Important Provincial News the week for Saturday Subscribers.

FRIDAY

The Guardian, in giving the City Police Court news Wednesday, inadvertantly ommitted to give the name of Nelson Whitlock, who was fined two dollars or thirty days for being drunk.

The two cups won by Michael Thomas, Lennox Island, at Chatham recently are on exhibition in the Apothecaries Hall window. These trophies are certainly two beauties and have been admired by all who have seen them.

Nelson Winchester, city, returned last night from Summerside where he had been competing in Brace Mc Kay Co's, twelve mile Bicycle Roa Race. Mr. Winchester won out of field of eight who had a handicap on him. He wins a handsome silver cup

While operating the circular saw in his father's factory Wednesday, Lorne Harper had the misfortune to get his hand into reach of the saw resulting in a very painful wound. The hand was dressed and he is now doing nicely,though he suffers considerable pain.

At the Police Court yesterday morning, Bennett Mahar, on a charge of assault, was fined five dollars, which he paid. The case of the Rhodes Curr Co., contractor's obstruction of side walk, was proceeded with and adjourned until the afternoon at thre o'clock. The case was proceeded wit at that time and after discussion was again adjourned.

A boat manned by four nautical experts, brought its occupants to grief last Labor Day giving them a narrow escape from a closer acquaintance with Davy Jones. On the upsetting of their craft the four were left struggling in the water. One man made for the Railway wharf which was near by, the others stuck to their upturned boat until Geo. Ryan of the P. E. I. R., who witnessed the accident, put out in a punt and took the three aboard.

There has been some complaint on various grounds about a seal that has for some days been placed in the fountain of Queen Square. The seal is a saltwater animal an invariably dies, it is said, if kept in fresh water for any considerable time. For this reason, and because a crowd was attracted and the newly sown grass was being tramped down, The Guardian learns that Messrs Newberry and Paton, the committee in charge of the Gardens, ordered the removal of the seal to the harbor, which will be carried out this morning.

On Sabbath evening Sept 5th the hoir of Vernon River Methodist Church delighted an overflowing audience with a sacred concert. The numbers, selected with care and judgment, ere rendered with taste and precision. Hymns 108, 115, 746 were most heartily sung by the choir and congregation. In addition other selections consisting of choruses, trios, duets and solos were given by Miss Margaret Furness from the conservatory of music, Boston, who rendered fully appreciative and valued service. her father, for over twenty years, was leader of this choir. In Miss Laura VanIderstine, the gifted organist, and L. C. Hayden, C. B. Tweedy, Hayden and Mrs VanIderstine, the church has able punctual and willing helpers.

The body of the late Rev. Peter Curran, arrived in the city last night by the mail train accompanied by his brother the Rev. Dr. T. Curran. The remains were taken to St. Dunstan's Cathedral where they will remain until after service this morning at seven o'clock. Thence they will be forwarded by special train to St Theresa's. The funeral will leave the Cathedral at eight-fifteen and the special train will leave the station at eight-thirty and will return to Charlottetown after the services at St. Theresa's. The pall-bearers will be Chief Justice Sullivan, Charles, G. Duffy Dr. R. John Ledwell, James Eden Edward Kelly and Peter McCourt. The funeral will be attended by the Ancient Order of Hebernians, the Benevolent Irish Society and The Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.

