

Pictures Of Disastrous Fire At Davis & Fraser's

Smoke pall hung heavily over the east end of the city as flames gutted the Island Cold Storage plant of Davis and Fraser Co. Ltd. in Friday's early morning fire.

Ivan Watters, night engineer, being removed in dying condition from the burning building. He was found by George Cudmore, (top, extreme right) in an unconscious condition 20 feet inside a window on the second floor.

Gaunt brick wall standing after fire has completely demolished the older section of the Company's plant, with estimated loss of over half a million dollars.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Should a man remove his coat at a funeral service? No; it is customary not to remove the outer garments though if he is exceedingly warm, a man may remove his overcoat and sit on his lap.

What should two persons, one an unfriendly person, do when introduced together? A hostess introduces them; they should meet politely, and in no way show their dislike for each other.

Should an invitation to a party be acknowledged? Yes, by letter or telephone.

The Prince Edward Island TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE

is located temporarily at 162 RICHMOND STREET. The stairway is next door to the Provincial Bank.

BRIDAL RECEPTION - On Thursday evening, November 6, 1946, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Rena Burt, Malpeque in honor of her son Amos and his bride (nee Hazel Barrett). While the wedding march was played by Jean Holmes the young couple entered and took their places in a room tastefully decorated for the occasion. The gifts were opened by Miss Marion Woodside and the accompanying verses were read by Mrs. Russell Craig and Mrs. Bruce Stewart. Mr. Burt on behalf of his wife thanked one and all for their many beautiful gifts. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing. The music for the evening was furnished by Mr. Alonzo Holmes, Mr. Alan Hickey and Miss Jean Holmes. After spending a very enjoyable evening the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Burt many happy years of wedded life.

Rheumatic Invalid REGAINED HEALTH

"For a year I suffered from pains in the legs and sore back. My case was diagnosed as Rheumatic pain, but no medicine relieved me satisfactorily. Then I tried Nerviline. I bought three bottles. Before the third bottle was finished I felt like a new man. I am able to work again. No trouble in straightening up. All back pains have disappeared. To every one who suffers from Lame back due to cold I recommend Nerviline. When you rub in Nerviline you assist in rubbing out the soreness and stiffness." Thus writes a satisfied user of Nerviline. ISLAND LADY PASSES - Friends in this province will learn with regret of the death in South Portland on November 10th of Miss Anne L. Gillies, daughter of the late John Gillies of Mount Stewart, and Mary Ellen McDonald formerly of Tracadie. The deceased who was a resident of Portland for many years was a dressmaker and a member of the church of the Holy Cross Church and prominent in the work of many of the clubs and societies affiliated with the church. The funeral was held Tuesday, November 12th and High Mass Requiem was sung by her cousin, Rev. W. McDonald who also performed the last rites at the grave. Present in the sanctuary were Reverend Leonard McDonald of St. Charles, P. E. I. and Reverend Father Glone, acting pastor of Holy Cross.

YANUZIELLO-McCARVILLE - At our Lady of Mount Carmel church, Nov. 12 the marriage of Helen Margaret McCarville, daughter of Mrs. N. McCarville and the late James McCarville, Charlottetown, P. E. I., and John A. Yanuziello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yanuziello was solemnized by Rev. Father Herring. Miss A. Volpe was the soloist. The church decorations were white chrysanthemums. Given in marriage by her brother, Fred McCarville the bride was gowned in white net and lace with three-quarter length veil and carried a shower bouquet of white baby mums and pink roses. Her sister, Miss Ida McCarville, attended as bridesmaid, gowned in blue brocade tulle with net skirt and bouquet of yellow baby mums and coral roses. D. J. Yanuziello was the best man for his brother and Arthur McCarville and Thos. Dingwall were ushers. A reception was held at the home of the bride, the bride's mother receiving wearing a midnight blue crepe gown and corsage of baby mums. The groom's mother assisted wearing a black crepe gown with cerise trim and corsage of baby mums. For travelling the bride wore a gray dressmaker suit with brown accessories.

Saint Andrew's Society of Montreal 109th Anniversary

Greeting

On this Saint Andrew's Day a message forth we send:
As in the past be' brave endure
until the end;
The day of victory soon will dawn,
The tyrants vanquished be.
And then our heroes will return
from 'cross the troubled sea.-
Geo. S. Cantile.

Keith O. Hutchison, President.

Extends heartfelt greetings on this St. Andrew's Day, November Thirtieth, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-six.

"There'll always be a Scotland,
Her bairns are scattered wide
But when Auld Scotia calls them
They're right there by her side.

There'll always be a Scotland
Part of the Empire wide
God Grant us faith and courage
To face what'er betide."

-H. C. Legerton
John F. Craig, President.

St. Andrew's Society of the City of Saint John, New Brunswick

On its one hundred and forty-eighth anniversary extends cordial greetings this St. Andrew's Day.

Mist on the brooding hills,
Mist on the glen;
House at the crook of the road
Calling again.

Rain on the city street;
Mist on the sea;
House on the quiet square
Speaking tonight.

Wind on the Cullbin Sands
Snell off the sea;
House at the harbour gate
Beckoning me.

Scots in the brave new lands,
Far as you roam-
Come with a gentle ghost
Whispering 'Home'.

James MacMurray, President.

Saint Andrew's Society (1803-1946)

Greetings from Albany, New York, U. S. A.

When we look back across the waste of years
And see how little they have left behind,
Whose mighty towers, built with
sweat and tears
Are vanished as completely as the wind;
When we consider what fair years
they spent
In frantic striving for a useless
end
And how defeated in success they went
Leaving their sons still eager to contend.

Ronald Kinnear, President
