Buying Investment Securities By Mail.

We wish to impress upon you the fact that you can do business with us—and with the utmost satisfaction—no matter where you live and no matter how small or large the amount of funds available for investment. Wherever the mails go we can do business.

The requirements of individual investors differ so widely that it is out of the question preparing a number of cut and dried suggestions that will meet the requirements of all who make inquiries regarding investments. For this reason we ask intending investors to give us an idea of the amount of funds they have available for investment, whether they desire Government bonds or municipal debentures, high grade bonds or stocks. In many cases investors leave this point entirely to our decision. In such cases we are guided by the circumstances of these making the investment. We take pleasure in answering all inquiries regarding investment.

PERSIAN REBELS GO DOWN TO DEFEAT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Persian Legation announces that cable advices from the Teheran Government indicates that in a decisive battle, yesterday, four thousand rebels under the command of the Chiefs of three tribes, were hefeated. Later it was reported that 100 were killed and 100 were prisoners, and considerable arms and equipment were captured,—while the Government conceded only a loss of ten killed and wounded.

The Persian advices said that 4,000 rebels and 2,000 Government troops were on the battlefield.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The 29th Annual Congress of The Salvation Army in Canada will be held in Toronto from October 11th to the 16th, inclusive. This Congress will be of special significance to the Officers and members of the Army, as General Booth has arranged for his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bramwell Booth, wife of the Chief of the Staff, to conduct the entire series of meetings. Mrs. Booth will be accompanied by Colonel Mildred Duff, also from London, England.

Mrs. Booth is head of the Women's Social Work in all lands, and is a recognized authority on the treatment of those unfortunate women who are cared for in connection with this beneficial work.

The Welcome Meeting to Mr. Booth will take place in the Massey Hall on Wednesday, October 11th. This will without doubt be the most impressive spectacular and interesteing demonstration of The Army work ever held in Canada. It will be in the nature of a pageant, over three hundred persons taking part in the same.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Booth will give a Special Social Address in the Massey Hall. The chair will be occupied by His Hon. Lieut-Governor Gibson. This will be followed by a special evangelistic service in the Massey Hall in the evening.

The programme of mettings (public and private), prepared by Commissioner David M. Rees, Leader of the Salvation Army in the Dominion of Canada, is indeed an extensive one, and will be of interest to those who are fortunate enough to attend. It is anticipated that many members and friends of The Army will come to Toronto to participate in this Congress, special railway rates having been arranged with the different Transportation Companies.

"For real comfort a chamois vest will surely satisfy. Our line is strong neat, pretty and comfortable, and will give more heat than several outer garments—they're absolutely cold and waterproof. You'll need one if you want warmth and protection. Prices $1.75 up. The Two Macs. drtf.

CURIOUS COURTSHIPS.

Some customs prevailing in certain parts of the Soudan have been described by Artin Pasha, who recently made a journey up the Blue and the White Nile. The gentleman is Minister of Education in Egypt and in his letters to his wife gave an account of his experiences, which is now published in a book called "England in the Soudan."

He came across certain tribes where the women, he says, "seem to have passed the limits of even American women," and he naively adds that but, for the distance from Cairo and the wilderness of the country he "would willingly pass several months in the midst of these good folk in order to learn the meaning of virtue in both the ancient and the modern sense of the word.

One girl may have as many as from seven to fifteen wooers, who court and flirt with her for a whole year in the sight of her parents. They not only visit her in the daytime, but remain at night near her dwelling to mount guard outside her room, going so far even as to keep watch within her room in order to be at her service in case she would awake.

"If she asks for water, as many calabashes of water are offered to her as there are lovers in attendance. Should she desire to pay calls on her friends, the whole of her lovers offer to carry her palanquin, and again it is the aspirants to her hand who undertake to anoint her with butter every morning. The period of courtship lasts for a year, at the end of which period the beauty must make her choice. When she does so the unsuccessful wooers go off to repeat their performances with another girl."

These maidens are black, and nominally at least Mohammedans, but in the matter of rights and liberties they have little to learn. The Shilluks of the White Nile, on the other hand, are as far as possible from being Mohammedans, yet their women have similar privileges.

"With the Shilluks it is the women that rule the household, the young women themselves that choose their husbands, and that, once married, assume the post of command. The strongest and most hot-headed man dare not beat his wife, for he would be looked down upon immediately, and would be unable to find a second wife to succeed his first. No missionary effort affects the Shilluk woman; it is practically impossible to convert her either to Christianity or to Islamism, for she is the guardian and depository of the Shilluk traditions, religion and historical customs."

THE J. M. CARBURETTER.

This enterprising invention by Jno MacDonald Jr. of Point Prim, was fully illustrated in Aeronautics of New York, U. S. A., in the September number which says the J. M. adjustmentless carburettor positively automatic, no springs, no adjustments of any kind, are to be made. Correct proportions automatically secured, not effected by change of speed, or altitude or by atmospheric conditions and is intended to fill all requirements and to run perfectly at speeds ranging from 50, to 1200, R. P. M. The illustrations showed the arrangement and operation. Gas enters at A, and passes through needle valve, B, which is actuated by the float, keeping the gasoline at the same height as the nozzle, C. The main air intake is at D. D. The piston E. driven by the cog from the engine power compresses the air and gas, forcing it up into the mixing chamber F, from which the engine receives it. For high engine speed there is an auxiliary air intake provided in the ball cage, G. G. The mixing chamber has a hot water jacket, to assume an even temperature at all times. The piston of the compressor is oiled by splash from the base of the carburetter. This carburetter is for the purpose of aviation engines which sudden changes in atmospheric conditions effect and which the motor will eliminate.

Dear Sirs,—While in the country last summer I was badly bitten by mosquitoes, so badly that I thought I would be disfigured for a couple of weeks. I was advised to try your Liniment to allay the irritation, and did so. The effect was more than I expected, a few applications completely curing the irritation, and preventing the bites from becoming sore. MINARD'S LINIMENT is also a good article to keep off the mosquitoes.
