The contracting parties were Norman Colin Stewart and Miss Elsie Russell Stewart, daughter of Jas. B. Stewart, Rosneath, P. E. I. The eighth annual anniversary of Try Again Division No. 235, S. O. T. was held at the Division rooms, Bonshaw, on the evening of the 1st inst. As this annual gathering is one of special interest, it is always looked forward to with jubilation by the members of Try Again and their many friends. Their hopes were well rewarded on this occasion, as the event proved a huge success. After a few introductory remarks from the chairman, J. J. MacLeod, the following program was very creditably rendered, meriting the hearty applause of those present: Chorus—We are going to banish the Bar—Try Again choir; speech, J. J. MacLeod; reading, Tilly MacDonald, (encored); instrumental music, George and Harry Villett, (encored); solo, Lizzie MacDonald, (encored); reading, L. MacKinnon, (encored); chorus, The Light Way, Try Again choir; reading, E. Crosby; solo, Harrison Villett, (encored); reading, A. J. MacNevin. J. J. MacLeod in his speech paid a fitting eulogy to the memory of late sister Maggie MacNevin, whose demise took place recently. He spoke with earnest appreciation of her sterling worth as a member of the Division, and of how her cheerfulness and her counsel would ever be missed by her associates. At the conclusion of the program all were invited to the dining department and partook of a rather reliable supper provided through the kindness and generosity of the lady members. This part of the affair, needless to say, proved pleasing, the seasonable dishes and dainties called forth many words of praise. Much merriment was created by the choir singing a cleverly written "sketch in which a number of members came in for no small amount of jeer." "Now Alex. write a great report and send it to the press. Be sure you praise the supper and the ladies' style and dress."—There was much more of this including a flattering reference to "The Guardian."

At the police court in this city Saturday Edward Fraser, Vernon River, for a second offence was adjourned for one week. Five parties were fined for fast driving on the streets, the majority of them confessing. The Magistrate, in placing the lines in these cases explained clearly how fast driving, besides being otherwise offensive, had such a detrimental effect on the streets that it was almost necessary that those who offended in this respect should contribute an occasional mite towards the maintenance of the thoroughfares. It is understood that about eight more summonses are out in this same connection.

A Moncton despatch which will interest many here says: It may be only a question of a short time before the locomotives of the Intercolonial Railway are fired with oil fuel. The recently developed wells of Albert County are yielding abundantly of both oil and gas, and already preparations are under way to supply natural gas to Moncton houses for light and heat, and to manufacturers and others for power purposes. The advantages of oil fuel are obvious as by its use greater speed could be attained, as well as greater cleanliness and comfort of travel. It is claimed also that the use of oil as fuel would be a measure of economy that would be an important factor in its favor.

A recent despatch from Pittsburgh, which will more particularly interest telephone girls and phone users, makes the following statement: "Hello" henceforth is barred in telephone exchanges, and the public is expected to do its share to stop using the old salutation. The telephone companies here have decided that it is improper in polite telephone conversation, but they have recommended no substitute. Operators have been forbidden to use the word in calling for a number. One company says that the frequent use of "Hello" is regarded as too harsh, and Pittsburgh ministers say it is almost profane. The girls in the big exchanges have one week to stop the use of the salutation. It is interesting to note the fact that a reform is here suggested uncoupled with any applicable remedy. Perhaps some citizen could suggest an appropriate word or phrase to assist the Pittsburgh folks in their dilemma.
