

THE SUMMER SIDE GUARDIAN

and PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

Western Locals

—This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a heavy nature may be inserted at a cents a word strictly payable in advance.

—FRESH frozen beef hearts in stock at Braze's. L-3849-3-31-21.

—RUBBER fishing suits, rubber boots, hats and long coats, sold at Braze's. L-3526-3-30-21.

—SUMM'S quality brooms and brushes, all kinds at Braze's. L-3849-3-31-21.

—WHY FEED imported Fox feeds when as good and better are manufactured in the Maritime Provinces. Sunglo is one of them at Summerside, P. E. I. L-3580-3-28-Stff.

—SUNGLO VIXEN & PUPPY STARTER for Vixens after pups are 10 days old and until pups are weaned. This Ration is a Special Feed for starting those pups on. Buy from your nearest Sunglo Dealer. L-3580-3-28-Stff.

—FUNERAL SERVICE—The funeral of Mrs. Macdonald, D. MacLeod to place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity United Church, Summerside and was conducted by Rev. L. E. G. Davies. The choir led the singing of favorite hymns. Mr. Albert Huestis sang "Shadows." The pallbearers were Messrs. A. S. Mackay, S. M. Hicks, L. R. Allen, Hooper Linkletter, George Sheen and Willard Phillips. Interment was in the People's Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Davies officiated at the grave. L-3580-3-28-Stff.

—PURCHASE OF WAREHOUSE AT CARLETON—Mr. Russell Hammill, an enterprising young farmer and trader of Seven Mile Bay has recently purchased from Mr. Albert Muttart, Carleton, his large and up-to-date frostproof warehouse. Mr. Hammill has recently been doing a flourishing business in buying and shipping operations and with the general confidence so universally manifested by the public in him we bespeak every success in his activities and undertakings. Needless to say this warehouse is the centre of a thriving farming community and represents one of the best, if not the best, sites in the Province.

—Miss Elizabeth Whitehead, Graham's Road is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.—S

—Mr. Edward Aresnault, Summerside has entered the Prince County Hospital for treatment.—S

—The many friends of Hon. L. R. Allen, Summerside will regret to learn that he is confined to his home through illness and hope he will be around again in a few days.

Personals

—Miss Elizabeth Whitehead, Graham's Road is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.—S

—Mr. Edward Aresnault, Summerside has entered the Prince County Hospital for treatment.—S

—The many friends of Hon. L. R. Allen, Summerside will regret to learn that he is confined to his home through illness and hope he will be around again in a few days.

To Form New Fish And Game Association

(Continued from Page 1)

$1.00 license for hunting.

"These fees are most objectionable and we feel will cause a lot of annoyance to the residents of the country as well as to the citizens of the city."

The meeting also took exception to the P. E. I. Association's plan to change the date of the trout fishing season.

Mr. James McKee moved a resolution to the effect that the trout fishing season be from the first of April to the end of September. An amendment was moved by Mr. Earl Biggs, seconded by Mr. Reg. Cox, that the authorities be requested to make the season from the first of April to the end of August. The amendment carried.

The meeting approved of the proposed open season on ruffed grouse and Hungarian partridge of two weeks each year beginning in 1936, as suggested by the provincial Association.

The recommended change in Section 32 of the Fish and Game Act having to do with regulations concerning trespassing also came in for criticism. A resolution was passed requesting that the section be left as it was in the Act now in force. The motion was moved by Mr. Earl Biggs and seconded by Mr. James McKee.

Formation of the new association was moved by Mr. Earl Biggs and seconded by Mr. George Ledwith. The necessary steps for the undertaking was left with the mover and seconded by the meeting.

Mr. H. H. Acorn, M.L.A., and Mr. George Saville, M.L.A., were present and on invitation of the chairman spoke briefly. Mr. Spurgeon Jenkins, special R. C. M. P. game officer, was also present.

Mr. Herb Vessey, president of the Progressive Club, was the chairman.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Reasons For Commission

The Minister gave four reasons for a national commission.

