RETURNS FROM ATTENDING THE MASONS CHAPTER

W. P. Doull, Charlottetown, who has been attending the annual sessions of the Grand Chapter of the Masonic Fraternity of Nova Scotia at Sydney, returned on the Northumberland last evening. Mr. Doull speaks in glowing terms of the treatment accorded the visiting brethren by the home lodges at Sydney and other places, almost every hour being taken up in some form of entertainment when the sessions were not in progress. Perhaps a record was established in banquets, there being two inside a period of twenty-four hours, to say nothing of three regular meals in between. Mr. Doull was elected Grand Principal Sojourner and is rapidly being advanced in the Chapter. The Chapter will meet next year at Amherst. The other delegates from this province, S. W. Crabbe, Charlottetown, and Dr. Darrach, Kensington, did not come home last night. Mr. Crabbe, who is accompanied by Mrs. Crabbe and Miss Phillips, stopped over for a day at New Glasgow and will return tonight and Dr. Darrach went on to Halifax and will return home via Pt du Chene.

THE INTERMARITIME RIFLE MATCH

HALIFAX, June 14—The inter-maritime rifle match was shot yesterday afternoon in the teeth of very bad weather. The Nova Scotia team led from the first range and were never overtaken, finally winning by thirteen points over Prince Edward Island, who secured second place. Altho the weather was so unsatisfactory, the riflemen made a creditable showing, their aggregate, though very much lower than last year, being better than at first anticipated. Weather does not seem to have much effect, however, on Lieutenant Semple, 76th regiment, who made 97 out of a possible 105. This score was also equalled by Killam, of the Nova Scotia team.
 The Prince Edward Island team made a hard fight, having two 95's

NO PLEBISCITE.

LONDON, June 11—The Hon. George A. Foster, in another interview, said that considerable changes were probable in Canada's system of developing trade here. The reorganization would tend to greater efficiency.
 Replying to a suggestion that the French-Canadians were hostile to Canadian participation in imperial defence, Mr. Foster said that that side of the question had perhaps been exaggerated. A plebiscite would be clumsy and unnecessary.

He added that President Taft's disclosure on reciprocity had left no room for doubt as to the Canadian attitude towards Canadians.

to their credit.
 The New Brunswick team were heavily handicapped. Their range at home does not include a 300 yards mound, and as this is one of the most difficult ranges, it made a hole in their score. Some of the riflemen have never practiced at this range, and they shot the day before at Bedford, at the three hundred yards distance, it was not sufficient to give them the elevation, etc. The P. E. Island scores in detail:—

DO SOMETHING REAL.

LONDON, June 13—The empire naval problem elicited interesting points today at the discussion of the congress of chambers of commerce of the empire. The Canadian members, without dissent, voted for whole-hearted co-operation by all parts of the empire in a joint scheme, but the greatest hit was made by one of the Australian delegates, who, after several Canadian speeches of a warm imperial type, rose and said, in effect:—
 You Canadians are great orators on this naval question, for I don't know how many years you have been going to do and die for the empire on the seas. Why don't you begin and do something that really matters and is a real help to the empire?
 "Why not make a beginning, as we are doing in Australia, with British-built warships under admiralty control, a naval cadet system, and so on. There is too much talk and too little doing." (Laughter and cheers.)
 When the Vancouver delegates suggested a Canadian money grant of ten million dollars to the British fleet the Regina delegate said such a paltry sum was quite unworthy of Canada's wealth and patriotism.
 Belleville and other delegates pledged Canada to a generous support of the empire's navy and spoke of the stimulus Canadian patriotism would receive from the presence of empire warships in the St. Lawrence and on the coasts of Canada.

He declared the president on his recent western trip had misused the accompanying newspaper and secret service men in spite of protests, to bolster this depletion. "It is deplorable," he said, "to have to state these facts to this house and to this country."

MOVEMENT FOR STALLION RACES

It will be interesting to know that a movement is on foot to have a stallion class among the races to take place on the Charlottetown Driving Park on July 8th. The class will be open to both trotters and pacers and the purse will be in the vicinity of $200.00 divided in four monies. This class should make one of the most interesting races ever held in Charlottetown as there is fourteen Provincial stallions that are eligible. Among them are the following: Kaloi, Perfection, King Brazilian, Kinoros, Goldian, Baron Wood, George Crescens, Prince Cresceus, Cantalon, King George, Acquire, Acquire Boy, Dingola, Ferrol Jr, Zealot, and Commodore Ledyard. Should this race materialize it should interest every lover of horses, and the public could then see and judge for themselves who did really own the fastest sire and would forever decide a question that has long hung in doubt.

DOUBLE MURDER.

CHICAGO, June 12—May God Curse as I do, the man who has come between me and my wife. There is no cure too horrible for vengeance; too terrible, that I wouldn't wreak.

Albert McLean penned these words in his four room flat on the second floor at 2728 Sheffield avenue. Then he shot his wife, Edythe, in the head. Although probably mortally wounded, Mrs. McLean staggered to the window of the dining room, where the shooting occurred and leaped through the casement to the cement sidewalk twelve feet below. As her body disappeared through the window McLean fired another shot at her, the bullet imbedding itself in the window frame.

Then McLean turned his weapon upon himself and fired one shot into his brain. He died just as the police ambulance got him to the door of the Hospital.

At the Hospital it was learned that Mrs. McLean, in addition to a bullet wound in the head, had suffered a broken ankle and internal injuries in her leap from the window. Surgeons who attended her are in doubt as to whether she will live or die.

After she had been put to bed in the hospital, Mrs. McLean admitted that her husband had accused her of going with other men and added:—
 I loved him with all my heart and soul, she said. He must have been crazy with jealousy. I never loved anyone else. I was always true to him.

When told that her husband was dead, Mrs. McLean said:—
 I'm sorry. He brought it all upon himself. I was a good faithful wife.

The three year old daughter of the McLeans, whose baby nickname is Prosper, was placed in the care of an aunt, a sister of Mrs. McLean.

McLean had been employed as a stockman in the hardware department of the Boston Store and was popular with his superiors and fellow employees. He had absented himself from work for two days, explaining that he felt it necessary to watch his wife who has been suffering from hallucinations and had threatened to take her own life and that of the baby.

In addition to the letter he had addressed to The Man Who Has Come Between Me and My Wife, McLean left another, apparently written for the police. It read as follows:—
 The end has come and I have tried so hard to bear up and do things as I have done before, but I cannot. My wife has admitted to me that she has been going with a man.

She has been to the Boston Oyster House with him twice and has received two boxes of candy. Also other little presents.
 So don't blame me for what I have done, and put the child in some Catholic home, for she is being neglected now.

A. McLEAN.