Emerson said "that now and then a man exquisitely made can live alone." The writer of these lines was impressed with the truth of this remark in listening to the Rev George Orman of Vernon River Methodist hurch, deliver recently a sermon in the Presbyterian church at Orwell. Mr Orman is very much alone in his method of preaching,but his a loneness is very refreshing to one who does rot like monotony of style. In short Mr Orman is a great preacher. His sermons are bristling with wit, humor and philosophy. As a humorist he compares favorably with Rowland Hill, as a wit he resembles Sam Jones. He illustrates Gospel truths in a simple natural way as did Jesus, who did not hesitate to use the love of a hen for her chickens, as an example in miniature often over shadowing affection of his own Soul for dear old Jerusalem. The sly Herod, Jesus called a fox, asked his disciples to be as wise as serpents and to use the lily of the field as one of their textbooks for earnest study. It is a compliment to the intelligence of the people of Vernon River and Cherry Valley, that they speak highly of their pastor's sermons. To some of the prophets left over from "olden times" Mr Orman's up-to-date methods may be disquieting, but I can assure the dear souls that his theology is the good old Gospel dressed in a new suit of broadcloth. There is an undertone of earnest spirituality in Mr Orman's sermons which one feels but can't express, which one knows but can't define.—Theophilus.

The Rustico Convent has lately undergone extensive improvements in the line of renovation. It has also had added a complete system of Hot Water Heating and Sewerage. The contractors in each case have given every satisfaction and the Convent is now entirely up-to-date in all its fitings. James Trainor, City, had the contract for the painting.

The schooner Freddie A. Higgins owned by the new trading-house of Morris & Fyfe, Stanley Bridge, made a record trip on her last voyage. She left Rustico Harbor at 10.30 on Friday morning, Sept 3rd, went to Port Hood, took on 110 tons of coal, was back and tied-up to Bay View wharf, New London Harbor, on Sunday the 5th at 7.30. Capt Theo Doucette looses no time.—Com.

M. owned by the Dalhousie Lumber Co, towed 18,300 logs to Dalhousie, containing over one million superficial feet. The two was taken to Dalhousie in one tide and beats all previous records.

Hon. Senator Ross, in a letter to last evening's Acadian Recorder, says:

Noticing the death of Honorable Donald Ferguson of Marshfield, P.E. Island. I would like to pay my tribute to his memory. He was appointed a member of the McKenzie Bowell government, without portfolio, and afterwards by Sir Charles Tupper. To many of us it was a matter of surprize that when Sir McKenzie Bowell resigned the leadership af the opposition in the senate that Senator Ferguson was not appointed as his successor. Next to the Right Hon. Sir. R.J. Cartwright and Hon. G.W. Ross, he was the ablest debater and speaker in the senate. His industry was remarkable, and when not in his seat in the senate he would be found in the library poring over books and journals preparing for some new speech. His addresses were always well prepared, and while not speaking too often, he spoke well and full of information on any subject which he considered worthy of his attention. He was not an extreme party man, but very logical in his views from an opposition standpoint. This is the second death in the senate since we last met. It is not high time that two senators were appointed for Nova Scotia to fill the two seats now long vacant?

W. ROSS.

Last night the S. S. Halifax arrived in port bringing with her four of the Boston Globe staff, marshalled by Maurice E. Bowlen, of the Isthmus of Panama, and formerly of Cardigan. They fell in with The Guardian reporter, and, after appalling that individual with their separate personalities, proceeded to The Guardian Office—the reporter a captive.

The names of the party are:—John H. Coyne, Boston; T. F. Buckley, Boston; Charles T. Daly, West Medford; Forrest D. Cook, Somerville and last but not least Maurice E. Bowlen, Isthums of Panama.

Charlottetown may wonder how the Globe is getting on without four of its staff, (none of the Provincial periodicals could spare that many,) but there are a hundred or so left at home to keep the old Globe rolling.

Mr. Bowlen, of whom The Guardian made some mention a short time ago, is a provincialist who had won for himself a name for the masterful and efficient manner in which he has dealt with large engineering problems entrusted to him.

He is at present engaged in connection with the Panama Canal Construction now being proceeded with by the United States Government. Hosts of old-time acquaintances will be happy to meet "Ned" again after his twenty-five year's absence in another land.

The party who have toured the Maritime Provinces extensively, will spend a couple weeks in this province and judging by their high spirits and their infectious geniality it will be impossible for them to fail in enjoying their visit, even in quiet old Charlottetown.