1. After five or six years unemployment persists and does not respond quickly to ordinary legislation. It was necessary to conduct a national survey before long-term remedies were applied.

Successful Concert At Travellers Rest

A very interesting variety concert was presented in Traveller's Rest Hall on Friday evening, March 27, by the people of the community assisted by talented musicians from Kensington, New Annan and Summerside.

Rev. W. A. Nicholson in his usual genial and pleasing manner very capably presided. The best of order prevailed throughout the following program which was very pleasingly rendered.

Instrumental music: violin, Samuel MacAusland and Weston Rayner; harp, Ted Ahearn; autoharp, Garnet Profit; piano, Mrs. G. M. Ramsay.

Welcome chorus.

Reading, "My Ideal," Florence Dixon.

Dialogue, "Keeping up Appearances."

Folk dances, characteristic of England, Scotland, Denmark and Germany by 8 girls.

Reading "Nora and the Twins," by Ernestine Marchbank.

Solo, Roscoe Walker.

Chorus, "Merrily Goes our Bark." Intermission, sale of candy.

Instrumental music.

Solo, Ted Ahearn.

Charleston Dance, Ada Mallot.

Reading, "Down with the Men," by Mrs. Gladys Gunning.

Instrumental | Harmony | Trio: Rayner, Profit and Ahearn.

Reading, Weston Rayner.

One-act play, "Homeopathy."

Reading, "Izzy at the Wedding," by Dannie MacDonald.

Flash quartet, Olive Dalziel, Miriam Quitt, Roscoe Walker and Wm. Forbes.

Dialogue, "A Fiance for Fanny." Chorus, "Good Night."

The King.

The accompanists for the evening were Mrs. G. M. Ramsay and Miss Miriam Profit.

A neat sum was realized which goes towards the building of a horse-shed on the grounds adjoining the Hall.—S

Mr. Jack Redford of Borden who had the misfortune to lose three silver foxes from his ranch on Saturday night, succeeded in capturing two females on Sunday. The other one is still at large.—D

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen of Borden on the birth of a daughter, Friday, March 27th.—D

Master Jackie Lefurage, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefurage of North Tryon fell out of an upstairs window last Friday and broke his right arm. The youthful sufferer is doing as well as can be expected.—D

Mr. Bruce Campbell of Augustine Cove was a passenger to Charlottetown on Saturday to visit his wife who is a patient in the P. E. I. Hospital. He reports her condition much improved.—D

Mr. Louis Muttart of Cape Traverse, lost a valuable year-old colt from pneumonia, last Friday night.—D

China Chafing Between Fires In War Threat

(By C. Y. McDaniel)

NANKING, March 30 — China would gain little and possibly lose more than she has during the last five years should the never-ending series of events in northeastern Asia which many foresee as the inevitable climax of four decades of Russo-Japanese enmity and conflicting ambitions.

This is the mature Chinese official opinion which decries the popular Chinese belief that in a war between Russia and Japan lies China's hope of regaining what she has lost in territory and international prestige.

Nanking officials' fear that China would be the loser, no matter which way the fortunes of war turned, is based upon Japan's evident intention of setting the stage of war as far as possible from the Japanese islands and as near as possible to the heart of the great expanse which extends across Europe and Asia.

By taking Manchuria and Jehol, and extending westward across north China and Inner Mongolia, Japan is seen by Nanking as having commenced her attempts to stage manage the war drama which Tokyo's military actors have been preparing since the close of the Russo-Japanese conflict of 1904-05.

Scouting persistent reports that Nanking has reached a mutual assistance agreement with Moscow in case of war with Japan, civil and military officials at the Chinese capital explain that by joining hands with Russia, China would lay her long coastline and navigable rivers open to Japanese attack and occupation before a single shot would be fired along the Siberian border.

Some Chinese politico-military strategists are known to advocate open and active support of Japan against Russia. But Chinese statesmen cannot but picture China's sad lot as an ally of defeated Japan.

