Hold-up Suspects Are Under Arrest

Earl Lund, Maurice Gormley And George Kirwin Are Held On Charges Of Robbery With Violence — Returned On Late Borden Train

On charges of robbery with violence, in connection with the recent hold-up of the Misses MacNeill, Earl Lund, George Kirwin and Maurice Gormley of this city were arrested by the R.C.M.P. and City Police last evening on their arrival at the railway station on the late train from Borden. The trio, police believe, left the city several days ago, and went to St. John, N. B. Having knowledge that the three suspects were returning, officers of the R.C.M.P. and of the City Police posted themselves at the Royalty, at the various crossings where the train stops in the city, and at the railway station. On the arrival of the train at the station at 10.45, officers went on board and placed the three under arrest. They were taken to the police station for questioning.

The robbery with which the accused are charged occurred about 12.30 last Saturday morning on School Street, where Misses Gertrude and Blanche MacNeill, proprietresses of the Mayfair Tea Rooms, were robbed of more than $200. A wide and intensive investigation has since been made by the authorities.

Lund, Kirwin and Gormley will appear in the Police Court this morning.

Prime Minister Gets Respite From Duties

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Aug. 31—Off for a six weeks respite from the routine demands of office, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett left Ottawa tonight wearied from the excessive activities of the past week preparatory to his long absence. He will head the Canadian delegation at the League of Nations assembly opening in Geneva Sept. 10, after which he will transact some affairs for the Dominion in Paris and London, possibly take some rest abroad in addition to that which will be provided by the ocean voyage.

Throughout this week and up to the last possible hour that would permit him to reach Quebec in time to embark tomorrow morning on the Empress of Britain, the Prime Minister worked early and late with frequent cabinet councils and long hours at his desk. In order that he might have longer for the task of concluding affairs here Mr. Bennett left Ottawa by motor. He will either board his private car at Montreal late tonight, or motor the entire distance to Quebec.

While the question of Soviet Russia's admission to the League of Nations is expected to be one of the important subjects of discussions by the assembly it is not on the official agenda. In the event of it arising it is known that Canada's attitude will be favorable.

One subject which will be of considerable interest to Mr. Bennett will be that dealing with efforts to establish international news co-operation to avoid the spreading of inaccurate or misleading news reports calculated to disturb relationships between the nations.

Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley, senior member of the cabinet, will be acting Prime Minister in the absence of Mr. Bennett.

Mt'l. Welcomes French Delegates

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, Aug. 31—Citizens of the Dominion be they of French, English, Jewish, Swedish, Irish or Scottish ancestry were warned here today against racial prejudice and urged never to forget that first, last and always they are Canadians.

Reminded that "you will find strength in union" came from Rt. Hon. H. L. Fisher, former Minister of Education in Great Britain and warden of New College, Oxford speaking at a civic luncheon tendered the official delegates of Great Britain, France and the United States to the quatercentenary Jacques Cartier celebrations. Mr. Fisher, with Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes, is the official representative of the Government of Great Britain.

Mayor Camillien Houde delivered the welcome on behalf of Montreal. He addressed most of his remarks to the French delegates informing them "the French-Canadian Confederation up first took its

BANDITS WRECK TRAIN, KIDNAP THREE MEN

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

PEIPING, China, Aug. 31—Reports from Harbin today that Manchukuan bandits, after wrecking the Chinese Eastern Railway train, had kidnapped three men, among them an American citizen, served to emphasize the belief here that banditry continues Manchukuo's major problem.

(Tokyo dispatches reported the American kidnapped was John Johansen, employee of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Company).

Chinese Eastern railway trains operating in this section have been free from attack for some time past. Along the eastern branch between Harbin and Pogranichnaya, however, bandits since January have caused damage estimated by the Manchukuo authorities at 1,000,000 yen (approximately $300,000)

Bandits suppression has been left in the hands of the Manchukuo troops except in Kirin where Japanese continue actively campaigning although hampered by the mountains.

Okamura estimated that the northeastern bandits four years ago totalled 300,000 and claimed that this figure had been reduced to 50,000 of which only 10,000 were active.

Five Japanese passengers were killed and ten seriously injured in the wreck of the train, which occurred at Wuchia, between Harbin and Hsinking. Guards repulsed 100 bandits after the wreck occurred.