The Globe reporters are on the look out for Peary—right here it might be suggested that that gentleman won't call at this port and it is doubtful whether he will ever stop at Sydney in his haste to receive those well deserved congratulaters etc., stored away for him by the great American Nation.

The Guardian will have a story tomorrow of the Panama Canal. Watch for it.

ST. ANDREW'S, Sept. 8—(Special by phone)—While Luke Roche, St. Peters Road, was on his way to Mount Stewart, he was startled by the rather sudden appearance of a good sized bear.

The Guardian has not any permission to state which of the two participants in this chance meeting first effected his retreat, but Mr. Roche soon made his discovery known to the people of the country roundabout.

The residents of Mt. Stewart and vicinity who were the fortunate possessors of arms and ammunition speedily got together and formed up a search party to pursue bruin and attack him in his lair.

Of course, as in all cases of extreme emergency, the great bravery of many was given an opportunity to assert itself and the more valiant of the searchers held out a continued search for his bearship for some hours, but without avail.

It is true that tracks were seen and pronounced by all to have been left by the bear.

Great regret was generally expressed over the failure of the party in accomplishing their destructive purpose, but, (speaking for the bear) he is to be congratulated who so successfully concealed himself in a time of danger.

Stewart identified McDougall's writing in many of the articles and had repeatedly received instructions from him regarding the paper.

Postmaster Crandall of Moncton testified that all the Free Speech mail was put in McDougall's box.

The session was principally a battle between the lawyers, Mr. Ritchie taking many objections.

The indictment includes eleven counts and the defence is on a plea of not guilty.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6—(Special)—Commander Peary announces April 6th as the date of his reaching the North Pole in a despatch to New York Times as follows:—"Indian Harbor, via Cape Race, Nfld., Sept. 6. I have the Pole. April 6th. Expect to arrive in Chateau Bay Sept. 7. Secure control of wire for me there and arrange expedite transmission of big story. Signed Peary."

Peary sailed for New York on July 6th, 1908, his last words were "unless unforseen circumstances intervene within the next year I hope to plant Stars and Stripes at Pole."

From New York the Roosevelt went to Sydney thence to Hawke's Harbor where she took supplies and then crossed Davis Strait to Holstanberg following coast from there to Cape York.

Etab was reached in August and from that point the route of the expedition can only be conjectured from plans announced.

Peary said he would take the route from Grantland more to west and not so directly north as that of his former attempt thus compensating for ice drift eastward.

When the report that Peary had discovered the North Pole reached Copenhagen, Cook said "I hope news is correct. If Perry has reached the Pole his descriptions of that region will confirm mine."

COLORADO, Sept. 5.—The marriage of Miss Ida Clark, daughter of the late Haviland Clark, Clarktown, P.E.I., to Wm Millar, Lord of Tully-Fergus, Scotland, was celebrated at Cripple Creek, Colorado on August 25th.

The following extract is taken from the Victor Record published in Colorado, which paper also contains a beautiful portrait of the bride.

"Society of the Cripple Creek district today Aug. 25, witnessed what is perhaps the most brilliant wedding ever performed in the district, when Miss Ida Elizabeth Clark, superintendent of the District hospital, known to most every one in the district, loved for her sweet disposition, was married to William Millar, Lord of Tully-Fergus, Scotland, well known mining man prominent in business and social affairs of the district.

The Presbyterian church was packed to overflowing and the wedding was with such precision, such gorgeous surroundings, as have never been seen before by people of the district. Rev J. T. Ewart officiated.