Soviet Russia has repeatedly disavowed any territorial ambitions in east Asia, but China's experts in east Asia, and the vanquished party in foreign wars during the last century has left her leaders reluctant to pursue any course which might result in China having to throw herself upon the mercy of any victor.

"We are resting precariously on the horns of a dilemma. Whatever we do will be wrong."

2. The previous government declined to subsidize the unemployed into social and employment divisions which he believed absolutely necessary.

3. Because of the federal constitution, to avoid friction and duplication in relief administration, it was necessary to have some co-ordinating board, some connecting link between governments.

4. The experience of the past five years had shown it is not in the power of governments to end unemployment by their own unaided efforts. A victory over the depression and unemployment could not be won by a battle on one front but only by a sustained battle along the whole economic front. With some guiding hand, there must be a concerted effort by governments, employers, labor organizations, social service workers and many others.

When Governor Hoffman entered the conference chamber of the Fardons Court, he carried with him what an authoritative source said were at least two "confessions"—the repudiated statement of Paul Wendel and the Gaston B. Means statement.

Means was said by the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times to be in solitary confinement in the penitentiary there for alleged attempts to smuggle letters, one of them detailing his purported "confession" out of the prison.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer (Trenton) County, declared he did not believe Wendel was connected with the case. Wendel told authorities he was kidnapped and forced at the point of a gun to sign a "confession," although he knew nothing of the case except what he had read and heard.

Gaston Means, whose statement has been discounted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, served a term at Leavenworth for defrauding Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, Washington society woman, of $104,000 by promising her that he would produce the baby.

draw troops from the Belgian frontier because Belgium has not formed a pact with Soviet Russia (as has France).

"Or he may say: 'I will fortify as I please along the French frontier, but not along either the Dutch or the Belgian.'"

"Again, he may say: 'I interpreted the peoples' vote to mean they do not want me to yield an inch anywhere, so I will continue and I will start forthwith to fortify as I please.'"

"Any of these possibilities are open, besides any number of surprises he may spring. The man is simply unbearably cunning (meaning, 'you can't ever figure him out in advance')."

When this diplomat's attention was called to the fact that the German press today was very intransigent and unyielding, he replied: "Even that means nothing because Hitler may suddenly decide to make a conciliatory gesture."

There was chagrin in official circles over the speech yesterday by Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin of France who demanded that Hitler state his intentions clearly. German officials felt he was trying to deal with Germany as a power of inferior rights.

BRUSSELS MAY

(Continued from Page 1)

Chancellor Hitler himself knew tonight what his detailed reply to Great Britain in the Locarno crisis tomorrow would be—a reply he promised would have "positive" proposals for peace.

Political sources intimated the Hitler proposals would "astound the world" but whether he would aid Great Britain's efforts for a peaceful solution of the European struggle by a conciliatory gesture only Der Fuehrer himself knew.

Backing Hitler was an overwhelming endorsement by the German people. An official announcement of the result of yesterday's Reichstag election—in reality a plebiscite upon approval of Der Fuehrer's foreign policy—said he won 99 per cent of the votes. Of the 4,884,937 ballots, 44,411,911 were for Hitler while 548,026 were either "no" or invalid.

When Hitler rejected the four-power Locarno proposals for settlement of the Rhineland question last week he promised Great Britain he would submit "positive" proposals tomorrow.

One diplomat in the Locarno group—now composed of Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium—volunteered this analysis of the situation:

"After yesterday's vote Hitler has it in his hands to say: 'I will withdraw my troops from the Rhineland but also my peace offer,' or he may say: 'I am willing to with-

Carleton And Vicinity

Mr. Crilly Lea, employee of R. T. Holman, Ltd., Summerside, motored to Victoria on Sunday.—D

Mr. Jack Anear of Montague, spent a very enjoyable week-end in Carleton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Muttart.—D

Mr. Charles Bell of Carleton, representative of A. M. Bell & Co., left Monday morning on a business trip to Halifax, N. S.—D

Mr. and Mrs. Julien Herring and three children of Borden, spent the week-end in Murray Harbor.—D

