BURNS CONCERT IN MARKET HALL.

The fame of the Burns Concerts under the auspices of the Caledonian Club grows from year to year. Last night's concert surpassed them all in the numbers attending if not in every respect. The people came from east, west, north and south, from town and country, every considerable section being represented. The Murray Harbor train alone brought a good sized audience. The big Market Hall, the largest place of assembly in the Province, was literally packed to the doors, with some hundreds still without when the concert began, only a few of whom afterward managed to get in. There were attentive listeners and the vast assembly was good natured and at frequent intervals enthusiastic. The handsome program, richly embellished with the portrait of the immortal bard and Scottish scenes, bore also the names of the best vocalists and instrumental performers of the island. The program, all or nearly all were at their best. Space will only permit mention of them and their respective numbers. After the overture, Gems of Scotland by the orchestra the audience were enraptured by the pipes and highland dances, Peter Ferguson and Charles

MURDERER TO HAVE A LADY LAWYER

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—If Miss Mary Coleman, lawyer and suffragette, can convince Judge Tompkins of Poughkeepsie, that her client, John B. Deterre, is sane she will probably be the first woman in the United States to defend a man accused of murder. Deterre has written in his cell at Matteawan a book of aphorisms which Miss Coleman thinks should convince the court of her client's sanity. If the court rules that Deterre is sane Miss Coleman will demand that he be tried for a six years term. Deterre came of a good Albany family and was accused of shooting his brother in 1902 and was adjudged sane.

SUPREME COURT NOW IN SESSION HARVARD VS. ST. FRANCIS XAVIER

thus showing that Mrs. Stanway is not entitled to any credit for improvement in that regard.

Mrs. Stanway received $40. This she claims, as being paid on account. It was paid in October, 1905. If she had a just claim up to that time, it would be $500. She applied to Mrs. Paton for the money, stating that she was going to the United States and needed the money. She continued the treatment, but never asked for money, never rendered an account. In July, 1907, she sent her son to the store to ask Mr. Paton for money. Thinking that it was for some thing she supplied Mrs. Paton, he referred the matter to her first. The next thing was the presentation of a bill for $500. He took no notice of it. J. T. Mellish came to collect the bill. He told him that without prejudice to the case he would pay her $50 or $100. This offer was not accepted. Then came the serving of a writ on Mr. Paton a few hours before his departure for the Old Country. If Mrs. Stanway had any valid claim she knows that Mr. Paton would have wittingly paid it. She was sick for five or six months, and not earning anything. Why did she not send for money when it would certainly have been acceptable.

Mr. Stewart, in his address, took issue at the outset with the contention of the defendant, that Mrs. Stanway came to Mr. Paton pleading to take up the treatment of his wife, and with their contention that Mrs. Stanway had effected no improvement. He referred to the evidence of Mrs. Goff, who said that her sister, Mrs. Farquharson, was anxious to have Mrs. Stanway treated. Mrs. Paton, because the latter had done her "Mrs. Farquharson" good. Mrs. Farquharson was so enthusiastic over Mrs. Stanway's work that Mrs. Paton felt satisfied she would get improvement. Miss Brown, Mrs. Paton's sister, went down to Mrs. Stanway and asked her to come up. She had other patients at the time, but she went up. Mr. Paton was not there the first time, and Mrs. Stanway asked that he be present when they came up. The next time, only Mrs. Paton and her husband were present. He raised the question of expense at the outset. Is it reasonable to maintain that Mrs. Stanway was so anxious to treat Mrs. Paton that she would do it for nothing? She has treated many patients in this Province, and has been paid in every case except this one. She was willing to meet Mr. Paton half way, and proposed to treat his wife for a reasonable time, and if no improvement was effected, then she would expect to be paid. Is it reasonable to suppose that Mrs. Stanway would have carried on day after day, for an unusually arduous treatment, for a year and a half, without expecting to receive pay. In the case of other patients, she had not demanded pay, but they had always paid. In the letter she wrote Mrs. Paton she said "that now you have received improvement I want you to send $50 on account." This statement has not been denied. In response Mr. Paton paid $40. He claims that it was only given as a present. If his contention is correct, why did he not send a note explaining "that it was given gratis." Mrs. Stanway says that she sent a receipt for $40 on account. Why does not Mr. Paton produce the receipt? Mr. Stewart referred to the evidence of Geo. Stanway, who came to Mr. Paton's store and asked for payment of the bill for work his wife had done to Mrs. Paton. How can Mr. Paton claim ignorance of what the bill was for.