The church was a bower of beauty with its festoonings of asparagus ferns intermingled with sprays of angels breath. A mantle of green studded with boquets ofthe dainty white flowers made a fitting background for the beautiful scene, and huge boquets of marguerites and sweet peas added so the artistic effect. Streamers of white satin ribbon adorned the pews and were carried by the ushers to form an entrance for the bridal party. Green velvet carpet was laid from the church to the carriages forming a pretty pathway. Miss Lois Shilling sang in her very delightful manner. A. Madrigal. Miss Buena Alverson played the wedding march as the bride approached the altar on the arm of Dr Charles E. Elliott. The groom was attended by Arthur W. Carnduff. The bride was gowned in an exquisite imported toilette of white satin draped in cashmere de soie, garnitured with pearls. The only jewel worn was an elaborate sun burst of pearls the gift of the groom. The long train was draped with the beautiful bridal veil while a smaller veil hung over the face until removed by the bridesmaid, the fair blonde beauty of the bride was enhanced by the coronet of orange blossoms which surmounted her brow. A shower boquet of brides roses was carried by the bride, Miss Jean Jack, made a most charming bridesmaid in a very dainty gown of white silk miusselene with decoration of Irish point lace and embroidery, and pretty white picture hat

Immediately following the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the home of Dr and Mrs C. E. Elliott where two exquisite laid banquet tables were arranged for the wedding breakfast. Banks of Marguerites adorned the centre of the tables two white doves surmounting the bridal table.

A happy surprise was prepared by the friends of the groom in having John McLane a member of the royal highlanders proceed the wedding party with the melodious strains of the bagpipes recalling his native lands.

William and Mrs Millar arrived at the District hospital from the wedding breakfast at 1.30 o'clock, when the reception began. More than six hundred friends of the couple were in line which led up the front stairs, where the party was being received.

The columns of the balcony in the front of the building were decorated with flags. On the balcony an orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

The going away gown of the bride was an elegant tailored gown of blue broadcloth with blue and gold lace, bodee and hat to match.

Mrs Millar will henceforth be the lady of Tully-Fergus and tonight over the landed estates of the groom in Scotland large bonfires will be burning in honor of this happy event. Mr and Mrs. Miller left for Chicago and Boston and they will visit Mrs Millar's mother in Prince Edward Island. Later they will visit other places taking the Steamer Empress of Britain for Liverpool going directly to Mr Millar's beautiful home in Scotland. They will visit Paris, London and all the large cities of the continent anticipating return to their Victor friends for the holiday season at Christmas. Many beautiful gifts were received and five hundred guests called to bid this popular couple bon voyage."

Wm and Mrs Millar are expected to arrive in Charlottetown this week on a visit to the bride's mother Mrs Clark, who resides with her son Ira Clark, formerly of Clarktown, now of O'Leary. Mrs Daniel Stewart, Glenfinnan and Mrs Artemas Cook, Pisquid, are sisters of the bride. Mrs Millar (nee Miss Clark) left this Province about five years ago to take up nursing in Colorado.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.— Three world's amateur athletic records were broken in a day was the announcement officially made at Celtic Park today at the completion of the Labor Day games of the Irish-American A. C.

Emilo Lugghi, the Italian champion runner at several distances, was the first to break the tape in the special 700 race. The time was 1.27 2-5, the best previous figures being 1.31, made by Lon E. Myers at Williamsburg, Brooklyn, Sept. 18, 1882.

The second record was made by John E. Eller of the Irish-American A. C. over the low hurdles at 120 yards. He went over it in his trial and final heats in the same time 14 2-5 seconds, beating Al. Copeland's time of 14 3-5.

Platt Adams of the N. Y. A. C. scored the third record by covering 32 feet 4½ inches in standing hop, step and jump, the best figures for which were reached by J. Cosgrove at Albany in April 1894, when he made 30 feet 3 inches.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—(Special)—From early manhood a commanding figure in Wall Street, Henry Harriman closed his active career at half past three this afternoon, dying at his Arden Home from a lengthy illness.

His death came half an hour after the Stock Exchange closed, consequently the markets are not yet affected.

During his career his policy favored lavish expenditures and his transcendent genius transformed into ing concerns many institutions which had previously failed and made them physically perfect.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—(Special.)—E. H. Harriman, the great railway magnate, died today at his home in Arden.