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Crockett and Mr. J. McCurdy Bell returned to Charlottetown on the Express Thursday evening, after attending the funeral of their brother-in-law, the late Mr. Harry B. Webster of Augustine Cove.—D

Mr. Jack Redford of Borden who had the misfortune to lose three silver foxes from his ranch on Saturday night, succeeded in capturing two females on Sunday. The other one is still at large.—D

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen of Borden on the birth of a daughter, Friday, March 27th.—D

Master Jackie Lefurage, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefurage of North Tryon fell out of an upstairs window last Friday and broke his right arm. The youthful sufferer is doing as well as can be expected.—D

Mr. Bruce Campbell of Augustine Cove was a passenger to Charlottetown on Saturday to visit his wife who is a patient in the P. E. I. Hospital. He reports her condition much improved.—D

Mr. Louis Muttart of Cape Traverse, lost a valuable year-old colt from pneumonia, last Friday night.—D

Many friends throughout the province were shocked when they learned that Mr. Albert Sherren of Cape Traverse had passed away very suddenly at his home, on Friday, March 27th, following a heart attack. He had been in his usual health, and after doing up the morning chores brought in the mail when he was suddenly stricken. Dr. Bell, who was hurriedly summoned, arrived almost immediately only to find that the patient was already beyond human aid. Mr. Sherren was a splendid citizen, upright and industrious, and will be greatly missed in the community. He was a member of the Anglican church, and a staunch Liberal supporter. His sorrowing widow, formerly Miss Bessie Milligan, three sons, Russel in Midland, Ont., Heber of Augustine Cove, Ernest of Cape Traverse and three daughters, Hazel, Alice and Annie, all at home also a sister, Mrs. Bigany in Boston and two brothers, David of Capra and Alfred of Victoria. The funeral, which was held on Sunday was very largely attended in spite of the very bad condition of the roads. Mr. Sherren had some time ago chosen the music which he wished at his funeral and his requests were carried out. Rev. Arthur Org. of Beedee conducted the service at the home, and spoke very feelingly from the words "In the midst of life we are in death." The hymn Rock of Ages was sung also a duet Abide With Me, by Mrs. Thomas Bell and Mr. Charles Bell. The remains were taken to St. John's Church at Capra where the rector, Rev. E. R. Bridgewater conducted the service. The hymns were Safe in the Arms of Jesus and Nearer My God to Thee. Interment was in the Church of England Cemetery. The pall-bearers were all nephews of the deceased, Messrs. George Clifford, Arthur, George and Stewart Sherren.—D

Is Sentenced To Die Tonight For Kidnap - Slaying

(Continued from Page 1)

She had visited him only a few hours before and had left the death house expressing confidence that "his innocence will save him."

"He did not say goodbye to me," she said then, "he said 'auf wiedersehen' ('until we meet again')."

Mrs. Hauptmann will not be permitted to see her husband on his last day, which he will spend with a spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Mathieson.

He has not seen their two-year-old son, Manfred, since he was arrested in Sept. 1934, as the Lindbergh kidnapper, a charge he always has denied.

Has No Comment

Attorney General David Wilentz, chief of the prosecution staff at Hauptmann's trial in Flemington more than a year ago, said he had no comment.

In reply to questions, he affirmed his stand that a second review by the Governor now would be illegal.

During the Court of Pardons session held in executive session and marked by the collapse of prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., it was known the disputed kidnap ladder played an important part in Governor Hoffman's plea for Hauptmann.

Hoffman, who has declared the prisoner's trial "reeked with unfairness, passion and prejudice," personally inspected the floor boards in the attic of Hauptmann's Bronx home, which allegedly matched one of those used in making the ladder.

The court listened to arguments by counsel for four hours and 32 minutes. Hauck was temporarily overcome by excitement and strain, but was able to return to the chamber after a brief rest.

considered Developments

During the long session, the court presumably had considered these new developments, among others:

1. The lodging of a murder charge against Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney who repudiated a "confession" that he had made for the Lindbergh baby kidnapper.

