GOOD WORDS FOR PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Mr. J. A. McDonald is back from Charlottetown, where he was attending the provincial exhibition, says a Halifax Exchange, He says it is a big fair, managed by big men, and that everything runs like clockwork—a management satisfied, with citizens and citizens pleased with management. Premier Mathieson and Hon. Murdock McKinnon commissioners representing the government.

F. Heartz is the president, and the indefatigable secretary is Mr. Smallwood. Mr. McDonald says these men are always in evidence, assisting, advertising and encouraging.

Mr. McDonald says that any one can see that supervision runs from one fair date to the other, and the president and secretary have associated with them as officers in charge of departments, men of proven business ability—successful organizers.

"On all sides I hear favorable comment," he said. the success of the exhibition making everything else look good. P. E. Island has had an awakening. There are no drones there. Politics and personal prejudice play no part in their forward movement. Optimism is in every step and confidence in every eye. The result will be that not only will Prince Edward Island be the Garden of the Gulf, but she will be competing in other things with her sister provinces for first place in this Canada of ours."

ABSOLUTE DEATH TEST

PARIS, Sept. 27—A remarkable new method of testing absolutely whether an apparently dead person is really dead and thus avoiding the possibility of premature burial, just announced by Dr. Icard of Marseilles, has been received with great interest by his colleagues in Paris.

Dr. Icard's system depends on the question whether the blood is still in circulation or not, and consists of a subcutaneous injection of a small quantity of fluorescine which is quite harmless, but one of the most violent coloring matters known.

If there be the slightest motion of the blood the flourescine, carried around the body, strains it a vivid golden yellow, while the eyes become a deep emerald green. If, on the other hand, there is no movement of the blood, the coloring matter is not dispersed, and produces no effect. Half an hour is stated to be enough to make this test.

The laity, while duly impressed by this neat method, are asking, whether persons who are alive and undergo the dying process, and who later will recover, will lose the golden yellow tint and the green eyes, as Dr. Icards describes them, "are transformed into superb emeralds, set like jewels in their sockets."

It may be added, however, that fluorescine is one of the most transitory dyes known.

KLARK-URBAN COMPANY

Excellent Performance.

At the Opera House last night, the Klark-Urban Dramatic Company opened a week's engagement in Charlottetown. It was a very successful opening, both in regard to the company's performance and the attendance they attracted. Practically a packed house witnessed the curtain rise in the first act and it certainly was a highly pleased and well satisfied audience that saw the curtain drop on the ending of an entrancing drama, exceptionally well acted.

The management of the company could hardly have made a better choice for the opening production. "Alias Jimmy Valentine" the play presented last night, is a smartly written drama, powerful in parts with the pathos of life, compelling attention from the very start and holding the interest unabated to the very last scene.

The story of the play deals with a side of life that has always a peculiar magnetism and interest for the average person, based as it is on the romance of criminality. A more romantic character then Jimmy Valentine, the "Flash Crook" who was considered by the officers of the law as the most dangerous criminal alive, a man with the extraordinary gift of opening the combination of bank safes by the means of mere sense of touch—could hardly be imagined; romantic not so much in his gentlemanly bearing and characteristics as in his determined and successful endeavor to be "square"—which indeed is the episode on which the whole play turns. Love there is, of course, in it, and Jimmy by leaving the crooked paths of criminal life, and "running straight" wins the love of a good gentlewoman, who in the extraordinary nature of the story it is not surprising to find is the daughter of the proprietor of a bank. In fact in that bank Jimmy Valentine, or to give him the name bestowed on him by his god-parents, Lee Randall, holds the responsible position of assistant cashier. Not only does Jimmy reform himself, but is also instrumental in the reformation of two of his "crook" pals. And all through the influence of a good woman.

Full of thrilling climaxes the play had the audience repeatedly entirely absorbed, and so splendid was the portrayal that the company gave, that frequently the enthusiastic audience broke into out bursts of applause. The scenery was exceptionally good.

In the title role, Mr. Harden Klark was really good, imparting into his representation all the power and feeling the character demanded.

As Rose Lane, the woman who proved to be Jimmy's saving angel, Miss Maisie Cecil acted especially well, and with fine emotion. Mr. George Brown, in the impersonation of crafty and slenth-like Detective Doyle, was excellent, as was Mr. Frank Urban as Bill Avery, an old offender and a pal of Jimmy's who found his reformed life rather difficult to maintain at first. Mr. Frank Field was really good in his portrayal of the stern and bullying Handler, the Warden of Sing Sing prison; and equally so in his second part, Red Jocelyn, a Yegg, another of Jimmy Valentine's Bowery pals. The character of Robert Fay Lieut-Governor of New York and uncle of Rose Lane, who in consideration of some great service performed by Valentine to his niece gave the convict the pardon which released him from Sing-Sing, was well performed by Mr. Fred Schrieber, who also did full justice to his second role that of William Lane, the banker, Rose's father. Mr. Billy Webb made an amusing German inventor, Blickendolfenbach, and was still more amusing as Bobby Lane, Rose's young brother, in which part he was decidedly clever. Equally clever was Miss Anna Kiley's acting as Kitty Lane, Rose's girl sister. Miss Georgie Lee as Mrs. Webster and Miss Marie Fountain, as Mrs. Moore, pious members of the Gate of Hope Society —an equally pious convict reforming organsation; Mr. Will Schreiber, as "Bliny Davis," a forger; Mr. Levy Kenneth as "Dick the Rat," a sneak thief and as Williams a bank clerk; and Mr. Al Canton, as Smith, Warden Handler's clerk and as a bell boy, had parts which though minor in importance were, contributing factors in the all round success of the play.