Premier Lyons Stresses Danger Of Retaliation

(C. P. Cable via Reuters)
(By Guardian's Special Wire)

MELBOURNE, Australia, Aug. 31.—An appeal to the people of Lancashire to leave the governments of Australia and Britain to settle the trouble over the new cotton duties without launching into "irresponsible retaliation" was made tonight by Prime Minister J. A. Lyons in the course of an election speech.

Only yesterday it was announced the Australian Government is "reconsidering" the new duties, which aroused a storm of protest in England and led to threats of a boycott of Australian produce by merchants in the north of England, with consequent statements here that such a boycott could work two ways.

Premier Lyons stressed the danger that would be created if sections of the British people — including the Australians—indulged themselves in irresponsible retaliation and counter-retaliation.

No agreement that had the effect of weakening the bonds of kinship between parts of the Empire could be allowed to stand, he declared. Past experience of Australian policy furthermore should be assurance to Lancashire of fair treatment in the future, he said. He also remarked the increased tariffs were a "mere bagatelle" compared with Australia's total imports from England.

Canada's economic realm—we are too poor to compete as fast as we should with the merchants and capitalists from Anglo-Saxon countries."

He pleaded that France contribute to the industrial development of Canada even as it had to that of the Orient, South America, Asia and Africa. "We need your capital, your technicians," he declared. "We would like to see established here those most adapted to our needs. We ask you to help French-Canadian development within the economic order of things and we know you are able to do so."

Mr. Fisher said he had listened attentively to Mayor Houde's speech. "Let me say," he stated "that you may be of English, of Scotch or French desent, but remember, above all, that you are Canadian. Think not of your development, of your commerce solely in terms of English or French, the commerce you must push ahead is Canadian commerce."

The spirit of "narrow nationalism" must be avoided at all costs, h continued, even when the question of patriotism was raised.

Restoration Of The Monarchy Would Start Revolution

Return Of The Hapsburgs To Austria Impossible Under Present Political Conditions. Armies Of Little Entente Would Mobilize In Event Of Coronation In Vienna.

(This is the last of a series of articles describing conditions which have caused many citizens of Austria to look to the future with despair. It tells how some present leaders are trying to shape that future.)

(By James A. Mills, Associated Press Foreign Staff)
(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

VIENNA, Aug. 31—Every time there is a ripple on the political waters of Austria the story of a possible restoration of the Hapsburg monarchy, with young Archduke Otto ascending the throne of his fathers, is revived.

It popped up when Chancellor Dollfuss was assassinated, and murmurs of it are heard now. But observers conversant with the legal and political phases of a possible restoration believe it will be a long time before another Hapsburg waves a sceptre in Austria.

TREATIES INVOLVED

It is pointed out that treaties drawn up after the war are involved, and that other nations besides Austria and Hungary have more than a word to say in the matter. Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania are unalterably opposed to a Hapsburg monarchy anywhere in the vicinity. These nations of the Little Entente fear that an ambitious king might attempt to start sniping at their borders in an effort to create a state resembling the old Austro-Hungary knigdom.

"The minute a coronation is attempted in Vienna or Budapest armies of the Little Entente will mobilize," said a Czechoslovakian statesman.

But there is opposition to the Hapsburgs in Austria as well as among neighbors. The influential Arbeiter Zeitung, expressing the view of working classes, said recently:

"Do the workers realize what a return of the Hapsburgs would mean? Present day Austria is too small for Hapsburg ambition, because sooner or later the family would start out to reconquer, at any cost in blood, the empire it has lost. Austrian peasants and workers would again be called upon to die for Hapsburg ambitions. The House of Hapsburg created the war; its return would mean more war. No such favorable moment could occur for a proletarian revolution in Austria as the moment of a Hapsburg restoration. Against the restoration we play the card of revolution."

IS YOUNGEST CHANCELLOR

Of more immediate concern to Austrians than the 20-year-old Archduke are two men now trying their utmost to steady the uncertain government of the moment. They are Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, 37-year-old chancellor, thought to be the youngest head of a state in the world, and Prince Ernst Rud-

400,000 Woollen & Worsted Workers Involved In Strike

(By Donald Cameron Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—The general strike order for the huge United States cotton textile industry spread tonight to encompass 100,000 woolen and worsted workers, further deflating federal efforts for an 11th-hour peace pact.

The possibility mounted tonight that the entire textile industry might be included in the walkout plan by the time the cotton workers zero hour arrives at 11.30 tomorrow night.

Formal orders for the woolen and worsted strike were dispatched late today after Aurthur Besse chairman of the wool code authority, curtly rejected labor's request for a conference with representatives of the industry.