2. The disclosure that Gaston B. Means, former federal investigator, allegedly had "confessed" from his cell in Leavenworth Penitentiary that he killed the child.

It was learned that the qualifications of Arthur J. Koehler, who testified as a wood expert for the state, were under discussion.

When Governor Hoffman visited the condemned man's home last week he was accompanied by Arch W. Loney, a public works administration engineer, who later expressed the opinion that "rail" of the ladder did not match the other boards in the attic flooring.

Carried "Confessions"

When Governor Hoffman entered the conference chamber of the Fardons Court, he carried with him what an authoritative source said were at least two "confessions"—the repudiated statement of Paul Wendel and the Gaston B. Means statement.

Means was said by the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times to be in solitary confinement in the penitentiary there for alleged attempts to smuggle letters, one of them detailing his purported "confession" out of the prison.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer (Trenton) County, declared he did not believe Wendel was connected with the case. Wendel told authorities he was kidnapped and forced at the point of a gun to sign a "confession," although he knew nothing of the case except what he had read and heard.

Gaston Means, whose statement has been discounted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, served a term at Leavenworth for defrauding Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, Washington society woman, of $104,000 by promising her that he would produce the baby.

draw troops from the Belgian frontier because Belgium has not formed a pact with Soviet Russia (as has France).

"Or he may say: 'I will fortify as I please along the French frontier, but not along either the Dutch or the Belgian.'"

"Again, he may say: 'I interpreted the peoples' vote to mean they do not want me to yield an inch anywhere, so I will continue and I will start forthwith to fortify as I please.'"

"Any of these possibilities are open, besides any number of surprises he may spring. The man is simply unbearably cunning (meaning, 'you can't ever figure him out in advance')."

When this diplomat's attention was called to the fact that the German press today was very intransigent and unyielding, he replied: "Even that means nothing because Hitler may suddenly decide to make a conciliatory gesture."

There was chagrin in official circles over the speech yesterday by Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin of France who demanded that Hitler state his intentions clearly. German officials felt he was trying to deal with Germany as a power of inferior rights.

Is Sentenced To Die Tonight For Kidnap - Slaying

(Continued from Page 1)

She had visited him only a few hours before and had left the death house expressing confidence that "his innocence will save him."

"He did not say goodbye to me," she said then, "he said 'auf wiedersehen' ('until we meet again')."

Mrs. Hauptmann will not be permitted to see her husband on his last day, which he will spend with a spiritual adviser, the Rev. John Mathieson.

He has not seen their two-year-old son, Manfred, since he was arrested in Sept. 1934, as the Lindbergh kidnapper, a charge he always has denied.

Has No Comment

Attorney General David Wilentz, chief of the prosecution staff at Hauptmann's trial in Flemington more than a year ago, said he had no comment.

In reply to questions, he affirmed his stand that a second review by the Governor now would be illegal.

During the Court of Pardons session held in executive session and marked by the collapse of prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, Jr., it was known the disputed kidnap ladder played an important part in Governor Hoffman's plea for Hauptmann.

Hoffman, who has declared the prisoner's trial "reeked with unfairness, passion and prejudice," personally inspected the floor boards in the attic of Hauptmann's Bronx home, which allegedly matched one of those used in making the ladder.

The court listened to arguments by counsel for four hours and 32 minutes. Hauck was temporarily overcome by excitement and strain, but was able to return to the chamber after a brief rest.

considered Developments

During the long session, the court presumably had considered these new developments, among others:

1. The lodging of a murder charge against Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney who repudiated a "confession" that he had made for the Lindbergh baby kidnapper.

2. The disclosure that Gaston B. Means, former federal investigator, allegedly had "confessed" from his cell in Leavenworth Penitentiary that he killed the child.

It was learned that the qualifications of Arthur J. Koehler, who testified as a wood expert for the state, were under discussion.

When Governor Hoffman visited the condemned man's home last week he was accompanied by Arch W. Loney, a public works administration engineer, who later expressed the opinion that "rail" of the ladder did not match the other boards in the attic flooring.