An enjoyable feature of the performance were the entertaining vaudeville turns rendered between acts, singing, step-dancing, juggling and freak music being the various numbers executed, with a charm and novelty that were delightful.

Tonight the company will present "Girls," a high-class comedy by Clyde Fitch that has had a most successful run on the New York stage.

GERMANS TO STUDY AMERICAN PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29—Among the passengers on board the steamer Victoria Louise, which sailed from Hamburg today bound for New York, are four German officials appointed by the German Government as commissioners to study American prisons. The four commissioners of the German Government are Privy Councillors Plaschke of Berlin and Schlosser of Wabern; Superintendent of Prisons Hiekmann of Werl and Reformatory Superintendent Remppis of Wabern. They are expected to arrive in New York about October 9, and will make a 2000-mile tour under the direction of Orlando F. Lewis, the general secretary of the Prison Association of New York, who was asked by the German Government to arrange the itinerary.

According to the plans arranged by Mr. Lewis the German commissioners will visit the Bedford Reformatory for Women under his guidance on the day after their arrival in New York. On October 11 they will inspect the New Jersey State Reformatory at Rahway, N. J. and on the following day, Oct. 12, they are to leave New York for Indianapolis, where they will attend the American Prison Congress.

Unless some changes are made in the progress the German commissioners will see Sing Sing on Oct. 27 and then Great Meadow. After visiting New England prisons, Boston and Washington, where they will meet President Wilson, it is expected, the commissioners will return to New York to sail hence for Germany on November 7. The prisons which the German officials are likely to consider important as representing types, are Sing Sing, Auburn and Great Meadow, in the State af New York; the Indian State Prison at Michigan City, the Illinois State Prison at Joliet, and the Massachusetts State Prison at Charlestown, Mass. In studying American reformatories they will probably spend two days at Elmira, N. Y., and will note particularly the reformatories at Mansfield, O., Concord, Mass., and Rahway, N. J.

In recent years Germany has developed several excellent reform schools for boys and girls, largely upon American models and the German opinion of the George Junior Republic, Industry and Hudson and Bedford reformatories in New York will therefore be interesting. Other reform schools that will be visited are the St. Charles School for Boys and the schools at Shirley, Lancaster and Westboro in Massachusetts.

RESPONSIBLE FOR RISING GENERATION

Rev. Dr. Fullerton's Special Mission.

That those in the Kingdom of Christ may realize their responsibility towards the rising generation and those who are careless and indifferent, and go forward in their duty of saving souls from the dangers and pitfalls of life, is the object of the special mission which the Rev. Dr. Fullerton is conducting in St. James Hall every evening this week.

The rev. doctor has taken for the subject of his discourses Luke XXIII. —the parables of the Lost Sheep, the Lost Coin, and the Prodigal Son. On Sunday evening he dealt with the first parable, and last evening he expounded the other two parables. In

400 KILLED IN MEXICAN STRUGGLE

(Canadian Press)

PIEDRAS, Nigras, Mexico, Sept. 29—More than four hundred Federal and rebel dead were left on the field below Barroteran after a fierce struggle lasting during the whole of Sunday.

Eye-witnesses say that desperate hand to hand fighting occurred after the exhaustion of the ammunition.

(Canadian Press)

CANANA, Sept. 29.—Conscription is being resorted to by constitutionalists in Sonora State, Mexico, to increase the army. The situation is so grave for the government of the state, that parties are being sent all through the states to increase the strength of the state troops for the fall campaign against the Federals.

Arms and ammunition in possession of civilians are being confiscated.

Americans and other foreigners are not compelled to give up their arms, but those who wish to do so are permitted to exchange them for quivers and bows and arrows of Mayo Indians, 800 of whom have joined the State troops.

It transpired to-night that for twenty-four hours after the operation his life was dispaired of.

RELAYING CORNER STONE 100 YEARS OLD

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 29.— The cornerstone of St. Mary's Episcopal Church at Newton Lower Falls, near the city, which was originally laid in 1813, was relaid today under appropriate ceremonies and in the presence of thousands of visitors from Boston and other cities and towns in this section of the State.

St. Mary's was the first Episcopal church in Newton. The congregation was organized in 1812 and in the following year the first church was built. The cornerstone was laid by the grand lodge of Masons of Massachusetts, assisted by the Maridien Lodge of Natick. Recently when the old church building was thoroughly repaired, the old cornerstone was taken out and the box containing the old records examined.

At the ceremony today the cornerstone was relaid by the same lodges, which laid the original cornerstone in 1813. In the evening there will be a reception at the church and several of the surviving former rectors of the church will deliver addresses.

GOVERNOR SULTZER WINS TRIPLE VICTORY

(Canadian Press)

ALBANIA, Sept. 29.—Sultzer today won a triple victory over the opposing forces seeking to impeach him.

Presiding Judge Cullen of the high court barred the introduction of evidence to show that Sultzer made a corrupt bargain with the assemblyman Patrie and held that the evidence brought forward to show that he made similar bargains with other assemblymen was not sufficient.

The legislation had to do in each case with improvements which the assemblymen had advocated in bills.

In each case the Governor advised them to see his personal counsel before he signed the bills.

With the introduction of three more contributions not reported by the Governor in his sworn statement of campaign receipts and more evidence concerning his Wall Street speculations, the case against Sultzer is drawing to a close. It has been announced that the case will probably be completed to-morrow with the calling of two or three more witnesses.