Peter Van Horn, chairman of the silk code authority, to whom a similar request was sent, generally was expected to follow the lead of cotton and wool manufacturers in refusing to meet the union.

"I regard your request for a conference as improper and inadvisable," Besse telegraphed the textile strike committee, "because individual mills should not be asked to delegate to any committee their responsibility for dealing with the properly accredited representatives of their own employees."

He pointed out, also, that there were many mills in which few of the workers were union members.

"Well, said Francis J. Gorman, chairman of the strike committee of the United Textile Workers, "that means that woolen and worsted workers will be involved Monday."

The actual orders were flashed out less than an hour later. Silk and rayon workers still were under instructions to stand by. Should they join up more than 700,000 workers would be under strike orders.

Chairman Lloyd Garrison and his associates on the national labor relations board tonight continued hoping against hope that some basis of settlement or compromise might be found. All conceded, however, that efforts thus far have been fruitless.

Baptists Regret Senate Action In Passing Bill

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

WOLFVILLE, N. S., Aug. 31.—Expressing regret that the Senate had passed a bill legalizing sweepstakes, the Maritime United Baptist Convention placed itself on record today as opposing such legislation and forwarded their objections to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Federal Opposition.

"The board of promotion and finance representing the United Baptists of the Maritime Provinces, numbering approximately 189,000", the resolution reads, "views with regret the action of the Canadian Senate in passing a bill legalizing sweepstakes for hospital purposes, believing that such legislation would tend towards demoralizing our Canadian citizenship. We respectfully request the Premier and government of our Dominion to use their influence to defeat such a bill on its presentation to the House of Commons."

MEMBERSHIP IN LEAGUE WOULD EASE TENSION

Powers Fear Russo-Japanese War Might Affect Europe Disastrously.

(By Joseph E. Sharkey)
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)
(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

GENEVA, Aug. 31—League of Nations officials here tonight credited Great Britain's support of Russian membership to her apprehension over political tension in the Far East.

(London dispatches today quoted British sources as saying the far eastern situation had nothing to do with British advocacy of Moscow's entry into the League).

While League sources believed the British economic delegation sent to Manchukuo in an effort to find new markets for British products might conceivably bring about an economic approachment with Japan, they saw no indication that the two island nations desire to renew their alliance.

The British attitude was represented here to be that Russian membership in the League would be likely to ease tension caused by recent friction between Tokyo and Moscow.

Russia was pictured as apprehensive both as to Japan and Germany.

League officials feared new arrangements might be made between Russia and Germany (the latter, like Japan, a bolter from the League's ranks).

Great Britain, France and Italy, the three big powers backing Moscow's candidacy, are described as fearful lest war between Russia and Japan affect Europe disastrously.

"President Roosevelt's recognition of Russia made Japan do some hard thinking," the official said. "Maybe Russia's entry into the League of Nations with a permanent seat on the council will make Japan 'soft-pedal'."

It was further remarked that Great Britain cannot as a League member consider reviving her old alliance with Japan because she subscribed to the League's decision that Japan, in occupying Manchuria violated treaties. The covenant of the League prevents members making political treaties with nations that break the covenant.

From League sources the Associated Press tonight learned that all countries represented on the League council answered favorably when sounded out by the British-French-Italian combine confirming Russian membership.

Belgium, Holland and Switzerland also were queried as to their attitude, the first two replying that they would either vote yes or abstain from voting while Switzerland left the impression that she would either vote no or obstain.

It was stated Poland may ask for a permanent seat on the council, albiet without any hope of getting it, and that Poland and Argentina may join in requesting an examination of the entire question of the makeup of the council, including the system of dividing seats between peranent and non-permanent members.

Business Better In Maritimes, Report Shows

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31—The Maritime Provinces headlined Canada's business recovery this week, it is shown in the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, issued today. Particularly in Nova Scotia is the pulse of business beating at a fast rate, the report says.

Continued improvement is shown in the other provinces, with slow movement of goods reported in only a few lines. Some improvement also is shown in country sales throughout the west, probably the result of the rush to market the new grain crops.

A decrease of 13 as compared to the same week last year is shown in the business failures during the week. Failures this week totalled 10, against 23 last year.