Carried "Confessions"

When Governor Hoffman entered the conference chamber of the Fardons Court, he carried with him what an authoritative source said were at least two "confessions"—the repudiated statement of Paul Wendel and the Gaston B. Means statement.

Means was said by the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times to be in solitary confinement in the penitentiary there for alleged attempts to smuggle letters, one of them detailing his purported "confession" out of the prison.

Prosecutor Erwin E. Marshall of Mercer (Trenton) County, declared he did not believe Wendel was connected with the case. Wendel told authorities he was kidnapped and forced at the point of a gun to sign a "confession," although he knew nothing of the case except what he had read and heard.

Gaston Means, whose statement has been discounted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, served a term at Leavenworth for defrauding Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean, Washington society woman, of $104,000 by promising her that he would produce the baby.

draw troops from the Belgian frontier because Belgium has not formed a pact with Soviet Russia (as has France).

"Or he may say: 'I will fortify as I please along the French frontier, but not along either the Dutch or the Belgian.'"

"Again, he may say: 'I interpreted the peoples' vote to mean they do not want me to yield an inch anywhere, so I will continue and I will start forthwith to fortify as I please.'"

"Any of these possibilities are open, besides any number of surprises he may spring. The man is simply unbearably cunning (meaning, 'you can't ever figure him out in advance')."

When this diplomat's attention was called to the fact that the German press today was very intransigent and unyielding, he replied: "Even that means nothing because Hitler may suddenly decide to make a conciliatory gesture."

There was chagrin in official circles over the speech yesterday by Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin of France who demanded that Hitler state his intentions clearly. German officials felt he was trying to deal with Germany as a power of inferior rights.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

(Continued from Page 4)

The evidences of drunkenness wherever government sale has been substituted for prohibition, which is increase and not decrease.

His second last paragraph, in which he sums up the arguments brought out in favor of prohibition, is most adroitly done. He omits all the arguments brought out in opposition to government sale, e.g., in my little article about the Eskimos. I called attention also to the fact that in Baddeck, C. E. they want to get rid of the government liquor store, because it had increased the evils which they had under prohibition. He did not mention the great increase in the jail population, the decrease in the sale of milk, etc., etc., which have accompanied the introduction of government sale. He is too wise to mention these things.

The prohibitionists, as well as their opponents, realize that there are many very unreal things in the way our present system has been worked. We are not blind to these abuses, and we neither minimize nor defend them. But when "logic," "experience" and "common sense" are applied to the comparison between prohibition and government sale, it is quite plain that the latter, as a reform measure, is not worth mentioning, except to absolutely refute it.

I am, Sir, etc.,

T. R. GOUDGE.

Will Proceed With B.N.A. Act Changes

OTTAWA, March 30—It was the intention of the government to proceed at the present session of parliament with a proposed bill to amend the British North America Act, Justice Minister Lapointe assured the House of Commons today.

C. H. Cahane, former secretary of state, asked the Minister if he would table copies of correspondence between the government and the provinces on the specific amendments proposed in the resolution on the order paper in the name of the minister.

Mr. Lapointe agreed to produce the correspondence before the committee was discussed but explained that communications were still being exchanged.

Mr. Cahane wanted to know if it was the intention of the government to proceed at the present session. "Yes," replied Mr. Lapointe. "It is so intended—I hope so."

For some days this resolution, containing a petition to the crown for constitutional amendments, necessary to carry out Finance Minister Dunning's loan council scheme and to legalize certain forms of indirect taxation now imposed by the provinces, has been allowed to stand over each time the sear for the order paper in the name of the minister.

Mr. Lapointe organized to meet the requirements of the federal legislature.

When Upper and Lower Canada were united in 1841 the two legislative libraries, totaling about 6,000 volumes, were consolidated, but between 1841 and 1866, when, in the latter year, the seat of government was transferred to Ottawa, despite two disastrous fires with heavy losses of books, the library contained approximately 35,000 volumes. At the present time the total is around 400,000 and among these for half a century I have been privileged to browse. My particular

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

(Continued from Page 4)

The evidences of drunkenness wherever government sale has been substituted for prohibition, which is increase and not decrease.