ARDEN, N. Y., Sept. 8.— All the alarming rumors regarding the condition of E. H. Harriman have been received, following his relapse of Sunday night. From the best information obtainable today, however, it is believed that the attack that caused a hurry call for a New York nurse and probably two nurses, one for day and one for night, was a temporary sickness caused by a sudden change of temperature of an indiscretion in diet which the sick man in his weakened condition was unable to throw off. Dr W. G. Lyle, Mrs Harriman's private physician call the attack "acute indigestion." In his statement last night he said that his patient was better.

One result of the news has been a swift re-assembling of the newspaper representatives whose presence a week ago at every avenue leading to the Harriman house caused the sick man himself to issue a statement regarding his condition and promised that if the press management would withdraw its representatives he would see that it was informed of any subsequent crisis in his condition.

The best information is that Mr Harriman is in bed. Although no confirmation of the report has yet been obtained from the house, little doubt exists here that there are other physicians attending him beside Dr Lyle.

Whether these doctors remain constantly at his side or only make frequent trips from New York, has not been ascertained. On account of the patient's long illness and extreme weakness there are fears that his life may be in danger through mere exhaustion or heart failure.

Talk of an operation has been revealed, but there is nothing definite to support such a rumor. It has been prettydefinitely established that for a week prior to this last attack Mr Harriman's condition was reassuring. It was learned today that he showed active interest in the work about his place and in his trotting horses.

Van Weston, who looks after his thoroughbreds called at the house several times last week to discuss turf and stable matters with his employer. His last visit occurred Sunday and upon leaving he told several persons that Mr Harriman seemed better. This was before the ill turn of Sunday night. This came about midnight. The sudden flashing of lights on Tower Hill told the people in the valley of the activity that reigned on the hill. Men were sent to turn on the electricity at which operated the cars and messages were sent to New York for nurses and doctors who were brought to Arden in a hurry Monday morning.

ST JOHN, Sept. 8.— A lucky Prince Edward Islander in the person of Walter Jones, passed through the city on Wednesday on his way to Virginia to take charge of the agricultural department of one of the leading Virginia universities. Mr Jones has just completed a very brilliant course at the Guelph Agricultural College, and is enthusiastic over the outlook for young men in this particular sphere. Mr. Jones says that the Canadian agriculture schools are taking a very high standing as compared with some of the United States colleges. The whole graduating class this year of which Mr Jones was a member, had no difficulty whatever in securing positions on graduation. The average was about twelve hundred dollars to start. One man got as high as seventeen hundred. A position in the college of five hundred and fifty dollars per year and expenses, was thrown open to any member of the graduating class but none would accept it.

The college authorities had no difficulty in getting their pick of one of Western American Colleges for this position at the above salary, thus allowing the added advantage of the Guelph graduate.

Mr Jones is a native of Pownal, Prince Edward Island, and is a graduate of Acadia University. He is not a novice in the teaching profession, as previous to entering upon his agricultural studies he was principal for a number of years of one of the Consolidated schools in his native Province.

He was very well known in the athletic circles throughout the Provinces.

Recommended As An Ideal Remedy

W. S. BOND, Esq.

Lloydtown, Ont., March 19th, 1909.

"For some years I have been greatly troubled with headaches and indigestion, brought on by stomach disorders, constipation and biliousness. I had tried many remedies with only indifferent success, until "Fruit-a-tives" came to my notice. Being a general storekeeper, I was selling a good many "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers and, remarking how pleased they were with the results obtained from using "Fruit-a-tives," I decided to try them and, I might say, the effects were almost magical. Headaches and biliousness disappeared and to-day I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to my customers as 'An ideal remedy.'

"I might also add that about three years ago I was laid up with LUMBAGO AND SCIATICA—couldn't get out of bed or lift one foot over the other. A good treatment of "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of these pains and banished the Sciatica and Lumbago so that to-day I am as well as ever and can lift anything necessary."