The report, for the week ending Sept. 1 in part follows:

Halifax: Boots and shoes and textile industries all report increased sales, and business is generally showing a decided turn for the better, particularly in the Isle of Cape Breton. Tourist traffic has been very active and reports generally indicate a considerable increase over last year in the number of tourists, both by motor and rail. The weather has been extremely dry for the past month, resulting in several forest fires. The hay crop also is reported to be light, and roots not so good as was originally hoped. Collections fair.

Saint John: Wholesalers report no noticeable change in business conditions over the past few weeks and volume for the most part is reported quite satisfactory. Retailers report the usual seasonal trade with volume in the various lines generally fair. Collections on current accounts fair, but old accounts slow.

New England Has Coldest August In 31 Years

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BOSTON, Aug. 31—New England's unseasonal cold snap this month with snow flurries, killing frosts, freezing and near-freezing temperatures and tiny ice formation on many of its ponds may be the coldest August in 31 years.

While a two-inch snow fall was reported in Lunenberg, Vt., and flurries in Gray, Me., and on it, Washington within the past 24 hours, U. S. weather bureau officials bent over statistics and showed that up to noon today the average temperature for the month was 2.6 degrees below normal, the coldest since 1903.

YOUNG WOMAN SHOOTS BANK PRESIDENT

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., Aug. 31 A young woman of 29, described as a "very pretty girl" and identified as a minister's daughter, walked into the Hamolen National Bank today, fatally wounded the president, Jesse C. Shelton, 35, and then shot herself to death in his private office.

Shelton, who was unmarried, died within less than an hour, refusing to name his assailant.

The dashing brunette had registered at the Kingmeyer Hotel here Monday as Miss Mary Sam Bruce of Nashville, but a note in her handbag gave her address as Lebanon, Tenn., and asked that her father, the Rev. W. J. Bruce, a Presbyterian minister, be notified "tactfully."

The note indicated a thwarted love affair was the cause of the double tragedy. She had told friends severals years ago she and Shelton were engaged.

Canadian Apples Popular On British Market

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, Aug. 31—The increasing popularity of Canadian apples on the British market is indicated by British trade returns which show that in the first seven months of this year, British imports of fresh apples from Canada amounted to 1,230,366 cwts., an increase of 44.4 percent over the corresponding period of last year and nearly four times greater than in the same period of 1932, the trade and commerce department states. Canada, in the past seven months supplied Great Britain with over 30 percent of its imports of fresh apples while in the same period of 1932 it provided only seven percent.

Australia, the statement says, still is Great Britain's main source for imported fresh apples, providing in the past seven months 1,504,040 cwts. This, however, compares with 1,841,125 cwts., in the first seven months of last year and 1,682,679 cwts., in the same period of 1932. The United States' share of the British apple market has dropped considerably from 1,670,849 cwts., in the first seven months of 1932 to 740,243 cwts., this year to date.

TROOPS ESCORT "KINGFISH" INTO CITY

Senator Huey Long To Investigate Municipal Gov't of New Orleans — Charges Association With Underworld.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 31.—Sweeping into the city with armed troops who used violence to clear a path, Senator Huey P. Long set out tonight under a proclamation of martial law to investigate his political enemies—the heads of the municipal government.

An automobile cavalcade with shrieking sirens brought the Senator from Baton Rouge, where Governor O. K. Allen had issued an order calling the militia into active service to protect the legislative investigating committee.

Through the streets the cars sped. They roared along Audubon Boulevard, where Long—the state's political dictator—has a palatial residence.

In front of the house the soldiers saw Frank Allen, night city editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, and E. E. Agnelly, a photographer for the paper.

With drawn guns the troops charged the two men. They grabbed Agnelly's camera, tore away some of his clothes, and threw him into a truck.

Other troops seized Allen. In 16 minutes they freed him with a warning for all newspapermen to "keep clear."

Agnelly was held for a half hour and then ordered to leave the neighborhood.

Long rushed into his home. Quickly a line of soldiers, armed with machine guns and rifles, was spread around it. Two boxes of ammunition and additional guns were carried into the house.

Members of the inquiry committee, approved by the Legislature early this month, met at a downtown hotel to await instructions from the "kingfish."

Long secluded himself. Before he left New Orleans, he said the investigation would start at once.

Crowds of citizens, learning of his dramatic arrival, gathered on street corners, angry voices were raised in the small groups until the entire city was in a state of excitement.

More national guardsmen, some reports said, were to be brought here from other communities. Supplies of machine guns and ammunition were trundled into Jackson barracks during the day.

Troops have been quartered in the barracks since the governor's origin