His second last paragraph, in which he sums up the arguments brought out in favor of prohibition, is most adroitly done. He omits all the arguments brought out in opposition to government sale, e.g., in my little article about the Eskimos. I called attention also to the fact that in Baddeck, C. E. they want to get rid of the government liquor store, because it had increased the evils which they had under prohibition. He did not mention the great increase in the jail population, the decrease in the sale of milk, etc., etc., which have accompanied the introduction of government sale. He is too wise to mention these things.

The prohibitionists, as well as their opponents, realize that there are many very unreal things in the way our present system has been worked. We are not blind to these abuses, and we neither minimize nor defend them. But when "logic," "experience" and "common sense" are applied to the comparison between prohibition and government sale, it is quite plain that the latter, as a reform measure, is not worth mentioning, except to absolutely refute it.

I am, Sir, etc.,

T. R. GOUDGE.

FARM PRODUCE

We want your eggs and potatoes and are buying daily. Our price always in line with the highest on P. E. I.

For satisfaction and fair dealing bring in your produce or cash and let us fill your orders.

FRED BELL

CARLETON

L-3361-3-31-21.

GIANTS and JESTERS In Public Life

(By FRED COOK)

(Copyright Reserved)

The space claims of subscribing newspapers, due in large measure to the lengthy reports of the proceedings of Parliament and the provincial legislatures, necessitate bringing to a close the present series of reminiscences, "Giants and Jesters in Public Life."

It will be observed that I have headed this article "Au Revoir," which means that, encouraged by the reception accorded to these memoirs, some day I may return to the field.

The "Giants" have appeared in newspapers in every province of Canada and judging by the many kind letters which I have received the articles were acceptable to a very large circle of readers. Criticisms have been few. I am conscious of only one error of fact to which my attention has been courteously drawn by a Vancouver correspondent. Considering the amount of research work involved in the preparation of the series I flatter myself I have got off fairly well. My readers can have little conception of the work entailed in recalling accurately the men and the incidents dealt with. They came as pictures to my memory in some cases a little dimmed, but I had no difficulty in reviving them, thanks to the generous assistance of Honorable Martin Burrell and the staff of the parliamentary library.

The Canadian people generally do not know what a treasure house of information the library of Parliament is. It has been described as "the national library," but this is not correct. It is the library of Parliament organized to meet the requirements of the federal legislature.

When Upper and Lower Canada were united in 1841 the two legislative libraries, totaling about 6,000 volumes, were consolidated, but between 1841 and 1866, when, in the latter year, the seat of government was transferred to Ottawa, despite two disastrous fires with heavy losses of books, the library contained approximately 35,000 volumes. At the present time the total is around 400,000 and among these for half a century I have been privileged to browse. My particular

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William Perrier who boarded with Ella's parents, passed over the box as it drew up to the door of a freight shed on the wharf. Little Ella was concealed inside the box. She died of a fractured skull before she reached hospital.

Perrier, an unemployed man who had got a job driving the truck for the day although he had no operator's license, did not know he had run over the girl until after he attended to some business inside the warehouse. While returning to the truck he saw her legs protruding from the crushed box.

The driver was arrested and charged with causing grievous bodily harm. He was later released on bail.

No inquest has been ordered.

STRENGTHENING SINGAPORE SINGAPORE—The British Infantry establishment here is to be trebled and one battalion of the Middlesex regiment expected in April will be converted into a machine gun unit.

TOMATO JELLY

To a pint of tomato juice add seasoning of salt, pepper, celery salt, paprika, a little sugar, a little lemon juice, and a half a teaspoon Worcester sauce of tomato catsup. Melt 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine in a little of mixture, pour on the rest of juice, and stir well!

Truck Passes Over Improvised Doll House Killing Tot

HALIFAX, March 30—A cardboard box on a water street wharf—used by little Ella Jensen as a doll's house—became the death-house of the six-year old girl today.

A truck, driven by William