic platform is the plank dealing with the guaranteeing of bank deposits. In the panic of last year many thousands of depositors lost their money, and from time to time such losses occur.

Forty years ago an inventor in Ottawa was spending time and money in the banks and help to develop the to develop a great idea which would revolutionise printing. He spent of the country.

It is tremendous conflict that has been in progress for weeks past between the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the 8,000 striking mechanics of that system, and the end is not yet. Neither party has reached the end of its resources.

The names of a million, five hundred thousand voters will be on the lists for the coming federal election.

The Halifax Chronicle announces that a campaigning tour by Liberal ministers and others will begin at Sydney on September 3 and continue daily thereafter at principal centres.
