FRENCH TROOPS ENTER GERMAN TERRITORY

Have Taken Possession of Dusseldorf and are Taking Over Other Cities. 12,000 British Troops Now in Germany. Customs Cordon to be Established.

(Special to The Guardian) FRENCH MILITARY HEAD-QUARTERS MAYENCE, GER. March 8.—Occupation of the additional German territory which the Allies had announced they would take possession of as one of the penalties for Germany's failure to meet the Allied reparations demands, was carried out today. No untoward incident marked the eastward move of the Allied troops. So far as reports up to this hour show the occupation of the city of Dusseldorf, the largest of the cities taken over by the Allies, was completed this morning and that of Duisburg and Ruhr comprising together the chief part of the Ruhr coal and industrial region, this afternoon. The French army will furnish the bulk of the forces for the new march into Germany. Great Britain's contribution in men will be only large enough to show her solidarity with the Allies. It seems certain that the Americans will not take part in the advance. There are at present 12,000 British soldiers in Germany, of whom 4000 are on temporary duty in Upper Silesia. It is believed the forces along the Rhine will be reinforced so that they will number 12,000, four battalions being ready to go to the British section of the occupied German territory.

LONDON, March 7.—There are still bargains in rare books to be picked up in unexpected quarters. The copy, in almost perfect condition is dated 1688, and agrees with Lowndes's description of the fourth of the several title-pages with which the first edition was furnished from time to time. It has the fleur-de-lis ornament under the author's name, and has also the rare third title-page, probably inserted when the book was bound.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland admitted the suggestion made a great impression upon him. He promised to recommend it to the consideration of the Cabinet.

Bad Accident At Railway Shop

While engaged in the work of making repairs to a locomotive tender at the railway machine shop in Charlottetown yesterday a deplorable accident occurred as the result of which Mr. Frank Hale had his left arm terribly crushed, necessitating its amputation later. It appears that the tender was being hoisted on the chain support. It parted and the tender fell. It was some time before the tender could be removed and the unfortunate man suffered dreadfully. He was removed to the P. E. Island Hospital where the arm was amputated below the elbow. At least accounts the patient was doing as well as could be expected. ## CHARLOTTETOWN RANGERS CLINCHED CHAMPIONSHIP

The Islanders Proved Their Right to the Title of Maritime Colored Championship by Substantial Score of 7-5 Over New Glasgow Rovers.

It was Ethiopian night at the Arena last evening and a large crowd watched a thrilling demonstration of the art of Hockey accorded to Hoyle. Although the local team brought home the bacon—we are sorry to say it wasn't chicken. Only the sensational corker was the goal tender stood off defeat. "Hooker" supplied the silver lining of what at times seemed a dark and sinister situation. The teams were quite evenly matched and inclined at times to make things lively. Some of the boys could evidently claim relation ship with the respectable Jack Johnson judging from their willingness to resort to hostilities of the least pretext. The Rangers are to be congratulated on their brilliant and decisive victory over such an able aggregation as the Rovers. Ryan and Crosby starred for the locals, while Smithers and Jordan did the bulk of the work for New Glasgow. We have already mentioned "Hooker" White's remarkable stopping. It is not a sweeping assertion to say that "Hooker" has revolutionized the goal-tending job.