Mr. Stewart also reviewed the evidence of Mrs. Goff, claiming that the latter was "mistaken" regarding the statement "no cure, no pay." She was evidently confounding it with some other case. It was a belief that arose out of her own ideas. He then pointed out that Miss Belle Paton was sent down to Mrs. Stanway's, and that the latter came back to resume her treatment after returning from New York. Belle Paton admits that she went to Mrs. Stanway on her mother's behalf. Mrs. Stanway says that she placed to ask her to also come to her place to ask her to come up. She was sent to Mrs. Stanway by Roland Paton to George Stanway to resume her treatment of Mrs. Paton, who was then in Keppoch. Mr. Stewart contended that the evidence on the defendant's side showed that there had been really an improvement in the stomach, although no credit is given by Mr. Paton to Mrs. Stanway. Mrs. Paton herself admits "that her limbs did improve under treatment." Mrs. J. M. Campbell testified that her husband was receiving benefit from Mrs. Stanway, and that Mr. Paton had admitted to her (Mrs. Campbell) that his wife was also improving under Mrs. Stanway's treatment. Mr. Stewart contended that it was unreasonable to expect that Mrs. Stanway told him in October last that a part of the contract was that there should be a cure before she would be paid. He also claimed that he had received notice in being served with a writ, in conclusion, he pointed out that both parties must understand a contract before it is binding.

The Judge then charged the jury and in a short time they returned a verdict for the defendant.

The next case was Mobbey vs. Mc Donald. An action for rent of house and premises at Peakes Station and other smaller affairs. The jury returned a verdict of $56.60 for the plaintiff. A. J. B. Mellish for the plaintiff. Gandel for the defendant. This finishes the civil cases and the jury were discharged.

THE SUMMERSIDE BOARD OF TRADE

SUMMERSIDE, Jan. 23.—The following is the annual address of Vice President McKie of the Summerside Board of Trade:

Gentlemen: You will concur with me in greatly regretting the absence of our President which greatly deprives us of the instructive address that we look for from him.

The report of the Secretary shows little activity by our Board during the past year. It would seem that we are growing a little weary, and that although hope springs eternal, it is when too long deferred, maketh the heart sick.

The Boards of Trade of our Island are forced to the belief that upon questions affecting the Province, as in the betterment of streets and transportation, local resolutions are given short shrift at Ottawa, and, as indicated by President Paton, of the Charlottetown Board, some amalgamation of the Island Boards seems necessary.

The usual tragedy of the mismanagement of our winter transportation service was again enacted and how great is the need of the direction of this service from the Island, rather than from Ottawa, has come more sharply home to our people than ever before. The call of the age is for men trained to the minute, specialized for the work they control; the day of independent Commission and Audit is here. In this direction there is need that the controllers of Departments (the business of our Country should be trained men, known in their business as the General Manager of any great corporation must know his?).

If we are to make any comparison from year to year of the business of our Country, the need of statistics is clear. At our last Annual Meeting a committee was formed to see what could be done in the matter.

The completion of a Water and Sewerage system for Summerside marks an epoch. There is much to be done in the betterment of streets and sidewalks, and the beautifying of our town, by modern methods. A civic pride along these lines surely pays in dollars and sense.

Our tourist trade is yet in its infancy; everything that will foster its growth must make for the financial benefit of our people. Where a touch of Nature makes the whole world kin, "Anna of Green Gables" will increase our kinsmen far and near, and we think Prince Edward Island owes a deep debt of gratitude to the author for a man who has so lovingly introduced our Island scenery to many far away homes.

While conditions within the Province are about as usual, our country is passing through a period of financial calm, the natural result of the financial storm of a year ago. From all quarters, however, some hopeful views of the future are being expressed. If Prince Edward Island is to maintain its life in this growing confederacy, insistence of fulfilment of the terms upon which we entered into the confederation—even to all that was nominated in the bond—must be the paramount duty of the representatives our people send to Ottawa.

The Railway Commission is sitting in St. John to enquire into the express rates, and the Charlottetown Board has had Horace Hassard give evidence as to conditions in this Province. It is understood that the Commission disapproves of the present schedule of rates, and reduction is looked for.

The year just passed marks many momentous movements. In England the hereditary rights of the Lords is questioned. Germany sees the Divine Right of kings go into eclipse. In Russia the growl of the serf is fast becoming articulate. In America the cry of reform comes from an aroused people, and it would seem that we enter within 1909 upon a world fevered with problems that cannot but work out for the betterment of social conditions. In the world wide instance aid to stricken Italy, the brotherhood of man stands out of that valley of death as a lesson of hope.

I thank you gentlemen for the honor conferred on me last year, Yours truly,

W. H. Mackie, Vice President.

McIntyre to the Great World's Fair at Chicago, this paper thus being the first in the Province to attempt so formidable an undertaking. And now, at the urgent request of a number of its readers and encouraged by the unprecedented success which has attended its Bicycle Race, an annual event which is looked forward to and witnessed by thousands of its readers, The Charlottetown Guardian will present to the eight most popular unmarried lady residents of this Province, a trip from Charlottetown through Eastern Canada and the Eastern States, the return journey being varied as much as possible. The trip will eclipse in magnitude and grandeur anything previously attempted by any Provincial newspaper.
