MRS. CATHERINE AYLWARD

The death of Mrs. Catharine Aylward occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Walsh, Morell, on December 26th. During a prolonged illness of several months, she was visited frequently by her pastor, Rev. Phelan MacKenna, who brought her the spiritual comforts of the Catholic religion.

The deceased, who was formerly Catherine Whelan, was born on Oct. 16, 1866, at Morell, where she resided all her life. In 1886 she married Patrick Sinnott who died early in life. Later she married William Aylward who predeceased her twenty-seven years ago. Mrs. Aylward was a most exemplary Christian woman, who took an active part in parish activities, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

She leaves to mourn, besides a host of friends, two daughters, Mrs. Frank Reid (Lena), New York and Mrs. Joseph Walsh (Winnifred), Morell; and four sons, Patrick Sinnott, Bristol; Peter Sinnott, Boston; William Aylward, Morell, and Frank Aylward, student at St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto; and twenty-one grand-children. Two daughters, Mary Sinnott and Mrs. Frank Hogan (Fabiola), and one son, Clement Sinnott, predeceased her.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held at St. Lawrence's Church, where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Phelan MacKenna, assisted by Rev. Lawrence Landrigan as Deacon, and Rev. W. J. MacGuigan as Sub-Deacon. Rev. G. A. MacDonald acted as master of ceremonies; also present in the sanctuary was her son Frank Aylward, eccl. The services at the grave were conducted by Father MacKenna. The pall bearers were as follows: James O'Brien, Edward Rossiter, Wendell Coffin, Claude MacEwen, Ambrose Sinnott and Michael Donovan.

The large number of Mass Cards Spiritual Bouquets and Messages of Sympathy attest to the esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

Requiescat in Pace.

In Memoriam

GEORGE EVERETT McDONALD

The sudden death occurred at Springhill, N.S., of George Everett McDonald who met death in a mysterious manner, his body been picked up on the railway track in the Wentworth Valley. He, with his brother Russell, had been employed in a lumber camp for almost two months previous to his death, and had been on his way home for Christmas when the fatal accident occurred.

Although only the flower of youth and manhood, it was God's will that he must go to his Creator and not to his loved ones who awaited his homecoming so patiently.

Death, which is at all times hard and leaves in its wake, a trial of sorrow and loneliness, is especially so when it snatches one so young and a model of health and manhood, as was the case of George who was in his twenty-second year.

George, only home for a few weeks before going to Nova Scotia, had said good-by to his folks at home and had planned on seeing them again at Christmas; but, alas, the plan of the Creator was otherwise and it is not for us to question His ways. It is our duty to shoulder the Crosses He sends, and heavy though they may be we will carry them with the strong faith of a generous reward in the after life.

The late George McDonald was of a kind and jovial disposition and greatly admired by all who knew him. To meet him was but to be infected by the jolly-good nature which radiated from his pleasant countenance and to see him use his talented feet at step-dancing would enlighten even those in very low spirits.

On Friday morning, despite the cold weather, people came from far and near to pay their last tribute to the deceased whose funeral was held to St. Anne's Church, Lot 66, where Requiem Mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. L. J. Ayers. After mass the large procession moved silently and sorrowful to the adjoining cemetery, the coffin borne by his three brothers, Maurice, Louis and Russell, his brother-in-law, Joseph Johnston, Aeneas Coady and Francis McDonald.

He leaves to mourn his heart-broken parents Mr. and Mrs. Dominic McDonald, seven brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Maurice in Kelly's Cross, Pte. Frank, James and Louis in Halifax, Stephen in Toronto, Russell and Leonard at home. The sisters are Clara (Mrs. Joseph Johnston), Jean, Teresa and Doris.

A large number of mass cards, spiritual bouquets and messages of sympthy were received, a token of the high regard in which the deceased was held.

ERNEST MUTCH

The death occurred on the morning of December 27, 1945, at his home, Mt. Herbert of Francis Ernest Mutch in his 81st year.

The late Mr. Mutch had always enjoyed excellent health until shortly before his death when a heart condition developed. The day prior to his death he was around as usual but passed away unexpectedly and, peacefully in his sleep.

He was born at Mt. Herbert and resided there all of his life with the exception of a year in Mass., U.S.A. His home an old Mutch homestead was named Mount Herbert after the Rev. Herbert Starr by his grand uncle Robert Mutch many years ago.

He was a son of the late James Mutch and Mrs. Mutch nee Catherine Mason. Coffin, Mrs. Beatrice MacKinley also predeceased him; and one sister Mrs. Margaret MacMillan lives in Vancouver.

Mr. Mutch was a very successful farmer and remained active in farming to the last. He was an elder in the United Church, widely respected and esteemed for his genuine sincerity and highest integrity. He was a regular attendant not only at his own church but also at the nearby Presbyterian Church, Mermaid.

The funeral from his home Saturday afternoon was exceptionally large The service was conducted by Rev. E. R. MacVicar of Pownal assisted by Rev. Carlyle Webster of Charlottetown. The funeral address was based on the comfort and hope of the Gospel in such times as this. The 23rd Psalm and Rock of Ages, favorites of the deceased, were sung. Interment was in the cemetery at Mt. Herbert. Pallbearers were nephews and a cousin viz: George Mason, Hope Mutch, Leslie Mutch, Wendell Mutch, Allison Mutch and Alley Mutch.

MRS. AMBROSE CORR

It was with the deepest feeling of sorrow that the people of Emerald awakened on January 16th. to learn that Mrs. Corr had passed to her Eternal Home. This passing, although anticipated for some time, in the end came as a shock to those near and dear to her. It was not just the passing of another citizen, but of one who had always taken an active and leading part in all Church and Community organizations as a member of the C. W. L. in particular her unerring devotion to duty will always serve as an example and inspiration to others.

Mrs. Corr a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, was born at Albany, P. E. I., in 1897, where she spent her childhood and early life. In 1923 she became the early life. In 1923 she became the wife of Ambrose Corr, and went to Emerald to make her home, where by her many acts of kindness, devotion and sacrifice has formed a host of friends in whose memory she will always be a cherished companion possessing such qualities companion. Possessing such qualities as these it is not hard to realize how her memory is perpetuated with those who knew her. Mrs. Corr who had been ailing for the past number of months, was for sometime a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital, later going to Chelsie Memorial Hospital, Boston, Mass. When treatment was of no avail she came home to spend the last weeks of her life in the company of her husband and family. During her illness at home she was tenderly attended by Miss Elizabeth Murphy, R. N. for three weeks and Miss Marion McEntee R. N. for two months and frequently visited by her pastor, Rev. Eugene Murray.

She is survived by her husband and two sons, Gerard and Marcellus and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Muttart, Albany, P.E.I. and Mrs James MacKay, Everett, Mass., and by three brothers, Mark, Albany; Cecil, Truro, N. S.; George, Truro.
